'Community Fair' Time In Suburbs!

Expanding Scout Program Needs Citizen Support

Scouting for more than 2,000 cub scouts, boy scouts and explorers in 50 scout units is well on its way for the 1957-58 season according to Charles Perrin, 808 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, chairman of the Blackhawk district scouting committee.

"Boys not now in the program," says Perrin, "are welcome to attend meetings and get acquainted."

EXPANDING ACTIVITIES of scouting units in the Blackhawk district, which includes Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove, provide greater facilities for boys in Scouting in ages from 8 to 18.

"We want to reach more boys who want to be Scouts. Every boy should be given that opportunity," said Fred E. Welsh, president of the Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts, of which Blackhawk is one of 5 districts.

Cub Scouting has been termed as "America's largest and most dynamic parent-and-boy program," giving families a chance to participate together with their 8 to 10 year old sons. Boy Scouting provides 11 to 13 year old boys an outdoor program that helps them grow in character and citizenship. Exploring serves boys 14 and over with a program of high adventure and opportunities to practice good citizenship.

A GROWING group of church, school and civic organizations sponsors one or more of these Scout units. Each group has an institutional representative, commonly called an IR, who assists in supervising Scout activities of the unit in the interest of the sponsoring group.

Parents and boys interested in any phase of Scouting are urged to contact one of these units near them. Joining early in the year will provide a full schedule of enjoyable indoor and outdoor boy activity.

Most of the financial support of the scouting movement in the Blackhawk district comes directly from the annual campaign. Besides providing money for administration of the program it will help maintain and improve camping and many other outdoor activities. It costs $11.50 to provide Scouting services for a boy for one year. It costs $3,400.00 a year to keep a boy at the St. Charles Correction home.

THE BOY SCOUTS of America needs the support of every citizen. There is a place in scouting for every person.

If you cannot volunteer your time you can play an important part by volunteering your dollars to help provide these services to the youth of the Blackhawk scout district.

'The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

We are very happy over the many compliments we have received regarding the Suburban Problems Clinic that this publication sponsored last Saturday. There was a large attendance of public officials and civic leaders from the areas we serve, in spite of the world series.

One man told us that he felt more than repaid, even if he had to hire a baby sitter in order to attend.

A comprehensive story appears on a double page spread in this issue. Recognition of the event is being given by 2 national magazines.

We were happy this week to hand a check to the League of Women Voters. They are not making a general campaign for funds as their financial needs are not great, but they are asking for funds from persons who they think are interested in the work that organization is doing.

As we take it, they are not asking for money from persons who think that womankind does not have a place in government.

The league is an aid to understanding local government. They are being more and more recognized for their efforts to interest the voters of tomorrow, as well as voters of today, in the affairs of state. We say more power to them.

With the publication in this issue of an article by Rev. Robert A. Richert of St. James church, Arlington Heights, we feel that all the pros and cons regarding the use of school buses by parochial school children have been covered. There will be no further publicity in our columns.

Every woman in the area served by Paddock Publications, owes it to her husband, her children and her family to attend an educational program on cancer which is being offered at Arlington Theatre next Thursday, Oct. 17.

Too many women have been taken from their family because they did not recognize in time the early stages of cancer in their own bodies.

"It can't happen to me," is often just a feeling of false security. The Northwest suburban office of the Cancer society at 121 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect, is cooperating in this program as part of its community information campaign.

Theatre doors open at 1 p.m., the program begins at 1:30. Admission is free; no collection will be taken. As a community service the theatre is making no charge.

This is truly a month of drives, chief of which is that of the Boy Scouts. This is not a usual year, Scoutwise. The increase in population has forced the enlargement of a budget and no ordinary house-to-house drive will produce the money that is needed.

There must be a lot of so-called capital gifts. It is hoped that firms and men who usually give checks in the $25 bracket will at least double or triple them.

A panelist at the Suburban Problems Clinic Saturday said, "Any correction of crime can only be done by right direction while the possible future criminal is in his younger years.

It is cheaper for society to train a Scout than to operate our prisons and a whole lot less heartaches for the parents.

With October's arrival, scores of organizations and civic groups are launching fall and winter program schedules.

This column isn't long enough to cover even the most important; but we do hope all our readers will attend the community fair being sponsored Friday and Saturday by the Northwest Community hospital auxiliary.

These women intend to make good on their $25,000 hospital pledge; our support of their fair will help make that possible.

Suburban 'Boom' World Problem: Foreign Pastors

THREE MINISTERS FROM EUROPE and Australia visited Arlington Heights this week on their U. S. tour to study the Lutheran evangelism program in this country. Left to right are: the Revs. L. B. Grope of Australia; J. P. Petersen, pastor of Our Saviour Lutheran church here; Tore Stahlberg of Sweden; and Kristian Kjeldgaard of Denmark.

"The downtown churches have seen their day in Australia too," according to a Brisbane area minister, who was among 3 pastors visiting Arlington Heights this week.

Rev. L. B. Grope of Toowoomba in the Australian state of Queensland, said a mass exodus to the suburban areas is also taking place in his country.

HIS COLLEAGUES, the Revs. Tore Stahlberg of Sweden and Kristian Kjeldgaard of Copenhagen, noted that suburban areas in the Scandinavian countries also are growing rapidly.

The ministers, on a tour of this country to study the Lutheran evangelism program, were the guests here of Rev. J. P. Petersen, pastor of Our Saviour Lutheran church.

They spent a "typical day" Tuesday with Rev. Petersen, observing an American mission congregation, attending a church council meeting and a confirmation class.

THE PARISH PASTORS were impressed with the "tremendous activity in your Lutheran churches and that the laymen take a greater part in church work here."

This was their first visit to this country. They attended the Lutheran World Federation assembly in Minneapolis and are now enroute home.

Rev. Petersen took the pastors on a tour of Arlington Heights during which they inspected a site at N. State rd. and Olive st. where construction of a new Our Saviour Lutheran church is planned for early next year. Services are now held in the Dryden school.

THE VISITORS remarked about the new churches in the area and observed that "here you begin building before the people are there." They indicated that church building programs in their own countries were not able to keep up with the fast-growing suburban areas.

The ministers Tuesday attended their first church council in this country at the home of Edgar Neas of 201 N. Brighton pl., Arlington Heights. Neas is vice-president of the Our Saviour church council and Sunday school superintendent.

Two Day Benefit Planned

It's "Community Fair" time in northwest suburbs!

The fair this Friday and Saturday is being sponsored by the 2,700 members of women's auxiliary of the Northwest Community Hospital center to raise funds to equip a hospital emergency room.

SET IN AN old-fashioned country fair harvest theme, special booths will offer commercial and hand-made items as well as food, baked goods, and plants.

The fair will be held in Recreation park field house from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The field house is located at 500 E. Miner st., Arlington Heights, 2 blocks north of Northwest hwy. on Douglas st.

No admission will be charged.

"BARGAIN PRICES" for all items have been pledged by Mrs. William T. Hines, Arlington Heights, fair chairman. Low prices will be possible since all merchandise has been donated by auxiliary members, local merchants, and area residents.

To make shopping easy, the auxiliary has set up a baby-sitting and children's amusement section in the basement of the field house. The "Chicken Coop" will feature puppet shows and playlets as well as games and stories.

A host of free prizes and special awards will be given away to fair visitors.

AMONG TV personalities to appear in an auction booth are Bob Murphy of the Bob and Kay show; Wayne Griffin, sportscaster; Art Kern, children's program actor; and P. J. Hoff, cartoonist-weather man who will bring his art equipment and feature his appearance with on-the-spot sketches and cartoons.

To ease shopping, the auxiliary has arranged for shopping bags donated by the Fair Store.

The proposed hospital will be located on Central rd. in Arlington Heights. Ground breaking is scheduled for later this fall.

Suburbs Told: 'Face Up'

300 Hear Experts Discuss Problems of New Suburbia

Northwest suburbs were told to face up to their juvenile delinquency problem and also not to fight metropolitan area planning at Paddock Publications first Suburban Problems Clinic Saturday in Arlington high school.

More than 300 village officials and civic leaders from Cook county attended the all-day conference.

Held in the midst of National Newspaper Week, it was the first of its kind ever sponsored by a suburban newspaper.

THE CLINIC spotlighted problems stemming from suburbia's growing pains.

"The paradox of our time," said Sheriff D. Lohman, "is that some suburban police departments say they have no juvenile delinquency problem, when actually they do. They refuse to recognize this."

Another name panelist was Dr. Curtis D. MacDougall, professor of journalism at Northwestern university and former chairman of Cook county Housing authority, who advised:

"Local officials will have to be willing — and be pleasant about it — to surrender the autonomy of their government to a bigger government if metropolitan area problems stemming from industrial expansion and continued population growth are to be solved."

THE CONTROVERSIAL issue of where to put industry in the suburbs didn't draw a hard-and-fast answer from the panel led by County Zoning Board Chairman Andrew J. Dallstream, but did stir up much discussion.

County School Superintendent Noble J. Puffer labeled the system of supporting public schools through personal property and real estate taxes "archaic." He praised home builders who voluntarily donate land or money to school districts, overcrowded by mushrooming population and financially hard-pressed by the slowness of getting new homes on the tax rolls.

BUT A HOME builder on the panel admitted in answering a question from the floor that the cost of any donation is passed onto the home buyer.

"There's no place to get it back," said Albert F. Riley, president of the firm developing Hasbrook subdivision in Arlington Heights.

Featured speaker was Ira J. Bach, Chicago's planning commissioner, who said Mayor Daley has "no designs" on the suburbs but does seek cooperation in solving mutual problems.

Regarding metropolitan area planning, Bach said:

"I don't think the time is ripe nor would it be intelligent to force any plan down the throats of any community."

MEMBERS OF the state legislature, county officials, and state and area planning officers also attended.

Stuart R. Paddock, president of Paddock Publications, said response to the first clinic was so favorable that it will be an annual public service project for the newspapers.

Co-chairmen of the Suburban Problems Clinic were Charles Hayes, managing editor, and Tom Brennan, associate editor of Paddock Publications.

HAYES, WHO served as discussion chairman for the conference, said the clinic demonstrated the weekly's growing leadership role in the "new suburbia."

"This conference is significant because it anticipates the changes taking place in the community before they reach the crisis stage," he explained. "Suburban growth is bringing many problems to metropolitan communities. The suburban newspaper must assume the initiative in meeting these problems, serving as a medium for communication and suggesting wise and sound remedies. This first clinic is an important step in our continuing effort to assure our readers of an attractive environment in which to live and to work."

Complete coverage of the conference will be found on this week's feature-editorial pages

New Home Building Total: 34

Single family home construction held up surprisingly well in September, figures released by Arlington Heights building commissioner Fred Hammer indicate.

The number of homes begun last month was 34, only 7 less than during the peak summer month of August. During the previous year, by contrast, there was a sharp drop-off in residential construction in September.

TOTAL of single family home permits for the first 9 months of the year is 294.

Permit value of the 34 homes was $657,750; other permits were 20 garages; $23,370; additions and alterations, $15,045, and a funeral home, $155,000, for a total valuation of $851,165.

Downtown Store Fronts Set For $25,000 Face Lifting

An entire block of stores in downtown Arlington Heights will display new exteriors when a modernization program is completed at an estimated cost of $25,000.

A BUILDING PERMIT was issued this week for remodeling 6 store fronts on the south side of E. Campbell st., between Evergreen and Dunton aves.

The lower floor of the 2-story building housing the stores, offices and apartments will sport glass doors and granite, glazed brick and porcelain enamel facing.

Store fronts to be remodeled are Krause and Kehe real estate, Arlington liquor mart, Neumann's barber shop, Krause's Quality market, Mueller's stationery store and Kay's restaurant. The building extends 131 feet east from the corner of Dunton and Campbell.

ARCHITECT for the modernization project is Robert Babbin, 3744 W. North ave., Chicago. He also designed the Dunton Court shopping center on Dunton ave. between Campbell st. and Sigwalt st. It was built in 1955.

The contractor is Powell, Korff and Rosenfeld.

Other construction plans previously announced for the block between Dunton and Evergreen aves. are erection of colonial-style building for Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan on the southwest corner of Campbell (Davis) st. and Evergreen ave. and construction of an addition to Arlington Heights National bank on the west end of the present building.

Both projects will require razing of a building containing tavern and apartment quarters. Tody's Lounge, 17 E. Campbell st., will be torn down for the savings and loan building and the former Kosman's tavern, adjoining the bank, will also be razed.

Winkelman Hails '57 Fire Record

Arlington Heights has experienced few fires this year, but that didn't prevent the local fire department from going "all out" this week to impress upon adults, and especially school children, the importance of fire prevention.

All fire department apparatus was shown in a street parade Saturday.

FIRE PREVENTION slides have been furnished Arlington theatre to be shown during the week.

Firemen visited all schools and films were shown in several of them.

Fire Prevention signs have been distributed throughout the town.

Fire drills were held in all schools, parochial as well as public.

TEACHERS WERE notified that both fire stations are open this week to visitors and school classes.

Fire Chief Winkelman and his men have been preaching the importance of fire prevention. If the community is as free the coming year from fires as last year the lesson will have been learned.

No Free Trash Pickup This Year

The customary pickup of rubbish by the village will not take place this fall. No appropriation was included in the budget, says F. R. Bueckner, Arlington Heights village manager. The $800 cost, was not warranted when there are so few people who would use the service. A majority of the homes are served by a private contractor who gives weekly pickups.

Set Cancer Talk For Area Women

Women of all northwest communities are invited to attend an educational program Thursday, Oct. 17, at 1:30 p.m. in Arlington theatre.

Two short films, "The Other City" and "Breast Self Examination," will be shown. A physician will answer questions.

THE PROGRAM is a cooperative effort among women's organizations of Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights and Palatine.

Admission is free, and no funds will be solicited.

Tours Planned Of New Schools

The public is being invited to tour the new Miner Junior high and Westgate schools from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. October 20.

The teaching staff will be on hand to direct the tour and will explain the use of the various parts of the building.

Light refreshments will be served by the Parent-Teacher association.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS explained that the afternoon is being set aside mainly so that adults may view the building; however, children will be admitted if accompanied by their parents.

Night School Enrollment 1700

A record 1700 northwest suburban residents have enrolled for Arlington high school's night classes. This total is the largest since the program was inaugurated in 1947.

The increased enrollment has necessitated enlargement of the staff to an unprecedented 50, with some teachers handling more than 1 class. School officials pointed out that the number of adult students would increase this month when a series of 12 travelogues begins October 22.

Night classes are held at the high school Monday through Thursday, with subjects varying from art and languages to hobbies and dramatics.

Pickup Schedule

Arlington Heights Scout paper drive committee this week announced the annual schedule of scrap paper pick-ups. The first drive of the new season will be held this Saturday, Oct. 12, for all areas north of Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights. Newspapers and magazines, tied in bundles small enough for the scouts to handle, should be placed on the curb by 9 Saturday morning or taken to North school before noon. Residents living on the south side or in out-lying areas are welcome to bring their papers also.

THIS WEEK cub scouts of the north side are delivering leaflets of the schedule of pick-ups for the next 12 months. November 3 to 9 the south side cub scouts will deliver leaflets announcing the south side pick-up November 9.

The committee requests residents to post the leaflets on the family bulletin board as a constant reminder to save paper for the scouts.

ALL PROCEEDS of the drives stay in Arlington Heights in the various packs, posts and troops and are used to purchase needed equipment.

Help the scouts help themselves by saving paper and having the bundles at the curb at 9 of the morning of the pick-up.

Village Annexes Industrial Site

A kink in the Arlington Heights village limits was straightened out last week.

In annexing a small chunk of property at the west end of the village treatment plant, the village also gained a valuable tract of industrial land.

A parcel of 2.53 acres formerly belonging to Mt. Prospect had formed a finger sticking up into the Arlington industrlal area along Davis st.

The owner of the tract asked Arlington Heights to annex it and in return cede him right of way for a service road on the edge of the property. The owner, developer Sal DiMucci of Mount Prospect, then persuaded Mt. Prospect to allow disconnection from that village.

DIMUCCI INDICATED to Arlington Heights trustees he would locate 3 small industries on the parcel, which has about 160 feet of frontage on Davis st. and extends south about 700 feet.

Also annexed to the village last week were lots on the northeast corner of Thomas and Agnes sts. and Northwest hwy. and Wilke rd. (AF

511 Teens Sick; Deny Flu Epidemic

Arlington high school reported 511 students were missing from classes Tuesday, but discounted rumors of an epidemic of the "popular" Asian flu. Most of the cases, the school said, were colds, coughs, and sore throats of 2 to 3 days' duration.

SOME 426 STUDENTS were absent on Monday but 119 of these were back in their seats Tuesday. Tuesday's 511 absentees represented approximately 27 per cent of the school's 1,922 population.

At Prospect high, absences appeared to be declining. Missing Monday were 141 freshmen, but only 110 were reported ill Tuesday.

On a normal day Arlington has 55-75 absentees. (AF

Driver Must Spend 30 Days in Jail

A Chicago man unable to pay $147 in fines and court costs will spend 30 days in Cook county jail working out the sum, levied by Arlington Heights Magistrate William F. Neumann last week.

William Gregory of Chicago was found guilty of drunken driving and operating an auto without a driver's license. Police said he borrowed the auto without the owner's permission but that the owner refused to prosecute. Gregory was picked up late last month while driving through a residential area. AF)

Another Job Is Open in Village

The list of job openings at Arlington Heights village hall was lengthened by one this week.

The newest position to become vacant is that of bookkeeper. Mrs. Eleanor Cummings, a village employee for nearly 3 years, resigned the position Friday.

J. WARD WRIGHT, village finance director, said the position will be filled by a trained accountant with a broad knowledge of municipal accounting procedures. The salary schedule will be higher than for the bookkeeper position and the experience and background of applicants will determine the salary.

The village has sought a civil engineer for aproximately one year without success. Other positions open, or to become vacant by the end of the current year, are chief of police, for which one application was received last week, and a secretary for the village manager. AF(

Organize Guild In New Church

Trinity guild of St. Simon Episcopal church, Arlington Heights, was organized Tuesday, Oct. 8, in the home of Mrs. William Plambeck, 819 S. Vail, Arlington Heights. Officers elected were Mrs. Forrest Blose, chairman; Mrs. Hal Fichte, vice chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Wessling, secretary; and Mrs. Frank Edmonds, treasurer.

Regular monthly meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Plambeck was chosen to head the youth group and Mrs. Richard Lonnergan was chosen to head the bazaar. First hazaar for the new mission church will be held November 6 and will be a holiday tour of various homes.

Women interested in joining a morning group may contact Mrs. Forrest Blose at CLeabrook 3-9309. (A

Vacationers

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weigman, 101 S. Fernandez, returned home Sunday night after a 3-week trip combining business and pleasure. They drove to Kansas City, then went by plant to Albuquerque and on to Tucson where they enjoyed a stay at the famous Sands vacation spot.

Five local couples vacationed for a week recently at Big Mantrap Lake, Minn., enjoying a cooperative plan in what promises to become an annual event. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lips, Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. David Brooke joined Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moore, 713 N. Evergreen at the Moore summer cabin in Minnesota, with Mrs. Moore's cousin and his wife, the Harold Stones of Park Forest, and her sister and brother-in-law, the Howard Mandelcos of Chicago Heights. Their schedule included fishing in the daytime and evening square dancing, with each couple having one day of KP duty to duplicate an arrangement shared by 5 couples at the Moore cabin last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bomanz, 709 S. Mitchell, enjoyed a recent tour to the eastern coast by way of historic Williamsburg and Jamestown in Virginia, then to Washington, D. C. and New York, and ending at Boston. They completed the round trip in 2 weeks, arriving home Friday afternoon.

Weekend Doings

Mrs. E. M. Hampton and daughter, Miss Leotta Hampton, 550 N. Walnut, attended the wedding Saturday of Dr. Keith Wrage and Miss Jean Houy at the Broadway Covenant church in Rockford. The groom's parents of Watertown, S. D., were in Rockford for the occasion and the Hamptons, former Watertown residents and old friends of the Wrages, enjoyed a reunion and talking over old times with them. Mrs. Hampton, reports it was an altogether wonderful day and that the colorful drive to Rockford was "a map of beauty," putting the touch of perfection on her enjoyment.

The Henry J. Taylor family, 1201 N. Dunton, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor's brother, Edmund Whitney of Chicago, enjoyed the weekend with their parents in southern Illinois. They visited in Normal with the H. M. Taylors and in Bloomington with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitney, parents of Mrs. Taylor and her brother.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Russell Clarke with their daughter, Sue, 601 S. Vail, visited over the weekend with their son, Tom, a freshman in the school of commerce at Notre Dame university, and were among the spectators Saturday afternoon enjoying the Notre Dame 26 to 0 victory over Indiana.

Celebrating

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weidner, 1131 N. Dunton, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Friedrichs, 1538 N. Evergreen, celebrated their mutual wedding anniversary Saturday with a night out together. The Weidners and Friedrichs were married within an hour of one another in the same Buffalo Grove church 17 years ago.

Miss Debby Kay Whitson began the celebrating of her recent 11th birthday in what she felt was a poor way indeed, with a trip to the dentist. She returned home, quite literally feeling "down in the mouth," to a surprise party planned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitson, 834 N. Walnut. Seven young local and Park Ridge friends enjoyed a backyard hamburger supper and early evening dancing with Debby, the refreshments and her tooth trouble rapidly disappearing. The prior Sunday she had been guest of honor at a party in her parents' home with Park Ridge friends and relatives, including her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Whitson of that city.

Eight members of a neighborhood birthday club honored Mrs. Kenneth Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, on her birthday Friday night with a gift and a party at the home of Mrs. Leslie Bang, 1315 N. Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harsch are celebrating the birth of a granddaughter, Katherine Elizabeth. She was born October 1 to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harsch, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lips, after determining that they'd be home last Wednesday evening, arrived at the Lips home, 711 N. Evergreen, with all the makings for a steak fry. The occasion was to honor Mr. and Mrs. Lips on their 20th wedding anniversary and the guests acted as hosts, charcoal broiling the steaks on outdoor grills and serving the bride and groom in a comfortable indoor setting. Guests -hosts were the Richard Fraziers, Andrew Sims, Melvin Kurtzes and the Victor Beislers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson entertained early Sunday evening at their home, 743 N. Belmont, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl LeBon of Antwerp, Belgium, here to visit their son and family, the Luc LeBons, 900 E. Euclid. Thirty-two friends of the Hendricksons and LeBons enjoyed a social get-together with the senior LeBons who leave Arlington Heights Thursday.

Home from Europe

Miss Ardelle Johnson, 108 N. Evergreen, returned to Arlington Heights Thursday after a two-month tour of Europe where she visited the industrial fairs of the continent and especially the one in Berlin. She spent some time, too, in Uppsala, Sweden where she studied the fine apartment buildings there, famous for their architecture, construction and mangement. Miss Johnson returned to the United States aboard the liner, M. S. Bergensfjord, disembarking in New York Wednesday.

Here and There

Mr. and Mrs. W. Charles Miller, formerly of Arlington Heights and recently of Prospect Heights left the area last week to make their home in Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Barnes of Denver, Col. arrived here Friday to spend a week with their daughter and her family, the Oliver Sterns, 309 S. Evergreen.

An old-fashioned all-day sewing bee was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harsch, 28 S. Salem, for the benefit of the church bazaar being planned by Our Lady of the Wayside church. Five women enjoyed a potluck lunch and visiting.

Mrs. Mark Rightmire, 116 S. Walnut, and her mother, Mrs. Anna Adams, recently attended the wedding in Chicago of Mrs. Adams' nephew, Robert Meding, and the dinner reception following at Susy-Q hall in Chicago. Mr. Rightmire and 2 of the 3 Rightmire children were unable to attend the wedding because of illness.

Slumber Party

Miss Judy Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Stewart, 505 S. Lincoln, was hostess at a slumber party, Friday night, attended by 8 girl friends. Judy's guests were Joan Oestman, Jane Wittenburg, Judy Robinson, Jo Ann Jahnke, Carolyn Smith, Joan Wilcox and Judy Kambier.

Travelers

Mr. and Mrs. Lang Elliot, 641 S. Burton, have just returned home from a two-week trip to New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Elliot first went to Pittsburgh and then to Washington, D. C., where they were joined by Mrs. Elliot's mother, Mrs. Inez Lohr, in the trip to New York City. From New York, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot went to Massachusetts, Niagara Falls and home through Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oestman, 315 E. Park, and their son, Jimmy, attended a family party at Brown's Lake resort in honor of Mr. Oestman's mother, Mrs. Charles Oestman. Brown's Lake is where the Yankees stayed and nine-year-old Jimmy was able to obtain many autographs of the Yankee stars. His 2 prize autographs are those of Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle.

Mrs. Frank A. Donnelly, 804 E. Rockwell, left Tuesday for a one-week visit to New York City. While in New York Mrs. Donnelly will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. Frank Lasette.

In College

Gail Rosene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rosene, 404 E. Fairview, has started her freshman year at Coe college in Cedar Rapids. Gail attended rush week and is pledged with Delta Delta Delta sorority. Pat Legge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Legge, 751 Burton, has returned to Drake university in Des Moines for her senior year. Pat is president of the house of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Houseguests

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Mates, 415 S. Bristol, had as their houseguests last week, Mrs. Mates' cousin and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Beck of Owosso, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kreig of Galesburg, were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sward, 828 S. State rd., from Friday to Sunday last week.

Ice Follies

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor, and their son, Stevie, are attending the opening night tonight of the Ice Follies. It is a benefit affair for the Augustana hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Jurco will have 3 out-of-town guests with them, one from Germany.

Happy Birthday

Thomas Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nash, 424 Banbury, celebrated his third birthday last week with a family party. Among those present were his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Nash of Oak Park and also aunts and uncles from Oak Park.

Susie Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Donnelly, 804 E. Rockwell, celebrated her second birthday Sunday with a family party and the traditionally decorated cake.

Beth Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Fleming, 436 S. Lincoln, celebrated her sixth birthday Tuesday Oct. 1, but waited to have her party on Thursday when her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of Atlanta, Ga., arrived especially for the occasion.

Bruce Elliot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lang Elliot, 641 S. Burton, celebrated his ninth birthday Monday with an afternoon party that featured a magician. Bruce's guests were 12 boyfriends from his class at the Dryden school.

Randy Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair B. Owen, 218 Drury, celebrated his fourth birthday last Monday with a railroad party attended by 8 3 and 4-year-old friends. Randy and his guests boarded the train at Arlington Heights station and took their first train ride to Des Plaines. When the children returned to Randy's home they were served ice cream and cake. Randy's guests were Stevie Jurco, Jacqualine Sullivan, Kevin Sullivan, Roblyn Carey, George and Willie Hay and Paul Bredehoft. Each of the children wore alpine hats on the train, which also helped to identify them.

Dinner Party

Miss Jean Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Sullivan, 415 Windsor, recently celebrated her 16th birthday with a dinner party followed by dancing. Jean's party was attended by 20 guests. (A

The banjo was invented about 1850 in Bangoemas, Java, and received its name from the village where it was invented.

Toastmasters Install New Officers at Dinner Session

Arlington Heights Toastmasters club held a special dinner meeting October 9 at the Arlington House during which club officers for 1958 were installed. Wives joined the speech-makers for the special event.

The following Toastmasters took over their new duties: Al Wolter, president; Jim Turner, educational vice president; Fred Daneke, administrative vice president; Ken Kort, secretary-treasurer; Mel Coobs, assistant secretary-treasurer; and Joe Brogan, sergeant-at-arms.

As a symbol of his new office, President Al Wolter was presented a gavel, which he accepted by delivering a brief "inaugural" address.

WHILE DESSERT was served, Toastmaster Joe Pope held forth as Table Topics Master. Joe picked speakers at random, asking them to give extemporaneous 2-minute talks on a variety of subjects. Al Wilcox then took over as Toastmaster of the evening, and gave each of the assigned speechmakers a rousing send-off. Fred Daneke, Ken Kort, Dick Bergstrom and Dennis Malcolmson each gave a 6-minute talk. The business meeting was conducted by ex-president Bob Tindall.

The club ordinarily meets every second and fourth Wednesday at the new Pioneer Park field house, at 8 p.m. Men interested in joining the club may obtain details from Al Wolter. (A

A message from George Harris, "Your Pharmacist"

PRESCRIPTION PHARMACISTS EVERYWHERE celebrate National Pharmacy Week from October 6th to 12th. Once each year we rededicate ourselves to our profession of pharmacy.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS are spent annually on research to perfect new drugs. Devoted scientists and physicians clinically test them to make certain they safely accomplish the desired result.

FINALLY IT IS UP TO US PHARMACISTS. The medicine is prescribed by your Physician and you entrust us with the compounding of your prescription. Because of our years of study in a College of Pharmacy it is our duty to check if the prescribed dosage is safe to take and compound every prescription exactly as your physician specifies.

AS YOUR PHARMACIST, we value this confidence in our knowledge and integrity. Like your Physician we consider your health our chief consideration.

THIS NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK we again renew our pledge to practice our Profession of Pharmacy in strict accord with our traditional Code of Ethics.

Architects Begin Working On Village Hall Revamping

Architects will begin to draw up plans for remodeling of Arlington Heights village hall this week.

The police department and the business office, now cramped into quarters meant for considerably fewer employees, are both slated to get more space.

BOTH DEPARTMENTS have drawn up rough sketches of suggested remodeling plans and some "free advice" will be sought on the project from members of the village architectural commission.

Roos on the south and west sides of the village hall will be vacant when the water, sewer and street departments transfer to their new building on Ridge ave. within a few weeks.

A police department committee last week outlined its plans for a new headquarters designed to accommodate roughly twice the number of men now on the force.

THE PLANS CALL for the department to move from its present small quarters into what is presently the garage at the west end of the building. The department now has only a squad room, radio room, file and interrogation room, chief's office, lobby and one lockup.

The committee report and sketch call for: lobby and reception room, radio and file room, offices for chief of police, lieutenant and sergeants, squad room for 30 to 35 patrolmen (15 now on force), interrogation room which could also be used for detective bureau in future, separate lockups for men and women, matron's room, room for juvenile detention and juvenile officer, storage room and equipment garage.

Sgt. Oscar E. Johnson headed the committee, aided by Officers Irvin McDougall, Joseph Osteran and Harold Dieball. (AF

Ready-Mix Suit Stalls in Court

How is the village doing in its year-old attempt to oust the Consumers co. ready-mix cement batching plant from Arlington Heights?

Trustees so inquired of Village Attorney Stephen Jurco last week. The answer was that the village, like Citizen John Doe, may have to wait years for a court hearing of its case.

The showdown battle over the operation of the plant on Northwest highway may not happen for another 2 years, in the pessimistic opinion of 1 trustee.

EVEN JURCO admitted that the case probably won't come to trial this fall, although the two parties in the case have been waiting for nearly a year for a date to be set.

Last year village trustees authorized their attorney to file suit to force the plant to cease operations on ground it didn't have a business license. But before that injunction suit could be filed, the parent company of the Consumers co., Union Chemical and Materials corp., filed a petition for a declaratory judgment demanding that the village issue the plant a business license.

AMONG OTHER things, the village has contended the plant is operating illegally under the terms of the 1927 zoning ordinance, which the plant denied.

The Union Chemical petition came before Circuit court Judge Harry M. Fisher, who might have heard the trial had not Jurco asked for a jury trial. Last week Jurco said he requested a jury trial "to take the case away" from Judge Fisher, whose rulings have frequently aroused the ire of suburban communities. (AF

Unusual Lovelorn Column Stirs Protests in Denmark

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Do you need advice about a love affair?

The most unusual love-advice in the world is presently being given to the public by a Danish magazine. Labeled "shocking, lewd and immoral" by foreign readers, this love-lorn column is considered common sense by many Danes.

HERE IS A not-unusual sample from Agnes Henningsen's column in the Danish magazine "Tidens Kvinder" (Women of Today):

"I am a 16-year old girl but look older and feel so. I have had a friend for 6 months and we are in love and feel like we are married. The other day my parents had some friends in the house who were speaking about a mutual friend because they had heard he had a relationship with a girl my age. They said that such a man should be punished by law. I was so upset I went to bed with a headache and thought all night that if it were discovered that my friend and I were living together like we're married, something might happen to him. He will be 32 years old soon and I have not kept my age a secret from him. The last time I was with him I told him about this conversation and he said everything would be all right if we said nothing to anybody . ." (Anne-Mette)

ANSWER: "Your friend is right. And when you are so sure about your love and it has gone so far, there is only one thing to do — trust him, forget about the law, because soon you will be of legal age."

QUESTION: 'My husband and I get along in all ways but he is a traveling salesman and therefore away a lot. I know he is not faithful to me, but it does not hurt so much and I do not think it would help if I tried to force him to not have these small adventures which his kind of life so easily attracts. But I have a sister who has a complex mind and who almost does not like other people to be happy. She always tells rumors about my husband and insinuates things. As she takes everything so seriously — almost in an abnormal way — I do not like to ignore her and make her unhappy, but I do not want to ruin my own happiness. Could you advise me how I could stop her without hurting her?" (Lilly)

ANSWER: 'You are right that rumors are awful. Unfortunately you are also right that you will have to hear stories from your nervous sister. But when you are intelligent enough to let your husband have an adventure on his trips, you must be able to train yourself to hear rumors as thunder too far away to hear. Think about something else and remember your love together."

QUESTION: 'My daughter has fallen unhappily in love with a married man without children. He now wants a divorce from his wife who is about 40. She has her own economic means, but it would be a tragedy for her to lose her husband with whom she has lived for 15 years and whom she still loves. I feel this woman should keep her husband, but will my daughter accept this because she is a highly-strung girl? What should I advise her to do, and also not risk her breaking off with me?" (Anxious Mother).

ANSWER: "It is a pity for that woman who loves her husband and cannot keep him, but when he and your daughter agree that it is now they who belong to each other, nobody can take that from them — not even the girl's mother. You must console yourself that you have tried to do the right thing."

Tidens Kvinder is a weekly magazine, rated as definitely on the snob side in Danish culture. Agnes Henningsen, the columnist who gives this unusual advice, is a woman 82 years old. (B12

Leukemia 'Death' March October 15

Most of leukemia's estimated 10,000 annual victims are children 5 years old and under, warned the Leukemia Research Foundation on the eve of its third annual "Death March" scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 15.

On that evening only badge-wearing authorized marchers will canvass Chicago, seeking to raise funds to assist medical research in its fight against leukemia.

LRF PRESIDENT Brad Dressler noted that "today medical science is almost helpless as this killer disease shows a 400 per cent increase in the past 20 years. In 1930 there were only 2,508 deaths —in 1940, just 10 years later this figure doubled to 5,143. And in 1950 leukemia deaths had risen to 8,845 with nearly 1,000 more or 9,841 registered for 1952."

He pointed out that the increasing rate of leukemia fatalities is greater than any other disease except lung cancer and coronary thromosis. These diseases, however, affect primarily older people.

"NO ONE IS safe from leukemia," said Dressler, "until a long range medical research program can be financed that will utterly defeat this disease. Protect yourself and your children by helping us to help medical science. Join the list of volunteers for the 'Death March' Tuesday, Oct. 15. Phone FRanklin 2-2186 and help fight leumia." (B8

Group to Hear Director

Jane Bull, executive director of the Illinois Commission for Exceptional Children, will address the newly-formed Northwest Suburban chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children on Thursday, Oct. 17, at 4 p.m. in the cafeteria of the South Junior high school, Arlington Heights.

Miss Bull will explain existing state legislation for the education of exceptional children, present planning for new legislation, and projected long term planning for the future.

PRESENT MEMBERS of the chapter include special education teachers from the Maine and Arlington Heights township area.

Exceptional children are considered those children whose individual educational needs must be partly met through services beyond those offered in the average classroom, such as the gifted, the physically handicapped, those with speech difficulties, the socially and emotionally disturbed children, and children unable to learn at the usual rate.

Any persons interested in this general meeting are urged to attend. (AMP

Zoners Set Hearings on Two Petitions

Two petitions will be heard by the Cook county zoning board of appeals at 9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 17, in the Arlington Heights village hall on the rezoning of 2 properties to B-1 business.

One property is approximately a half acre on the southeast corner of Elmhurst rd. and Palatine rd. which is asking to be rezoned from R-3 20,000 square foot residences by petitioner John R. Nass, 3924 Touhy ave., Lincolnwood plastering contractor.

The other property consists of approximately 1 acre on the northeast corner of Wolf and McDonald rds., also asking for B-1 business. The LaSalle National bank is trustee title holder only for the property. Joseph Feuerborn, 604 E. McDonald rd., who represents the trust, Tuesday said the property had been sold to a Mr. Liska of Chicago. (ACM

Three to Attend Family Conference

Three representatives of Northwest Family Service association will attend the institute series presented by the Family Service bureau of United Charities at the LaSalle hotel, Chicago, Thursday.

They are Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mrs. David Prohaska, and Mrs. Peter Katz. This special series of family service institutes is presented as a part of charities centennial year program. (AMP

New Toy Store Is Opened Here

Model airplane builders, railroad hobbyists and built-to-scale ship enthusiasts are sure to find something up their alley at a shop which opened recently in Arlington Heights.

Operated by Harold N. Feldman and Louis A. Stronberg, The Toy and Hobby House stocks complete lines of toys, dolls and games as well as extensive supplies of hobby goods.

THE STORE at 27 W. Campell also sells greeting cards and will offer party favors soon. New lines of hobby merchandise on order are items for ceramics and copper enameling fans. Parts and accessories are available for HO gauge model railroaders along with the small gasoline motors cherished by boy-plane-builders.

A lay-away plan is available for Christmas-gift purchasers.

The store staff includes Mrs. Ann Stronberg, Mrs. Barbara Ross, Mrs. Alison Bratkovic and Kenneth Keeley. (A

Teen Dancing Begins Friday

The Teen Dance club of Northwest Suburban YMCA will open the season Friday, October 11, at 7:15 p.m. at the Forest school in Des Plaines.

The dance instructor for the Teens is Grace V. Hansen, one of Chicago's most noted and popular dancing instructors. She will teach any of the dance steps the club members desire to learn, from the regular fox trot to the cha-cha-cha.

GRACE HANSEN has had experience with both adult and teen dance groups and presents the lessons in such a way that lessons are transferred into an hour and 15 minutes of fun.

The only fee charged for the lessons is $1 registration fee. Interested teens may register by calling the YMCA office, VA 4-4156, or by attending the first dance Friday night. (B8

Aid to 'Needy' Continues Upward Despite Prosperity

Aid to this country's "needy" population has continued to mount, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports, despite the unparalleled prosperity which has characterized the U. S. economy in recent years.

The bank points out that assistance payments have risen even though social security and unemployment insurance programs and private pension plans have been expanded sharply, outlays under the U. S. public assistance programs are now running at a yearly rate of about $3 billion, compared with only 1.5 billion just 10 years ago.

PUBLIC AID payments currently go to about 6 million needy persons. According to the Reserve Bank, almost half this number are 65 years of age and older, while the rest are mostly dependent children and persons caring for them.

The climb in assistance payments can in part be traced to the rise in the cost of lvling. In fact, persons receiving aid have been hit even harder than others. Items of prime importance in a minimum "subsistance" budget, such as rent, food and medical care, have gone up in price more than living costs as a whole during the postwar period.

Also, the rise in payments has been stimulated by the way the nation's population has grown, the bank says. Since the war, population growth has been most rapid among the aged and the young——helping to boost both the number of needy oldsters and dependent children.

ANOTHER REASON for the seemingly paradoxical climb in assistance payments is the social dislocation caused by migration to the big city. Abundant job opportunities in metropolitan centers have been a "powerful" lure to residents of farm areas, chiefly in the southern states.

But the abrupt transition from farm or small town to city-living often is upsetting to newcomers, the bank adds. Congested, inadequate housing aggravates the problem, and family ties weaken under the strain. Broken homes and widespread suffering have followed, with aid-to-dependent-children payments coming to the assistance of many of these unfortunate migrants.

Measured against the value of national output, however, spending on public assistance has remained relatively stable. Such payments, the bank states, came to .64 per cent of the $232 billion gross national product in 1947. Last year's total outlays for the needy amounted to .68 per cent of the nation's much greater $415 billion output. (BB

Edsel TV Show Is Oct. 13

Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra, 2 of the nation's outstanding entertainers, will be united for the first time in a live TV show over WBBM-TV channel 2, CBS network, Sunday night, Oct. 13, from 7 to 8 in the "Edsel Show," presented through the courtesy of Arlington Motors, Inc., Edsel dealer, and 1500 other Edsel dealers in the country.

One of the main attractions on the show will be a sequence featuring Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra, who were teamed together in the popular movie "High Society."

The entire all-star musical show is an entertainment milestone, and it is appropriate that for such a historic "TV first" that America's newest automobile be presented on television for the first time. (A

is all you pay—to dry the clean
electric way

An electric dryer does all this for just 6¢: 3 big bath towels, 6 hand towels, 2 sheets, 2 pairs shorts, 2 T-shirts, 5 pairs of socks, 3 pillowcases, 2 men's shirts. This average 8-lb. load will take only 25 to 30 minutes.

Nothing's faster, nothing's cleaner—and electric dryers are completely automatic

ELECTRIC DRYERS
$30 to $60 less to buy
than any other kind

Just 6¢ to dry an 8-lb. load of clothes the electric way. And the electric way is the completely automatic way. No igniting devices to get out of order.

Clothes dried in an electric dryer have the good fresh smell of all outdoors, too. Electric heat is radiant heat . . . like the sun. Clean and dry . . . with no combustion odors to mix with the clothes.

Electric dryers are fast. You can dry a whole load of cottons in just 25 to 30 minutes. And all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. Your laundry stays clean, dry and comfortable, makes venting unnecessary.

You'll be amazed when your electric appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own an electric dryer. Why not see about it soon?

Association Dance

Association dance will be Saturday, Nov. 23, at Fred's Place, Rand rd. Mt. Prospect. Music begins at 8:30 p.m.

Baby News

A baby girl evens the score for Jeanne and Tom Novotny, 201 Yale, with the birth September 24 in Evanston hospital of Mary Kathleen, who weighed 7 pounds 6 ounces. She has a brother, Bill, 2½. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Novotny of Rogers Park and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Roberts of Watseka.

Girls names seem to be at a premium for the Lauten family with the arrival of their fifth daughter October 6. Passavant hospital. She has a brother, Freddie, and 4 sisters: Ann, Kathy, Carol and Patsy. Parents are Maryan and Fred Lauten, 1424 St. James.

September 29 marked the christening of Thomas Arthur Twigg, 1409 St. James. Pastor Philip Langey officiated in Redeemer Lutheran church, Park Ridge. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Clark of Park Ridge.

A little girl has come to live with Phyllis and Clarence Wrobel, 1404 Fremont, although only temporarily. She is 2-year-old Diane, daughter of Phyll's brother and sister-in-law.

Birthday

An afternoon of ice cream, cake and games was the occasion for celebrating the seventh birthday of Chris Lorenzen, son of Carol and Chris Lorenzen, 311 Reuter. School buddies on hand were Remy Pattyn, Timmy Tison, Johnny Pollitz, Scott and Tony Stokes, Spencer Gerke, Gary Tokoph, Lee Brown, Mike Proebstle and the honor guest's sisters, Diane and Carol Ann.

A baby bunting was presented to Joyce Akerlund by neighbors at a surprise luncheon party given by Dorothy Agnes, 1503 Fremont. Enjoying the lunch were Carolyn Herigodt, Bert Graczyk, Jeanne Huster, Esther Gedhardt and Carolyn Burkett.

Out of Town

Arlene and Fred Hauth, 512 Yale, traveled 200 miles over the weekend to attend the wedding of Arlene's cousin, James Steven, in East Lansing, Mich. A family reception was held later in Kalamazoo, where numerous relatives became re-acquainted. Daughters, Pamela and Denise tagged along, but baby Edward stayed with grandma.

New Neighbors

A welcome is extended to following families who recently moved into Westgate 2:

Living at 1414 W. Grove are Pat and Paul Miresse and youngsters, Pamela 6, and Dennis, 2½ and Pat's mother, Mrs. Muriel Stebbins. They are long time residents of Arlington Heights and attend St. John Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect. Paul is employed at Littlefuse in Des Plaines. Leisure at present is limited to TV and canasta but they hope to soon become active in community affairs.

Just 2 weeks in their new home at 1402 Grove are Adrena and John Murray and childen John, 17, Joan and Joyce, 15, James 11, Leo, 7 and Tommy, 5. Another daughter, Adrena, is home weekends. The family attends Our Lady of the Wayside. John also works for Littelfuse in Des Plaines. The Murrays formerly lived in the countryside area of Arlington Heights and are looking forward to community living. The en in the family are interested in golf and football. Resuming bridge is also on the agenda.

A recent guest for several days at the new Parvin home, 307 S. Wilke, was Mrs. Elizabeth Parvin of Bradenton, Fla. Lois and Charles moved here from Tennessee, where they met when students at Maryville college. They have 3 children: Rex, 5, Janice, 3 and Scott, 1½. They attend First Presbyterian church, where they both sing in the choir. Charles is copy editor for the Chicago Tribune. As new arrivals, they haven't had time to do more than church work, but are interested in becoming active in local affairs. (A

Giant Parade Set For October 19

One of the largest parades to ever assemble in Arlington Heights will step off at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 19, and begin its 4-mile march from Arlington high school to Prospect Heights shopping center.

Included will be 5 bands, 50 floats, and 10 special marching units.

THE PARADE will climax Prospect Heights Autumn Festival, which begins Thursday, October 17, with a public square dance in the rear of the shopping center at MacDonald and Elmhurst rds.

Explaining the purpose of the festival, parade marshal Joseph Schneller said: "This is an annual get-together to show we're proud of the area in which we work and live."

Parade route will be Euclid ave. to Elmhurst rd. (83), Elmhurst north to Prospect Heights shopping center, west on MacDonald rd. to the Lions Aquacenter. Euclid ave. in Arlington Heights will be closed to traffic from 10 a.m. to noon from Rand rd. (12) to the high school.

HONORARY PARADE marshal will be Gen. Peter Schmick, head of the 45th AAA brigade with headquarters in Arlington Heights.

Musical units in the parade will include Arlington high school band, Maryville band, St. Charles Training school drum and bugle corps, Barrington high school band, and the 45th AAA brigade army band.

Army organizations entering floats are Lions clubs, Prospect Heights Women's club, Prospect Heights Improvement association, St. Alphonsus Women's club, Prospect Heights Community church, Our Saviour Lutheran church, and 10 floats from Chicago's dairy parade this Saturday.

MISS NORTHWEST Suburbs and her attendants will be featured on a float, and a Navy recruiting float will consist of a replica of the battleship Minnesota.

Marching units include Marine Air reservists, an air force color guard, men from the 45th AAA Brigade, a detachment from the Glenview Naval Air station, 2 units of the Civil Air Patrol, boy scouts and girl scouts from the area, the Mounted Black Horse Troop, fire departments, and a jet fighter airplane.

For the best floats among civic groups, cash prizes will be awarded. A plaque will be presented to the best commercial float. (AMP

Arlington Heights Spared Auto Deaths for 6 Months

(CNS)—Arlington Heights, Glencoe, Elmwood Park, and Wilmette were among 89 of 151 Illinois cities of over 5,000 population with no traffic fatalities during the first half of 1957.

Skokie, Franklin Park, Glenview, Park Ridge, and Winnetka reported 1 each, Des Plaines 2, and Evanston 3, according to a tabulation issued by E. S. Rosenstone, State public works department director.

Traffic accidents increased over total for the similar period of 1956, however. No community in the north top of Cook county recorded a decrease in this category.

Only Glencoe and Elmwood Park reported fewer persons injured in traffic accidents.

Following table compares traffic accident statistics for first half of 1957 and 1956 for communities in this area:

by Ed Landwehr TV

You would think that television would have decreased reading habits of our country. At the start of public televising, some educators expressed the idea that public libraries would pass out of existence; newspaper circulations would decrease, radio stations would go bankrupt, and generally speaking, TV would take over.

Perhaps TV has taken over but the results have just been opposite. Newspapers, small and large across the country have bigger circulations every year. More copies of books and magazines are reported sold. Radio manufacturers keep getting bigger.

Why should this be? . . . Because of the inquisitiveness of the human mind. We see a baseball game on television and we want to double check all the facts by reading about it in the newspaper. A play is performed on TV and immediately the libraries and book stores are swamped with orders for the original book. TV makes us more conscious of outside affairs and we include more radio to find out about these affairs.

TV is not replacing but improving these other medias. And although we at LANDWEHR'S TV are servicing more TV sets, we are also servicing more radio equipment. Phone CL 5-0700.

*(Author's Name Below)

Our fight against sickness is a continuous one. Research workers are always seeking better drugs and new treatments. About one-third of the ingredients in last year's prescriptions were unknown the year before.

We must keep well informed. A newly discovered drug can almost overnight change a physician's prescribing habits, so that there is no further need for the replaced drug. Every prescription pharmacy regularly discards these drugs that are no longer used.

Despite all this, the cost-per-illness of medicines grows less each year. You get better so much more quickly.

This Week with PTA

Over the Top

Topping last year's record by 394, the PTA membership drive ended with a total of 3788 members, representing 87.6 per cent of students' parents. Percentage breakdown by schools was: Dryden 97 per cent, Miner 93 per cent, North 82 per cent, Park 85 per cent, Ridge 89 per cent, South Junior High 82 per cent and Westgate 85 per cent.

The PTA paid $144 in prizes to 27 homerooms having 100 per cent representation and 18 rooms reaching 95 per cent or over.

These results reflect efforts of the membership chairman, Mrs. John Lindstrom and the 7 school representatives on her committee: Mrs. W. M. Laverty, Dryden; Mrs. Herman Raasch, Miner; Mrs. Edward McCratic, North; Mrs. James Stoll, Park; Mrs. John Clark, Ridge; Mrs. J. F. Faner, South Junior High and Mrs. Joseph De Zonna, Westgate.

Find the Right Room and Squeeze into a Seat!

Parents' night, one of the year's most popular PTA meetings, takes place in 4 schools next week.

Tuesday, Oct. 15 at 8:15 p.m., Dryden, North, Pork and Ridge schools will hold open house. Teachers, who will be introduced by the room mothers, will explain the curriculum and daily class schedules. Parents will have an opportunity to examine the books their children are using as well as current class projects.

Miner, South Junior High and Westgate schools will have parents' night on October 21 and 22.

Help the Needy

Coinciding with house-cleaning time, fall Bundle Days, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 16 and 17, will give PTA mothers an opportunity to clean closets and so help a worthy cause.

Clean wearable clothing for children and adults is badly needed by the Save the Children Federation to be distributed among needy families in this country and overseas. Mrs. Robert McFadin, chairman of the welfare committee, asks that no rags, fur coats or high-heeled shoes be sent.

Children may bring donations in paper bags and leave them in designated spots in their schools. Welfare representatives from each school will then assemble and pack the clothing for shipment.

Get Tickets for 'Desk Set'

In just 2 weeks, October 24, 25 and 26, the play "Desk Set" will be presented by the Village Theatre as one of the major ways and means projects of the PTA.

Parents are urged to order tickets in advance from their room mothers since a record attendance is expected at each performance.

Advance publicity on this production promises an outstanding cast interpreting a successful Broadway play and movie.

Pre-School Film

Helping the pre-school child to accept the "do's and don'ts" of everyday living and their importance in shaping a child's personality, was the topic of a film presented at the first meeting of the pre-school child study group Oct. 1 at Dryden school.

Parents who thus far have not taken advantage of this group's fine programming, should keep in mind their next meeting December 3 when a panel of 3 teachers will discuss "Educational Entertainment for the Pre-School Child." (A

Womans Club Study Groups To Meet

Two of the study groups of Arlington Heights Womans club will meet next week. International relations group will meet Monday, Oct. 14, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. L. P. Swanson, 528 Bristol lane. Two foreign exchange students from Arlington high school will be introduced by the chairman, Mrs. Stephen Jurco, and their topic of discussion will be a comparison of European and American teenagers. The students are Joe Putz, who was born in Ghizela, Roumania, and Dieter Zimmer, who was born in Neutitschein, Germany.

Co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. C. W. Carlson and Mrs. N. Barkulis. Reservations may be obtained by calling CL 3-6149 or CL 5-2241.

The conservation and garden group will open the season with a luncheon at the Milk Pail in Elgin Thursday, Oct. 17, at 11 a.m. followed by a tour through Haeger pottery plant at 1 p.m. A well known artist will present interesting floral arrangements.

Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. A. R. Roeske at CL 3-5595 or Mrs. C. H. Huber at CL 5-5493. Transportation assistance can be arranged when making reservations. (A

Scarsdale Dinner Dance is October 19

According to reports from the dance committee of Scarsdale Estates Improvement association, a tremendous response has been received from the members for the annual dinner dance and card party to be held October 19 at Rolling Green country club. The committee urges all who have not yet made reservations, to contact members of the ticket committee within the next few days.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. and entertainment will be provided during the dining by strolling musicians. Dancing and cards will follow the dinner.

Mrs. O. A. Tomei, CLearbrook 3-2654, Mrs. A. F. Langos, CLearbrook 3-6476 or Mrs. A. J. Christian, CLearbrook 3-3123, may be called for reservations.

Youth Group Sponsors Car Wash Saturday

A "car wash" will be undertaken by the Youth Fellowship of St. John United Church of Christ Saturday, Oct. 12, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Anyone wishing to support the youth in this project is asked to call youth director Richard Wildberger, CL 5-5823, Caren Potts, CL 3-1738, or Janet Rightmire, CL 3-1442. Cars may also be brought to the church parking area at N. Evergreen and E. St. James. (A

County 'Shocked' At Highway Bill

(CNS) — Cook county has been stuck with an extra $250,000 bill in engineering fees for the Northwest Expressway, but still is money ahead on the deal, according to William J. Mortimer, county highway superintendent.

County commissioners were shocked Tuesday when they learned of the new bill and were told they had to approve it because they couldn't do anything else.

INVOLVED IS 6.2 miles of the Northwest expressway yet to be constructed, extending from Cicero ave. near Montrose ave. to a point 1100 feet east of East River rd., near O'Hare International airport.

The Illinois Toll Highway commission gave this stretch back to the county when northwest side residents objected to the proposition of paying tolls on a highway in the city.

Under that agreement, the county had the choice of starting from scratch or accepting the services of an engineering firm, Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, Inc., of Boston, which already had engineering plans and other preliminary work under way for the state road commission.

MORTIMER SAID the extra $250,000 is needed by the engineering company to complete plans for the $25 million project.

The engineering costs now total $1,070,000 whereas the county board was under the impression that they took over this section of the expressway this spring that this fee would be fixed at $720,000.

HOWEVER, MORTIMER said that if the county hired the firm today it most likely would be forced to do it on a percentage basis and that the engineering firm probably would ask and get 4.5 per cent of the project's cost as its fee.

Under this basis the engineering cost would be $1,125,000 or $55,000 more than what the county will pay.

Mortimer said the fee for the outside engineers when totaled is still under the cost the county is paying today on other jobs. The county has its own engineering department and usually does its own work, but has farmed some out in this rush era of road construction.

The engineering firm does the survey work and other plans, also makes borings and has a staff of about 150 men, Mortimer said.

Suburban Pilot Killed In Wheeling Air Crash

A Park Ridge pilot was killed and a Downers Grove aviator seriously injured Sunday when their 2 planes collided and fell 100 yards off Pal-Waukee airport.

Leonard De Gagne, 29, Forest Trailer park, Algonquin rd., Park Ridge, died in Resurrection hospital of injuries received in the mid-air collision and John Furcich, 34, 4217 Washington ave., Downers Grove, suffered a possible fracture of the right hip, and deep cuts.

ACCORDING TO reports of witnesses, the Cessna, which Furcich was believed to have been flying, overtook a Piper Cub, piloted by De Gagne. The 2 planes collided at a height of approximately 20 feet and remained entangled as the fuselage of the Cessna rode to earth over the wing of the Piper Cub. The planes fell approximately 300 feet short of the southwest-northeast Pal-Waukee runway and south of Palatine rd. and east of Wolf rd.

The landing speed of the Cessna is 8 m.p.h. and the Piper at 40 to 50 m.p.h.

THE PAL-WAUKEE squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, which had just finished training at the time of the accident, aided Cook county deputies in keeping by-standers away from the planes and directing traffic. Lt. Robert Crepas, squadron commander, also aided in giving first aid to the 2 men. (B8

How Woman, 83, Helped Hospital

Among the gifts to be given away during the Community Fair Friday and Saturday in the Community Park field house in Arlington Heights will be a 3-yard crocheted table cloth made by an 83-year-old Arlington Heights woman.

What's more astonishing for Mrs. Hulda Johnson, 309 S. Stratford, is that she suffers quite badly from an arthritic condition, but has been able to acquire the knack of crocheting even though she's had to give up other arts such as knitting.

THE NORTHWEST Community hospital ladies auxiliary is quite happy to have the 80 by 108 inch table cloth among their wares as the piece shows a high degree of skill.

Crocheting has been a salvation for Mrs. Johnson, according to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. G. Johnson, also of 309 S. Stratford. Mrs. A. G. Johnson added that her mother-in-law had led an active farm life and after the death of her husband 20 years ago, crocheting provided a useful outlet for whiling away many hours.

This particular pattern table cloth has been a favorite of Mrs. Johnson for the last 18 years and so when she heard of the Community Fair, Mrs. Johnson was more than happy to make her contribution. Aches and age were no drawback for her. (B-8

Fall Dance To Benefit Area Agency

Northwest Family Service association will sponsor a fall benefit dance Saturday, Oct. 26, in Mt. Prospect VFW hall. The Aristocrats will provide music.

Members will receive tickets by mail this week. Tickets will also be sold at the door or may be purchased from Mrs. George Rudolphy, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Erich Kuntze, Des Plaines; Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mt. Prospect; Robert Huffman, Palatine; or Mrs. Luston Pennington, Rolling Meadows.

NORTHWEST Family Service association will establish a family counseling service for Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Palatine and Rolling Meadows. Purpose of the agency is to contribute toward a harmonious family understanding and relationship, strengthen the positive values in family life, and to promote healthy personality development and satisfactory social functioning of various family members. Parochial Pupils Should Be Treated as Citizens

by REV. ROBERT A. REICHER

Much has been published in our columns regarding the merits of public and parochial school bus transportation. Rev. Reicher of St. James church, in the following article, covers the subject very well from the parochial school's standpoint. It will be the last contribution on this subject that appears in Paddock Publications at this time. Rev. Reicher makes no specific claims, but he does present some information which has not been realized by many people — Editor.

In recent years in our country, there has been interesting and spirited discussion about the relationships between church and state.

The problem has been raised in various connections: free bus transportation for parochial school children as well as for those of the public schools, free textbooks for children of parochial schools, released time from public schools for religious instruction, the NYA and Veterans' Bill of Rights for students at church schools, Bible reading, prayers and singing of Christmas carols in public schools, tax exemption of all church-owned property, the presence of Mr. Taylor at the Vatican as the President's ambassador or personal representative, the pledge of allegiance to the flag refused by certain religious groups.

THE MOST FREQUENT discussions of this problem have centered about education.

It is important in discussing these problems to avoid useless controversy and heated and finger-pointing accusation. There should be solid intelligent discussion on these problems.

Within recent weeks, there has appeared in Paddock Publications several letters on the parochial school bus question. The letters explained the personal opinions of the writers, without discussing the basic problem.

IN OUR COUNTRY, there are approximately 3 million parochial school children, most of them in the Catholic school system. These children are sons and daughters of American citizens who send their children to parochial schools in response to a double obligation.

The state has set up certain requirements concerning education to a certain age, and, in general with regard to the subject matter.

The parochial schools are subject to regulation in this matter. To obtain proper accrediting, certain standards must be met. The county, state, and regional educational bodies naturally accept these schools as acceptable units of an educational system.

If the schools do not meet the requirements of an area, the parents are not fulfilling their obligations under compulsory education laws. If they do meet all educational requirements, then they are educationally equal to any school conducted by city or county or state and should be so regarded.

IN OTHER WORDS, a parochial school in its task of education is performing a public function. It educates its children to be good citizens of their community.

In addition, the parochial school illumines this ordinary education with religious motives and illustrations, in the belief that an education is incomplete unless the child in school is presented with the whole of his life, including a thorough realization of his obligations to God.

The parochial school is truly public in the sense that it assists the common good and performs its function of a thorough education, as can be evidenced by the parochial schools of all faiths in the northwest suburbs.

BUT THEN just how far may the state go in assisting the parochial schools in performing their public functions? It seems that the First Amendment does not divorce God from the United States but merely does not allow the state to favor one religious body over another.

Just because parents happen to believe the child should drink in the religious principles by which his life is governed along with education is no reason to discriminate against the child as a citizen.

As a citizen, he is entitled to tax-supported benefits, because the parochial school is performing a specifically public function, education for good citizenship. As such, the child and the parents are entitled to many things.

A nurse visits the parchial schools regularly. Why? To foster the teaching of a particular religion? Obviously not. Merely to assist the child citizen in maintaining health.

A POLICEMAN guards the crossings in front of a parochial school. To advance the cause of the religious affiliation whose school he is guarding? Obviously not. Merely to assist citizens in maintaining their safety, because they are valuable to a country and community.

Then it seems perfectly logical to allow parochial school children to ride on tax-supported buses within the regulations of the community as far as routes, minimum distance requirements for free riding, etc. for the same reason.

A child is transported not as a Catholic or a Lutheran or a Methodist, but as an ordinary citizen of our country. If this were not the case, then a child who goes to a parochial school should be taxed extra because he uses a public sidewalk on his way to school and does not continue on to the public school. If he uses the sidewalk as a citizen, then there is no charge. The last example is almost absurd, but it illustrates the point at issue.

AND IF we come down to specific cases, it is a lot cheaper to pay bus transportation to a parochial school than to educate the child in the public school system.

This year because of the sharp increase in bus fares, a number of children from Prospect Meadows who would attend the St. James grammar school are now attending the Arlington Heights public schools.

The cost of educating a child in the public school system was printed in this newspaper just a few weeks ago. It is at least 6 times the cost of transporting a child to school and this does not include the cost of new construction of school buildings.

THE RELATIONSHIP between church and state in our United States is a field ripe for sincere discussion without white heat debate and prejudiced argument. It is obvious that the breakdown in our family life in this country, the rise in teenage vandalism and delinquency, the careless violation of our country's laws sound the lack of religious principle, due in part to the failure to comprehend the relationship between the state and church.

One small aspect of this problem is the school bus problem.

In other communities, parochial school children ride the school bus without charge, without argument, without discussion, and above all without violating the principle of separation of church and state.

Why cannot Arlington Heights solve this question without hesitation and by using the true principles of American democracy? (B8

GOP Veterans League Asks Election of Committeemen

The Cook County council of the Illinois Republican Veterans league will make another attempt to have the next General Assembly adopt a law providing for the election of precinct committeemen.

The October 12-13 convention of the Veterans league at the Abraham Lincoln hotel will be asked to act on such a resolution by the resolutions committee of the Illinois Republican Veterans league, headed by Mancel Talcott of Waukegan.

RESOLUTIONS calling for election of precinct committeemen rather than appointing them have been adopted at previous conventions of the Veterans League.

The legislation has never reached the floor of either house, but has died each time in committee, according to Capelle H. Damrell, chairman of the IRVL's Cook County Council, and a state vice chairman.

Action on this and other important resolutions will be some of the highlights of the 2-day convention which 500 persons are expected to attend. (B8

Abandon Search For Teen Couple

(CNS) Officials have abandoned their search for the Romeo and Juliet of Des Plaines —Carl Gehrke, 18, and his child bride, Jane, 14.

It's been 6 weeks since the young couple disappeared and by so doing defied a court order to live apart pending outcome of a suit to annul their marriage, solemnized July 23 in Hernando, Miss.

"WE'VE EXHAUSTED all leads," said Ernest Gager, representing Jane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kanzler, 1669 Cora, Des Plaines, who initiated the annulment suit.

The case is not a police matter since no court trial has been held.

One most likely won't be started until court officers find Carl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gehrke, 1652 Cora, Des Plaines.

THEY'VE BEEN hunting for him since he spirited Jane away from her aunt's home in Antioch. She had been placed there under a court order until the annulment suit could be heard. No date has been set in this action.

Meanwhile, contempt of court proceedings against Carl have been reset for October 18. (B8

Tollway Asks For Bids On Communications

The Illinois State Toll Highway Commission called last Thursday for bids for the sale or rental of a complete communications system for the operation of the Illinois tollways.

The system will supply a communications network covering the entire 187 miles of tollway now under construction and will be used for police work as well as general administration.

TRANSMISSION of accounting data in connection with the toll collection system to be used on the tollways will also be handled by the communications system. It is estimated that approximately 55 per cent of all tolls will be collected by non-attended automatic machines.

Charles L. Dearing, executive director of the commission, said that several types of communications systems will be considered before a final decision is made. Bidders have been asked to submit proposals with regard to a complete system utilizing radio equipment, a complete system utilizing microwave radio trunk equipment with land line links, and a complete system utilizing land line trunk and link equipment together with radio telephone installations in mobile equipment. U. S. Indicts Man For Bank Robbery

James Gornick, 25, of 1441 Cora st., Des Plaines, was indicted in federal court this week for the $5,200 armed robbery of the First National Bank of Dundee in Dundee September 30. Indictment included a jeopardy count for putting the lives of people in danger by using a dangerous weapon—a firearm.

THIS BOOSTS the maximum penalty, if convicted, to 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Indictment was returned before Judge Philip L. Sullivan. This indictment only covers the Dundee bank robbery and no arraignment date has been set.

Hospital Gifts Are Still 'Pouring In'

Gifts of widely varying sizes and sources which swelled the Northwest Community Hospital fund to a new high were reported this week.

Top gift in many weeks was that of $25,000 from the Pure Oil company which will have its future main office located at the intersection of highway 58 and highway 53, south of Palatine. More than 1,000 persons will be employed in the proposed building.

THE $25,000 PLEDGE, which was announced by John Spence, treasurer of Pure Oil, represents the company's first gift to the health center.

Spence said Pure Oil is looking forward to becoming one of the important businesses in this area and that, as a future "resident", his company has faith in the future of the area and great interest in the new Northwest hospital.

The Universal Oil Products company, through its president, M. P. Venema, announced a hospital contribution of $5,000. Venema is a member of the hospital board and serves on the board's finance committee. This contribution is expected to be followed by others from Universal Oil.

THE SUPPORT of these major companies was matched in enthusiasm, if not in size, by a variety of other contributions. One of the most unusual was from Chris Green of Palatine. Chris developed the idea of having his father run a movie in his home to which he admitted his neighborhood friends, for a fee. Chris turned over his total receipts of $1.00 to the Northwest Community Hospital Fund.

The "H & J Club", comprised of 7, 8 and 9-year old boys of Rolling Meadows, saved their allowances and odd job income for several weeks and donated the entire amount to the Hospital. Their joint gift of $7.30 was turned over to the hospital office on Northwest highway in Arlington Heights by Kenneth Higgins, member of the club.

MEMBERS OF Girl Scout Troop 102, of Mt. Prospect, showed their community spirit when they voted on September 17 to turn over the entire $5.00 balance in their troop treasury to the hospital fund.

A group of Stephens college alumnae made one of their several gifts to important charities when they presented a check for $100 to the Northwest Community Hospital fund. The group, known as the Stephens College Countryside alumnae, comprises 10 women residing in Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Park Ridge. They conducted a special sale of stationery and Christmas cards for the purpose of raising money for a hospital contribution.

Each of the donations was gratefully received by Harold Rose, hospital secretary in charge of the Northwest highway offices, or his chief aide, Mrs. Sarah Bauer. They reported that the enthusiasm and interest shown by the amazingly varied types of donors is one of the brightest aspects of their jobs.

"IT IS EASY to see why the hospital project is succeeding so impressively," Rose commented, "when the desire to support it reaches to all groups and areas and ages in our communities.

"And we want to urge any other groups or individuals who have the hospital project in their hearts to bring in their contributions — in pennies, dollars, or hundred dollar bills."

Announce New Application Forms for License Plates

Illinois motorists will make application for their 1958 license plates on a new type of application blank, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said this week.

When he fills out the upper part of the blank, the car owner will also be making out his own identification card, which is attached to the back of the application blank, Carpentier said.

NO CARBON PAPER is required to make the copy, but a typewriter or ball point pen should be used in filling in the required information, he said.

Both pieces — the application blank and the card — must be submitted to his office for processing, Secretary Carpentier declared. They should not be separated, he emphasized. The identification card will be returned with the license plates.

USE OF THE new form is expected to speed up mailing of license plates substantially because it eliminates the necessity of photographing the upper part of the application by a dexigraph process to produce the identification card, Mr. Carpentier said.

In Springfield and Chicago, where plates are sold over the counter, the motorist will receive both the plates and his identification card at the same time, instead of having to wait for the card to be mailed at a later date.

IN ADDITION to the improved service to the motorist, the new system is expected to result in a saving to the Illinois taxpayer of about $60,000 a year because of the elimination of the need for one dexigraph copy and the postage and envelopes for mailing cards for over-the-counter sales, Secretary Carpentier said.

Because Secretary Carpentier's office is attempting to standardize names of applicants for all motor vehicle matters, including certificate of title, registration and driver's license, some additional requirements are being started concerning the applicant's name.

The full name is now required on the application. For example, it should be shown as Brown, James Richard. In cases where the individual has no middle name, it should be done this way: Brown, James (none). If the individual has no middle name, but just a middle initial, that should be shown like this: Brown, James R. (only).

WOMEN SHOULD use their given names, whether they are married or single. "Brown, James R. Mrs." is not acceptable. It must be shown: Brown, Mary Jane.

Complete, bona fide addresses must be given. P.O. Box or General Delivery addresses will not be accepted unless there are no street names or numbers in the town. (B12 ADDING THE FINAL TOUCH to "The Golden Ball' posters is Suzanne Noonan, with the assistance of Pat Buckeridge. Joey Duro and Joy Noonan seem to approve of the finished product. The posters will advertise the annual fall dance sponsored by the Mothers Club of St. James Women's Guild, which is scheduled for the evening of Nov. 8 at Chevy Chase country club. (S

Ear Mark Cancer Funds For Suburbs

The Northwest Suburban Chapter of the American Cancer Society will receive $8,735 for its 1957-58 cancer control program.

Of this amount $7,160 has been set aside to maintain the Information Center office at 121 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect.

The public education program, designed to keep the residents of the community posted on the latest developments in the fight against cancer will receive $1,175.

The service program, which includes free cancer dressings, the loan of sickroom equipment to patients being treated in the home, Visiting Nurse Association calls and transportation services or driving patients to and from hospitals for treatment will receive $400. (B8

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Change in Gas Schedule

NORTHERN ILLINOIS GAS COMPANY hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on October 1, 1957, a change in its rate schedule, as follows:

1. Rider 2, Gas Main Extension, is revised to liberalize the advance deposit provisions for main extensions.
2. Rate 7, an off-peak rate under which gas is supplied to large industrial customers, is modified slightly in order that customers, whose off-peak load includes space heating may use gas thereunder on an annual basis for processing purposes.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed change in the schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

Newcomers to Elect New Officers Oct. 17

At the October 17 meeting of Arlington Heights Newcomers club, the new slate of officers will be presented by a nominating committee headed by Mrs. Gordon Martin. The meeting will be held at Pioneer Park at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Oliver Grey as hostess.

Bridge, pinochle and canasta will be played after the business meeting. No reservations are needed for the meeting and all newcomers to the community are invited.

A "come as you are" breakfast was given last week with Mrs. Don Whiting as hostess to 15 members of the club. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hogan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halfhill entertained club members and their husbands at their homes Friday night at surprise cocktail parties. These parties are planned to help the husbands get acquainted with other new men in Arlington Heights.

The club is presenting its fashion show and luncheon October 30 in Rolling Green country club. Fashions will be by Rothschilds and anyone desiring tickets may call Mrs. George Seyfert at CLearbrook 5-6223. (A

Association News

Association meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the west room of the field house. There will be a discussion about changes to the constitution. Also to be discussed is whether the association will be dissolved or meetings continued. Members are urged to attend this meeting.

Vacationing

Ken and Pat Kunenstler and daughters, Joyce and Joanne, 951 N. Haddow, recently returned from visiting Ken's folks on their farm in Merrill, Wis. Four-year-old Joyce enjoyed pony rides and watching the cows being fed and milked in the barn.

Block Party

Harry and Charlotte Larson, 905 N. Douglas, had the monthly block meeting and party at their home last Thursday. Twelve Douglas st. neighbors were in attendance.

Sunday Charlotte's brother, Lawrence Hurst and his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stendel, came out for dinner and to spend the evening.

Birthday

Janet Almblad, 947 N. Haddow, celebrated her fourth birthday at a party last Monday. Karla Clemmons, Susie Bibb, Marianne Leisten, Joyce Kuenstler and Ginny Spahr had lunch and joined in party games.

George and Barb Riley, 944 N. Haddow and Barb's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Coffey from Chicago, and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacCall from Oak Lawn out for dinner Sunday and to spend the day. Highlight of the day was watching that terrific World Series ball game!

VFW Auxiliary Card Party Set For October 16

Plans have been completed for the annual card party and penny social sponsored by the VFW ladies auxiliary to post 981, Arlington Heights. The affair will be held at 8 p.m. October 16.

Various card games will be played and the public is invited to come alone or make up their own tables. A handmade quilt and other prizes will be awarded during the penny social.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or by calling Virginia Henaughan at CLearbrook 3-7969.

New members were initiated into the group at the organization's October meeting. They are Victorine A. DeStefanis, Janet B. Isleib, Lorraine Boukas, Elaine Milligan, Hester Kopplin and Nellie Kaiser. Plans were also made at the meeting for a visit in November to the veteran's division of the Elgin State hospital. All members are urged to go on the visit and help with treats and games for the patients. (A

Cub Scout Square Dance October 19

Cub scout pack 67 will have a square dance Saturday, Oct. 19, from 8:30 to midnight at the new Pioneer Park field house, Arlington Heights. Donations are $1.50 per couple and all proceeds will go to the new camp for cubs and boy scouts to be built within a 50-mile radius of Chicago.

Caller for the evening will be F. V. Swanson of Wauconda.

For those who want a break between dances, there will be cake walks. Soft drinks and refreshments will be on sale during the evening. (A

What Happens to Dad If Mother Takes a Vacation?

by REV. WILLIAM MCGILL

I'm not the type to try to make hay, as the expression goes, when my wife's away. For one thing, she usually leaves the children with me.

And if there's one thing that is likely to reduce Father's playing, it's the necessity to keep track of 3 active chips off the old blockhead.

AND IF I don't keep track of them, and keep after them, dire things may happen.

One has to pore over the Daily News or the Paddock paper before she can think about cooking.

The second could blithely allow every dish and implement in the house to get dirty before he would start to wash one (he wouldn't start even then without an argument).

The third hasn't grown into nearly as many responsibilities as the others, but she'll know how to evade them when she does.

BEING AN OLD crew-cut man, I have no trouble keeping track of what hair I have left. But when the eldest gets off to school without brushing the youngest's hair — my hands become 2 left feet. The bobby pin looks like a simple tool. Anybody who can fly a kite, run a lathe, or write an article on a typewriter, ought to be able to stick a bobby pin in among some blonde hairs and have it stay. Yeah! She screams and I shout, she howls and I tug— and off to school she goes looking like a child without a Mother, and for a few days, she is.

OURS IS ONE of those families that needs to set off a rocket to get each person driven upstairs to go to bed. And then we have to blast to get each one out again in the morning. And I'm the worst.

This whole trip started badly. Her plane was scheduled for 6 a.m., at Midway. It was difficult to get to bed in time to get up at 3:30. So they cancelled it while we were on the way. Happy day! We got up again at 3:30 the following morning (because there was no other connecting flight).

THE NEXT DAY was Sunday. The average man who puts in 2 full days after such mornings can pull the covers over his head and catch up. So did I. Until the bell next door (in the steeple that casts a shadow) started to ring — 15 minutes before the Introit.

Seven days later, I said that there could be no repetition of last week. So a note was left for the man who opens the filling station at 7, asking him to call

When did he call? Just 10 minutes past 6. I was ready for that service. By 9, we were the readiest family you ever saw.

BUT IF ANY of you fathers want to know what mothers do all day, I can tell you.

They keep after children — to put the records away when they finish playing them, meanwhile steeping themselves with coffee and their ears with cotton to minimize the rock-and-roll effects.

Seven to 12 appears to be the rock and roll stage. Our eldest can leave it alone. Straighten up a living room and 3 of the younger generation can knock it apart in 3 minutes. In another hour, you might get them to restore order to the room.

Sometimes it takes a little isolation to appreciate the jewel you've married. I might even let her have the car one day next week. (B12

Clubwomen See 'Talent' Today

Four members of the cast of "Desk Set" will be seen this afternoon, Thursday, October 10, in separate and different performances when they take part in a talent bank show before the Panhellenic group of Des Plaines at Old Orchard Country club.

Randy and Marshall Moses will be seen in a cutting from "Picnic." Two scenes from "Chalk Garden" will be presented by Mary Tindall and Barbara Houskeeper.

TONIGHT at 8 o'clock in the field house, an opportunity to glimpse things to come will be presented members of Village Theatre, Inc. when a partial "run-through" of "Desk Set" is given as the program at the regular monthly meeting.

Jane Miller, vice-president of the group, is in charge of talent bank arrangements. Organizations interested in a program of cuttings or one-act plays may get further information by calling her at Clearbrook 3-3798.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION

"Last year, during hunting season, my car window was smashed and my guns and equipment were stolen. My brother tells me he has a 'gun floater' policy from your agency that covers his guns against loss, theft, or accidental damage. Does $5 usually pay for such gun insurance?"

How many "vitamin pills" per bottle?

Some vitamin preparations seem like bargains. Lots of capsules per dollar. But that's not the way medications should be measured. The true measure is potency—how much active, beneficial ingredient per dollar. When you measure this way, you will find that the real "bargains" are in your registered pharmacy. Before you buy vitamin preparations from a nonprofessional source, check with your physician. It pays.

Eastwood Events

Worked On Float

Wednesday and Thursday evenings the home of Sharon Mesnard, 637 N. Beverley lane, was a busy place for many freshman of Prospect high helping to construct a colorful float for the homecoming parade.

Eastwood round robin bridge was held at the home of Grace and Glenn Johnson, 405 N. Dryden, Friday with Lois and Dick Evans, Eunice and Ken Behm and Hope and Chuck Holroyd substituting for Linda and Bob Lane, who traveled to Des Plaines to attend a performance of "Born Yesterday" by the Little Theatre Group.

Among the couples enjoying the Carousel club's first dance of the season October 5 at Itasca Country club were Vivian and Bill Lenheim and Nina and Norm Hoym.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Neilson, 403 N. Brighton, entertained at bridge for the following couples: Eileen and Jack Anderson, Betty and Matt Cockrell and Ruth and Bob Luker.

Home From Kentucky

Mrs. Lou Larson, 400 N. Lincoln lane, has returned from a visit with her father in Louisville, Ky.

Entertaining at bridge during the month of October will be Eileen and Jack Anderson, Nita and Hal Barnes, Betty and Matt Cockrell, Dick and Lois Evans, Edwina and Garth Heisig, Marcia and Dick Kozackawicz and Madge and Conley Stewart.

Newcomers

Newcomers to Arlington Heights are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson and daughter, Patricia Ann. They moved from Chicago to 947 N. Fernandez the first of September. Patricia Ann is in second grade at St. James school.

Gary Anderson, son of the M. E. Andersons, was 6 September 28 and had a party to celebrate the occasion. Kenny and Kevin Koeneman were there, as well as Tommy Adam, Raymond Safaric, Terry Lee and Richard Olson. They played party games and had ice cream and cake.

Christened Sunday

James Robert Burger, son of the David L. Burgers, was christened Sunday in Faith Lutheran church. Godparents were Jacquelin and Jerry Burger, sister and brother of Mr. Burger. After the service there was a party for the family at the Burger home.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Burke have their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Budd Meisenheimer, visiting them with their 10-month-old son, John Harold. The Meisenheimers have been living in California awaiting his discharge from the army. They are making their headquarters with the Burkes until their future plans formulate. In the meantime, they will go up to Tomahawk, Wis. to visit his mother for a week.

Dig Trench For Tile

With the village's approval, 18 men in the 900 block of Kaspar and Salem have started a project to eliminate the "lake" in their backyards during the rainy season. Over the weekend they could be seen digging a trench from Elm st. through the back yards of Kaspar and Salem for drain tile. They plan to finish it off with gravel and dirt on top. The end result will probably be the answer to their water problems.

Rita and Normal Wall went to the smorgasbord at the VFW hall Saturday night sponsored by the rifle team. It is estimated that 600 people were there for dancing and smorgasbord.

Celebrate Fifth Birthday

There was a birthday party at the Robert Buechner home October 8. Michael was 5 years old and had several of his friends in to celebrate: Mark Rubenking, Tommy Adam, Billy Lavers, Tommy Ladenthin, Michael Raitt, Dickie Wells and Kevin Koeneman. Disneyland was the theme of the party, with mickey mouse table cloth, napkins and paper plates. Each child received mickey mouse paint set.

The Adolph Danes have returned from a trip to Mackinac island. While there, they took the ferry across to St. Ignace, Mich. and took the scenic route, which included a stopover at Father Marquette's grave and the 120-year-old church, which is now a museum and a treasury of Father Marquette history. On the way home, they went through Green Bay. They took colored pictures of the trip, but Mrs. Danes says that even the slides cannot capture the autumn leaves and all their splendor.

Scott Kane's ninth birthday party was a nice one. Friends who came to his house for dinner and then went to the football game at the high school were Jay Kellar, Jimmy Kunberger, Charlie Read and Jerry and Charlie Stocking. Scott's father and Mr. Stocking took the boys to the game. (A

Builder Sets Village Tour For Prospects

"Meet Arlington Heights Day" will be staged by Hasbrook Construction co., Inc., on Sunday, Oct. 13, for home-seekers interested in buying in that city.

Prospects will be invited to see the company's subdivision and then take a guided sightseeing tour of Arlington Heights in chartered buses Hasbrook will provide.

"MOST HOME-BUYERS don't take enough time to learn about their new community," according to Albert E. Riley, president of the building firm. "We think Arlington Heights is one of the biggest assets our homes have to offer, and we want our prospects to know everything about the city."

Tours will include all municipal facilities, shopping areas, schools, transportation, and recreational areas. Buses will leave every half-hour from the Hasbrook homes on Palatine rd., between State and Wilke rds.

GEORGE HARRIS

Unquestionably, our most beautiful season is with us, the season that finds the beauties of nature unfolding in all her glory. Each weekend finds literally hundreds of motorists out in the country to see those brilliant colors of the changing leaves; but how many of you capture these wonderful scenes on color film?

So many new cameras on the market, color film is now available in quantity, the service we offer in developing films is FAST & RELIABLE. There is no excuse that you can give yourself, for not getting these wonderful events of nature on film. Let us show you the new cameras; you'll be amazed how really inexpensive they are. Whether you take still or moving pictures is really not important as long as you do capture these beautiful scenes in color.

For your trip this weekend into the country, pick-up a new camera, get yourself some color film and get those wonderful colors and hues on film. The things you capture on film, no artist could paint, which proves "The best things in life are free." See ya'.

UPPER GRADE PUPILS at St. James school, Arlington Heights, were treated Tuesday to an authentic display of colonial firearms, swords, powder horns, flags, and uniforms. The pre-revolutionary War relics were loaned to Schneller Furniture co., Prospect Heights, by Ft. Ticonderoga, N. Y., museum, through the courtesy of Ethan Allen Furniture co. Pictured with part of the display are Robert Wald, Robert Radcliffe, Sister Agnetta, principal; Joe Schneller, Paul Conti, and Tim Knight. Radcliffe and Conti gave a talk on Ethan Allen, hero of Ft. Ticonderoga. The complete collection will be on display at the Schneller store.

OBITUARIES

Charles Schering

Services were held September 13 in Tharp Funeral home, Palatine, for Charles Schering, 250 N. Hale st., a lifelong resident of Palatine and a retired employee of Illinois Bell Telephone co. He was born May 15, 1883, and died September 11 in Sherman hospital, Elgin, following a long illness. Burial was in South Side cemetery.

Survivors are his daughter, Irma, with whom he made his home; son, Norman, of Palatine; and 2 grandchildren.

Mrs. Jean Bedford

Funeral services for Mrs. Jean Bedford will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. in Drake and Son funeral home, 5303 N. Western ave., Chicago. Mrs. Bedford died Monday in her home at 203 E. Berkshire, Mt. Prospect. The couple moved to Mt. Prospect 2 years ago from Chicago.

Mrs. Bedford was born May 19, 1919 in Chicago and leaves her husband, Mervyn D.; her parents, Harry and Elizabeth Smith; 2 bothers, Harry A. and Douglas G.; and 2 sisters, June E. Iser and May Finnegan. A brother, James, preceded her in death.

Dr. C. C. Cox will officiate at the service and burial will be in Evergreen cemetery, Chicago.

Schaffer Baby

Michael Robert Schaffer, infant son of Robert E. and Shirley M. Schaffer, 3 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, died in his home October 7. He was born September 29 in Elgin and besides his parents leaves a sister, Cathy Ann; and his grandparents, Arthur and Martha Bentz of Arlington Heights and Raymond and Frances Schaffer of Cary.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights with Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiating. Interment, Memory Gardens cemetery.

Weidner Baby

Prayer services were held Saturday in the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights for Vance Robert Weidner, infant son of Vincent C. and Elsie K. Weidner, 1135 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. The baby was born September 20 in Elgin and died in Children's Memorial hospital October 3.

Beside his parents, he leaves a brother, Vincent W.; a sister, Victoria Lynn; and his grandparents, Louis C. and Emma Marie Klages and Engelbert Weidner.

Rev. R. Reicher officiated at the service and burial was in St. Mary cemetery, Buffalo Grove.

Sophia C. Allison

Rev. William O. McGill will officiate at services Friday, Oct. 11, or Mrs. Sophia Bornhoff Allison in Wheeling Presbyterian church. Mrs. Allison died in her home at 2875 Milwaukee ave., Northbrook, October 7. She was born March 16, 1883 in West Northfield.

Her husband, George, who was president of West Northfield school board from 1920 to 1947, died in July, 1956. Mrs. Allison leaves a daughter, Hazel Witte, of Northbrook; a son, Roland G. of Northbrook; a grandson, Kenneth Allison; 2 sisters, Minnie Zinkel of Mt. Prospect and Emma Porter of Chicago; and 2 brothers, John Bornhoff and Henry Bornhoff of West Northfield. She was in state at the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines with burial in Oak Woods cemetery.

Mrs. Allison was a member of the Wheeling Royal Neighbors and the Ladies Aid of Wheeling Presbyterian church.

Joaquin Rodrigues

Burial for Joaquin Rodrigues, late resident of Algonquin rd., Arlington Heights, will be held October 11 in Carrizo Springs, Texas. Black's Memorial home is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Rodrigues died in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, October 6 at the age of 79.

Herbert E. Martin

Mass was held for Herbert Edward Martin, 204 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect, at 10 a.m. October 7 in St. Raymond church, Mt. Prospect. Burial was in All Saints cemetery with Black's Memorial home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Martin was born in Chicago September 24, 1896 and died in his home October 5. He was general sales manager of the Chicago Pump Co. and leaves his wife, Esther, a teacher for several years in Mt. Prospect schools; a daughter, Mrs. Mary T. Obal of Mt. Prospect; 2 grandchildren; a brother, Ralph Martin, and 3 sisters, Mrs. Katherine Teich, Mrs. Irene Phee and Mrs. Nancy Hasler.

Adeline Dickhoff

Funeral services for Mrs. Adeline Dickhoff, who died in Highland Park hospital Saturday, were held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in Black's Memorial home with Rev. William McGill officiating. Interment was in Ridgewood cemetery.

Mrs. Dickhoff, a resident of 199 Wille, Wheeling, was born in Wisconsin July 7, 1895. She leaves her husband, Carl; and a daughter, Elizabeth Dickhoff.

Agnus Heinz

Funeral services for Agnus Heinz, 1015 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, were held at 1:30 p.m. October 4 in Black's Memorial home, Arlington Heights. Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiated and interment was in Concordia cemetery.

Miss Heinz moved to Arlington Heights 14 years ago. She died October 1 at the age of 82. Four sisters and 2 brothers preceded her in death.

John P. Mack

John P. Mack of Rand rd., Arlington Heights, died suddenly in his home October 4 and services were held October 7 at 3 p.m. in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines.

Mr. Mack was born November 15, 1888 in Lowell, Mass. and for 25 years was vice president of the American City bureau, professional fund raising company. He retired in 1953 and leaves his wife, Bernice Hoyt Mack; a daughter, Margery Plietsewait of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; a son, John B. Mack of Chicago; 5 grandchildren and 3 sisters, Edith Donaldson, Etta Tierny and Bertha Corbett.

Rev. Paul L. Stumpf officiated at the service and burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Josephine Kirchway

Mrs. Josephine Kirchway, late resident of 215 S. George, Mt. Prospect, died Sunday and services were held at 11 a.m. October 8 in Black's Memorial home, Arlington Heights. Rev. Hughes B. Morris officiated and interment was private.

Mrs. Kirchway was born in St. Louis, Mo. July 17, 1869 and was married to Harry Kirchway in Chicago in 1900. She leaves a son, Clarence of Mt. Prospect; 3 grandchildren; and 3 great grandchildren.

Scouting the Enemy

Main, Arlington's opponent Friday night in the crucial game of the USC, is undefeated in WSC, lost to Evanston without Vic Pagel.

- Ends, Marcy 170, Sciarra 160, both fast, both good pass receivers.
- Tackles, hold your hats, a dream lineup of Campion 248, White 270, Gardner 240 (and 6-2) and Rice 215.
- Guards, exceptional crew of pulling guards, boys who know how to block, Mulroy 165, Kuzczak 175.
- Center, Teeman 175, a veteran who never misses.
- Quarterback, Jerry Wiese 175, injured but expected back for this 1, plus Boerger 160, also used as blocking back, both good passers and runners.
- Halfbacks, Gary Olsen 175 at right, Vic Pagel 157 and 5-10 at left. Pagel is one of biggest and fastest backs in the WSC who ranks No. 1 in the league and 1 of the top men in the state.
- Fullback, Burseik 6-0 and 175, a boy who carries plenty of power.
- Reserves, good replacements for the backfield: especially Jim Brown and Bob Neuman.
- Team, fast, elusive ball carriers, same team as co-champs of last year with a couple of exceptions; a team that has so overwhelmed previous opponents no one knows their potential as a unit.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB PADDOCK

OUR HAT IS TIPPED to some of the unheralded members of the Arlington football team who haven't been gaining the headlines but have been doing an outstanding job for the Cardinals . . . There's Howie Berg, one of the workhorses of the squad, always a threat from one side while Bob Mors is the speed merchant the other side of the backfield . . . There's quarterback Tom Grey, who has been doing an excellent job of calling signals, completing better than 50% of his passes, and directing the team to straight victories.

HOWIE BERG

There's Greg Rose in the line at center, handling the ball on every play and taking plenty from opposing linemen while gaining no notice whatsoever from the flash bulbs . . . There are others, equally important, who will have their toughest game of the year at Maine Friday night . . . Last week's victory over Hinsdale meant Heights has a darn good team . . . Whether it is good enough to knock off Maine for a possible league championship depends upon luck with the flu, continued improvement of the Cards, top-notch play and breaks of the game . . . Maine has been pointing for this football title for 3 years, and has plenty of power in reserve, which could make the difference.

HALFWAY MARK of the fall sports season has been reached at Arlington high school with 28 of 56 contests now past history. The varsity cross-country victory over Glenbrook Tuesday meant the locals are 16-1 so far in championship divisions, varsity and frosh-soph, and 20-8 overall. In varsity football the Cards are 4-0. In frosh-soph football it's also 4-0. Varsity cross country stands 6-0.

Frosh-soph cross country is 2-1, with that 1 the result of only 1 point difference against York. If 1 soph Heights runner had moved up 1 spot in that York meet the varsity and frosh-soph divisions would both be clean.

Athletic director Wally Grace gave an opening-of-school pep talk a month ago, and asserted he wanted nothing less than 35-20 for the fall season. The teams have come through in good fashion so far, though the roughest part of the job is still to be done. Card athletic teams need 15-12 in remaining fall contests to hit Grace's mark.

THE CUBS AND TIGERS fought and clawed one another for 12 thrilling and spectacular innings at Chicago's West Side jungle Tuesday afternoon and darkness finally put an end to the titanic battle with a score of 3-3. The struggle will go down in history as one of the most exciting and dramatic ever played.

A mighty multitude, 24,377 in number, watched the tide of battle ebb and flow. Although the total fell short of breaking records by a narrow margin, the gate receipts were the largest ever taken in at a ball game. The gross proceeds were $29,162.50.

That's the story of 1 of the world series games of 1907 as reported in microfilmed files of Paddock Publications.

THE GATE at the Arlington-Hinsdale homecoming affair was probably the largest on record . . . Final returns aren't in yet, but the take included $2,507 at the gate, $291.80 in the business office and $250 at Hinsdale . . . That's over $3,000 . . . The 'A' club, operating the concessions at the game, sold 1,500 bags of pop corn and 3,000 cups of coffee, hot chocolate and cola . . . 'A' club funds purchase the letters and other awards given to athletes, as well as specialized athletic equipment for the school, such as football field sprinklers ,etc.

There were almost 500 students missing at Arlington Monday, with 700 missing at Maine . . . That's almost 20% for Heights, and almost 15% for Maine . . . Flu could determine the result of that all-important game Friday.

Next home game, Downers Grove Oct. 18, will be 'A' men's game, with all former major 'A' winner's to be honored . . . West Suburban conference cross country meet will be held at LaGrange Oct. 19 . . . Arlington currently leads both varsity and frosh-soph divisions of WSC football, and varsity cross country . . . We hope we can repeat that statement next week.

And remember, we picked the Braves in 6 games, which will look good or foolish by the time this is being read.

Cardinals suffered a big loss when Dave Buren broke his leg Friday night . . . Dave is now home in a cast, is slated to be back in school Monday on crutches, may be sitting on the bench Friday night . . . Dave is a junior, a boy improving all season long, a guy who's worried more about the team than his leg . . . Teammates talked their way into his hospital room Saturday to give him the game ball . . . Coaches expect a lot from him again in '58 . . . His parents feel the same way.

BUD WILKINSON of Oklahoma has this to say about desire on the gridiron: the way to tell whether your team has desire is to count your men within 8 yards of the ball as its is whistled dead . . . If 9 or 10 are there you're okay . . . If they're scattered, you have a team with poor desire . . . Recent Glenbard-Hinsdale cross country meet had the winning frosh-soph time 64 seconds faster than the varsity . . . LaFleur of Glenbard covered the course for the yearlings in 8:45.

Flu postponed or cancelled several football games over the weekend, including the IC of Elmhurst contest where 26 of 40 boys were unable to report . . . Palatine game at Elmwood Park was stopped for the same reason.

Paddock bowling tournament for men scheduled for Bensenville Bowl will be a 2-day affair this time . . . Tourney promoters have always moved the big meet around to all of the local alleys . . . With almost 70 leagues expected to be represented this time it will take 2 days to run it off at Bensenville, an 8-alley house.

Men's tourney will be held Jan. 10 and 11 at Bensenville with women's tourney Jan. 18 at Beverly in Arlington.

Flu cancelled half of the school day at Lake Park Monday, with Lancer fans urged to check with the school as to whether this week's game against Belvidere scheduled for Itasca park Saturday will be held . . . Illini gymnastics took a step upward with enrollment of Abie Grossfield after returning from Maccabiahan world games in Israel, where he won 7 gold medals for all-around, sidehorse, high bar, parallel bar, free exercise, long horse and rings . . . He was a member of the US Olympic team in '56, is expected to repeat in 1960.

League Leads at Stake at Maine Friday

Favor Maine Speed, Weight Over Cardinals

A team that works together better than any team in recent years brought Arlington that 20-14 football victory over Hinsdale, an affair that sent fans home talking and looking forward to this Friday's tussle against Maine.

Maine will be the tough one for Arlington. Blue Demons have been pointing to this season for 3 years. They've got the fastest team in the league, and squad size second to none. And they've got reserve strength that would make any coach anywhere relax and enjoy himself.

AGAINST THAT Arlington will be sending a closely-knit team with determination, small in number but long in desire. It will be a squad based around 13 iron men, most of whom go both ways, a group of boys who love football and set their sights on copping victories, 1 at a time.

Missing from action will be Dave Buren, who suffered a broken leg against Hinsdale. Dave may be on the bench Friday night, his leg in a cast, cheering his mates. The game will pit the 2 WSC leaders in the homecoming tilt for Maine, with the hub-bub certain to help the Demons.

CARDS REACHED their potential against Hinsdale Friday night, particularly the second and third quarters. There was a letdown after Buren was hurt with locals fumbling twice and having a punt blocked. Hinsdale gained the ball on the Heights 7 for 1 touchdown and took over on the 35 for the other.

Hinsdale had set up a defense to stop the off tackle plays of the Cardinals, but left themselves vulnerable for outside runs and passes. Cards took advantage of this with Howie Berg using his speed to advantage to carry 2 punt returns 45 and 29 yards to help set up 2 touchdowns.

TOM GREY had been sick Wednesday and Thursday, but played his usual outstanding game at quarter for Heights, calling a good set of signals. He completed 4 of 8 passes to keep his record above the .500 mark. Denny Thill and Berg remained the workhorses of the backfield, though Thill's running was hampered by Hinsdale's 7-man line.

In the line Ralph Wille and Jack Weber were outstanding on offense, as were Bob Creviston, Buren, Greg Rose, Dean Schneck and Roger Bader, speedy junior end. On defense it was Rose, Weber, Wille, Buren and Farleigh looking best. Pass defense again saved Arlington from a couple of enemy scores with Hinsdale completing just 3 of 12 attempts and having 3 interceptions.

THE REPLACEMENT for Buren will be Lee Askelof, a smaller boy but with a bit more speed. Buren stands 5-10, weighs 171, while Askelof stands 5-7 and weighs 156. Lee has a lot of determination and will be determined to fill Buren's shoes on offense.

On defense it will probably be Denny Thill in the linebacking chores. It will be the first time Thill will be used both ways. He can do a good job in this regard, though lacking Buren's experience on defense.

THESE TWO BOYS will be ready for plenty of action against Maine Friday night, with both Arlington and the Demons co-leaders in WSC football. Bob Creviston, 1 of the most aggressive tackles in conference, stands 6-2, weighs 210, goes both ways for Coach "Bus" Ormsbee. He has been doing an outstanding job as captain, exemplifying what a good captain should be in clean living habits, outstanding determination and love for football. This is Bob's second year as a regular. He hopes to play college ball after graduation.

Don Gerken is a junior, in his second year with the varsity. Don has improved rapidly this fall, is currently No. 1 substitute at both tackles on both offense and defense. He's aggressive, a hard worker, rough. He'll see his share of action against Maine on the latter's homecoming field.

Tough Opponent For Card Sophs

Arlington's league-leading frosh-soph football team will face its stiffest competition to date when they travel to Maine Friday night. Young Cards are undefeated in WSC competition to date, but will be hard pressed to continue that status Friday.

It will be Maine's homecoming, always an advantage for any home team. Maine has good size, probably heavier than Heights. Young Demons have 2 lefty passers in Swanson and Verberm both of them fast. Hosts will also have a couple of exceptionally large linemen, including Schmidt at end, who'll be determined to beat the Cardinals.

HINSDALE VICTORY was the best game to date for the frosh-sophs, according to Coach Bill Beckman. Young Cardinals had a slight letdown the early part of the fourth period, but otherwise looked good in fashioning the 18-12 margin.

Once again it was team effort. Backs played equally well on both offense and defense, driving harder than before. Pass defense was good, with the locals intercepting 2 Hinsdale tosses.

Bruce Fichte and John Lopata both ran well against the Imps. George Bork called a good game with Gene Dahlquist looking best on defense. Flu bug could affect the contest in large degree, though, with 12-15 boys missing from a lot of practices last week. Same could happen this time.

Maine freshmen beat Arlington freshmen a year ago, 43-12, giving the locals the opportunity to gain revenge.

11th Inning Double Gives Wheeling Softball Victory

by BEN KOZLIK

Krogman, the Wheeling first baseman, emerged as the hero in one of the most thrill packed softball games ever played in the Little "7" Conference, when he crashed a double in the 11th inning to send Vogt across the plate with the winning run.

The fans were in a continual frenzy from start to finish, as the game see-sawed back and forth, with spectacular plays and clutch base hits, and daring base running.

BOZOVSKI of Prospect Heights slammed a tremendous home run with Garafolo on base in the very first inning to give his team an early 2 to 0 lead. It was a very short lived lead as Wheeling came right back with 2 more runs when Nowatarski doubled with two men on base. Prospect Heights went down without a run in the second but Wheeling bounced back with 1 run on Simorsen's triple with Hoffman on base.

The inning ended when Richard Fitts came up with a sensational running one handed stab of Vogt's hard smash to left center. With the game tied at four all Prospect Heights pushed across 4 big runs in the fifth on Bozovski's triple and Hendrickson's single with the bases loaded.

A DETERMINED Wheeling team came back with 1 in the fifth and 3 more in the 6th on Simorsen's triple. Neither team scored from there on until the game went into extra innings. In the top of the 8th it looked like young Bob Geller was going to play the hero role when he drilled a single to right scoring Ralph Garafolo with the lead run.

Wheeling came right back and tied the score on Kerrigan's single. Neither team scored again until the tenth when Rog Luedke Prospect Heights third baseman scored Captain Robert Christofferson with a sizzling single to left. Wheeling was not to be denied as they pushed across 1 run in their half of the tenth.

IN THE TOP of the 11th Rog Luedke was robbed of a base hit by Escanilla's shoe string catch with runners on second and third. Pandemonium then broke loose as Vogt of Wheeling walked to open the bottom of the 11th, Hoffman was robbed of extra bases on a great play by Dickie Gay, Prospect Heights left fielder. Simorsen came through with a single and Krogman whistled a line shot into left for the game winning base hit to score Vogt.

Captain Bob Christofferson and his keystone partner Ralph Garafolo played brilliant defensive ball for Prospect Heights. Time and again they came through with difficult plays to kill off potential Wheeling rallies. Simorsen, Wheeling shortstop kept his team in the ballgame coming up with plays when they counted most.

CHUCKY HALVERSON directed the Prospect Heights "B" squad to an 11 to 9 win over the Wheeling "B" squad. Manager Halverson used 21 players in a game where the lead changed hands practically every inning. George Renner was the winning pitcher. (Sp

Beverly Hits 1020, Drubs Des Plaines In Paddock Classic

Beverly Lanes keglers pointed for Des Plaines in Paddock Classic Traveling League competition Saturday night, and trounced the leaders in 2 of 3 games, shortening the spread within the loop. Des Plaines now holds a 1-game margin over Jeffery of Wheeling with Hi-Way of Palatine a half game farther back, a half notch ahead of Beverly of Arlington.

Tom Kouros

Tom Kouros led the way for Beverly Saturday night on his home alleys with a 646 series. He also hit 244 the second game while teammate Ward Siewert was hitting 233 and Joe Cordulack 212. Ernie Koche added a 194 with the team hitting 1020. Total series for Beverly was 2827. Des Plaines copped the first game with 923, but found 965 too small the third affair as Beverly hit 975. Siewert hit 605 for the winners.

Jeffery took 2 of 3 games from Gunnell's on the Wheeling alleys, hitting 945 the middle tilt. Only exceptional bowling was by John Ribando of Gunnell's with 201 and 213 for a 589 series. Action was also slow at Barrington where Hi-Way took 2 games, then tied the third. Schumacher hit 220 for the Ten Pin.

This Saturday, Oct. 12, Des Plaines will compete at Gunnell's, Jeffery will move in on Barrington Ten Pin, and Hi-Way will bowl at Beverly. Next position night for the league is scheduled for Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling October 26 with all 6 teams on hand. New pocket schedules will be available, covering the rest of the season, the end of next week.

Four bowlers are in the 190 average bracket. Ward Siewert of Beverly is holding 196, Ken Norman of Des Plaines has 193, Marv Perry of Hi-Way 191 and Tom Kouros of Beverly 190. Del Metti of Des Plaines is holding 188.

There are 13 more in the 180 bracket with 15 in the 170 group. Just 4 are currently under 170.

Cards and Lions Win Heights Midget Grid

Cards and Lions won this week's games in Arlington Heights park district midget football program, the Cardinals blanking Packers 27-0 and Lions disposing of the Bears 7-0.

Jerry Totzke scored all the points for the Cardinals, including 4 touchdowns and 3 points after. He returned a punt for a 30-yard TD and ran the point after in the opening period. He covered the final 6 yards for another TD around end after a pitchout and again ran the extra point the first quarter.

IN THE SECOND period Jerry skirted left end for 8 yards and TD No. 3, then covered 40 yards around left end the final frame and ran the point after for the 27-0 victory.

John McKenna carried a punt return 65 yards for the only touchdown for the Lions against the Bears Saturday with Joe Wertheimer running the extra point. Game was evenly played otherwise.

THIS SATURDAY at 9:30 Bears will meet the Cards, Lions will oppose Packers at 10:45. First game between 2 teams of heavyweights, boys over 105, will be held at Recreation park at 12:00. (Sp

JACK WEBER carried the ball this time for the Arlington Cardinals but was stopped after picking up a couple of yards. Heights won the ball game in convincing fashion, 20-14. That 65 is Dean Schneck moving in to help.

BOB MORS, Arlington's leading ball carrier, was tackled at this moment of the 20-14 victory over Hinsdale Friday night. The enemy falling like ten pins behind him are Stauden (97), Thomas (99), Schluchter (88) and Sproat (62).

Cardinals Reach Heights Soundly Trounce Hinsdale

Despite some pretty anxious moments in the last quarter, Arlington's Cardinals gave thousands of Homecoming football fans plenty to cheer about Friday night as they hung a 20-14 defeat on the previously unbeaten Hinsdale Red Devils.

THE VISITORS scored twice in the final quarter after the Cards had dominated the first 3 periods' play. It was the fourth consecutive victory for the locals and their third in WSC play. The league title could well be settled this weekend when the top 2 challengers, Arlington and Maine, meet head-on at Des Plaines.

Victory spirits were somewhat dampened by the loss of Dave Buren, junior guard and defensive standout. Buren suffered a broken leg in the last quarter and will be lost for the rest of the season.

HOMECOMING, which often plays tricks with the outcome of prep football contests, had Arlington "up" for the battle. In fact, the locals may have been too "high" in the opening minutes of the game. The undefeated Cards apparently suffered a slight case of "jitters" as they had trouble getting started.

By halftime, however, Arlington had scored twice and took a 13-0 lead in the locker room at the intermission. A third quarter TD gave the Birds a comfortable 20-0 advantage and what seemed to be an unsurmountable lead that late in the game.

COACH "BUS" Ormsbee was about to call on reserves when the Red Devils came suddenly into contention. A fumble set up the first Hinsdale tally on the 7-yard line. Quarterback Dan Przybyla appeared to be trapped while attempting to pass but eluded the Redbird defenders and covered the distance to the goal. Tony Carmignani's kick made it 20-7, but most viewers saw the score only as a loss of a shutout.

The situation grew more serious, however, when Jack Weber's punt was blocked on the Arlington 40. Three plays later Przbyla hit Bill Walberg with a 27-yard aerial good for a Red Devil touchdown. Carmignani again converted and the Arlington lead was cut to 20-14 with 2:09 remaining to play.

The Cards attempted to run out the clock but relinquished the ball on downs on the Hinsdale 40-yard line with 35 seconds left to play.

Howie Berg came through with a timely interception on the Redbird 30 and ended the threat.

ARLINGTON'S first touchdown came with 7:05 to play in the second period. Berg's 30-yard punt return had put the Cards in scoring position on the Hinsdale 35. Bob Mors went 10 yards for a first down on the 25. After losing 4 yards on 2 plays, Tom Grey moved to the 16 and Dennis Thill secured a first down on the 14 with a desperate fourth down plunge.

Bob Mors racked up his seventh WSC 6-pointer on a deceptive dash over left tackle. Weber's try for the extra point was short.

SOME 30 SECONDS later, captain Bob Creviston recovered a Red Devil fumble on the Hinsdale 32. A Grey to Weber pass put the ball on the 24, but it took a fourth down spurt from Howie Berg to secure a first down on the Hinsdale 20.

After a 5-yard penalty, Grey threw to Weber on a screen pass and the senior end bolted to the 9-yard line. Hinsdale's line stiffened for 3 plays but Grey's jump pass to Dick Bader on fourth down was good for the necessary 3 yards to the end zone. Weber's kick split the uprights with only 33 seconds remaining in the half.

THE CARDS took the second half's opening kickoff and marched 75 yards in 11 plays. Dennis Thill did the honors with 5:33 left to play in the third quarter.

A 41-yard sprint by Howie Berg and a pass from Berg to Weber sparked the TD drive. Thill's plunge came from 2 yards out. Weber's conversion attempt was successful.

THE GAME was close statistic-wise with Arlington showing 137 yards gained rushing and 30 passing for a net gain of 167 yards. Hinsdale gained 115 yards on the ground and 50 in the air for a net of 165 yards.

The Cards completed 3 of 7 passes and had one intercepted. Hinsdale went to the air 11 times, completing 3 and losing 1 on an interception.

Arlington registered 11 first downs compared to Hinsdale's 7, and suffered only 45 yards penalty compared to the losers' 70.

Doberman Specialty Judged Exceptional Children's

The largest Doberman Pinscher Specialty show ever held will take place Sunday, Oct. 13, in the Suburban Transit System garage, 5800 West 95th st., Oaklawn. Show hours are from 7:30 a.m. until 8 p.m. Total entries, all of which are dobermans, number 211 and are coming from all over the country and Canada.

Willi Rothfuss of Stuttgart, Germany will be the judge. Mr. Rothfuss is considered the best on his continent as both a judge and authority on dobermans and this is his first visit to this country, hence the large entry. The Specials class has an entry of 28 champions, the largest in the history of the breed. Doubly encouraging is the fine quality of the champions that are entered.

Aside from the Grand Victor and Grand Victrix awards, there will be close to $2,000 in trophies.

Saturday, preceding this show, the judging of the top 10 competition will be held at the Sabre room, 8900 W. 95th st., beginning at 1 p.m. This is the judging of what has been considered the top 10 dobermans in the United States during the past year. Imediately following this there will be a forum. Judges and participants will include famous doberman people from all over the nation.

The show is sponsored by the Doberman Pinscher club of Chicagoland.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Redwanz of 421 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, and James E. Michaels, 150 N. Rohlwing rd., Palatine, have their dobermans entered in the show. (Sp

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

IT MAY BE that the most important factor in both high school and college football results in the middle west this year will be the Asiatic flu. Certainly it has already knocked Oak Park out of the Suburban league grid race as they lost to New Trier and Waukegan on successive weekends with a squad depleted as well as weakened by the flu bug. Palatine's postponed game with Elmwood Park, while rescheduled after the crucial games with Glenbrook and North Chicago coming up the next 2 weekends, might still make the Pirates the victims of a later upset by Fenton, as a result.

The west side of Chicago and the near suburbs such as Elmwood Park, Oak Park, Proviso, and Riverside-Brookfield have been riddled by the flu. The postponement of the game at Elmwood Park Saturday came as a result of 45 per cent of the students of the school being out with the flu. Absence at Palatine, meanwhile, was only 3 per cent.

The flu epidemic is advancing up the north shore and the more outlying suburbs will have their turn. There will be a number of crucial games this season which will turn on the basis of key personnel being out with the flu. The University of Iowa almost had to settle for a tie with Washington State last Saturday with subs taking the place of 4 key regulars and a number of first line reserves. Most schools are having their faculty members immunized against the flu and some are asking their football teams to do likewise. Whether this is a sure prevention is not as yet known as booster shots 2 weeks after the first dose are recommended. Palatine hopes the first shot does the trick with mighty Glenbrook on Friday's schedule.

NEW TRI-COUNTY CONFERENCE continues to gain prestige. Fenton tied Dundee, who had beaten Libertyville, who in turn has beaten Zion-Benton and Woodstock. Palatine lost to Crystal Lake 6-0, who hammered Dundee 27-6 and beat Niles 6-0, who later whipped Highland Park. And then there was Glenbrook's 27-6 win over West Aurora who the following week beat East Rockford, the Big Eight favorite.

While Palatine did not get in any sports competition the past weekend except a double victory in cross country at the expense of Glenbrook, they did have their marching band, directed by Ed Volz, on display at Northwestern University where combined bands from 60 schools performed between halves.

Palatine was one of 4 bands designated lead units in the big mass production. Palatine band has new uniforms purchased last May through financial help from the Lions and the American Legion. They put on one of the best half time shows in Palatine history at the Barrington game and will have another special ready to show Friday night when Glenbrook comes to Community park.

ZION-BENTON HIGH SCHOOL retrenched this year in many ways to try to operate their high school after several attempts to get a tax rate increase were voted down at the polls. Many of their teachers moved to more attractive locations and better pay. The sports program was restricted to varsity and frosh-soph teams in football and basketball and varsity teams in track and baseball, with the minor sports and the frosh program eliminated.

Evidently the taxpayers did not believe drastic steps were necessary but now that retrenchment has been carried out they have voted a rate increase.

The only trouble is the damage cannot be repaired for years as far as faculty is concerned and the money for other expenses will not be coming in until taxes are collected next summer. The present restricted program will have to continue through the 1957-58 school year.

WE HEARD SOME FANS commenting the other day about football officials, stating certain men appeared lazy on the field and were slow getting about and therefore not competent. We would disagree to some extent with this assumption. We agree some officials take it easy on the field and are so far from the play when they make decisions they lose confidence of fans and players.

However, the really good official does not need to do a lot of running. He has the ability to be on the right spot at the right time and he always seems to be there and you do not notice him putting forth great effort to get there. Some officials organize the areas they cover between them so that they do a more efficient team job of calling the play.

WE WONDER WHY it would not be a good idea to have teams of officials who work together on games in high school football as is done with teams of umpires in professional baseball. This idea of officials working together is a big factor in a well called game. The problem of young men working in would be solved by requiring that each combine include a beginner.

One of the problems of a league assignment chairman is that coaches take a sudden dislike to an official whom they have previously approved, because he happened to call a play which was important in a game they lost.

Right away they ask that he be taken off games for which he is under contract and a replacement assigned. Then there are the coaches who rate only a few officials and give the assignment chairman too few approvals for him to line up a suitable slate. The problems of officials assignment chairmen in the suburban athletic conferences are many. In the new Tri-County league assignment chairman Les Harmon of North Chicago has been given the green light by the principals to use his own good judgment when problems arise and not to create new ones by catering to fussy athletic coaches.

This is the same policy Mel Eide in the Northwest conference follows by orders of the school administrators of that league.

The assignment chairman asks the coaches to rate all officials during the season. He uses these opinions as a basis for the next season's assignments. He tries not to give the same man to any school more than 2 or 3 times in a season so that the official will not get too well acquainted with the coach and players of any one team.

WE HAVE NEVER questioned the honesty of any official but we do know some men have faster reaction time than others, use better judgment, are more consistent in their decisions, are more courteous, and by their manner give everyone more confidence in their ability, than do others. From our own observation we would say high school officiating we have seen this fall has all been high class. We hope we never allow the outcome of a game to color our opinion of an official. Complaints about officials from fans are expected and are often based on lack of knowledge of the game.

Coaches and players should be more tolerant because they know the problems involved and realize the mistakes they themselves made which contributed to the defeat.

The best policy for a school to follow in dealing with officials who are not up to par in the qualities we have previously mentioned, is to write them off the list for the next season and let it go at that.

WE MENTIONED a week ago that the new setup in the Northwest Conference had made for more even competition. Scores of Antioch 7 Round Lake 6, Grant 7 Ela 0, and Warren 6 Grayslake 6, among last week's results, would seem to bear out that observation. Lake Forest, winner by decisive margins over the 3 weakest teams in the league, will get the first real test Saturday at Warren's homecoming.

Last spring we picked Lake Forest to win football and Warren basketball as newcomers to the league.

Jay Hook of Grayslake who signed a bonus contract with the Cincinnati Reds for more than $65,000 is back in the news again. Jay is engaged to be married December 21 to Joan Hoos of Evanston, Northwestern's beautiful brunette homecoming queen of 1956. The bride-to-be was also fur princess of Chicago in 1954 and queen of Evanston's Fourth of July celebration in 1956. It is a big year for the Northwestern university athlete who gave up competition in his senior year for a chance in major league baseball.

Arlington Sophs Stave Off Late Hinsdale Rally to Win

Arlington's frosh-soph 11 ran up an 18 point lead and survived a late Hinsdale rally to whip the visiting Imps 18-12 Friday night.

THE WIN was the fourth in a row for the locals, who now sport a 3-0 record in conference play.

The Birdies scored in each of the first 3 quarters before the visitors decided to make an issue of the outcome. There were still 4:25 remaining to play when Hinsdale put across its second TD.

Arlington, however, prevented further injury by beginning a drive of their own. The clock ran out with the locals owning the ball on the Hinsdale 17.

IT TOOK THE young Cards only 8 minutes to score their first touchdown as they took the opening kickoff and moved 72 yards on 14 plays. The score came on a 16 yard pass from quarterback George Bork to Mike Dundy.

Consistent running by Mike Dundy and a 20 yard spurt by fullback Bruce Fichte set up the touchdown play.

BOB DAHLQUIST'S interception of a Hinsdale pass gave coach Bill Beckman's boys the ball on the Hinsdale 46. After Fichte gave the locals a first down on the 35, the ground game bogged. Quarterback Bork went to the air with end Rickey Johnston his capable receiver.

After 2 plays lost 6 yards Bork hit Johnston with a 16 yarder good for a first down on the 23. Faced with a fourth down, 8 yards to go, situation, the Bork-Johnston combination again clicked for a first down on the 12.

Dundy went to the 2 and Bork went over for the tally. A pass attempt for the extra point was incomplete with 1:54 to play in the half.

ARLINGTON'S final score came with less than 3 minutes elapsed in the third period. A Hinsdale fumble on the opening kickoff gave the locals the ball on the 25 yard line.

Again it was Fichte who sparked as he picked up 30 yards in 3 attempts to offset 2 5 yard penalties assessed against the Birdies. Bork again went over on a sneak from the one yard line.

BY THIS TIME the visiting Imps felt pretty well left out and decided to do something about it. Aided by a 15 yard Arlington penalty and a fourth down pass interference call, the Imps moved 75 yards on 15 plays.

Dutkovich went over from 6 yards out. The extra point plunge failed with 39 seconds remaining in the third period.

AFTER AN Arlington drive died on the Hinsdale 21, Imp halfback Simonini galloped 54 yards to the locals' 25. Two plays later Simonini again cut loose with a 23 yard sprint to the end zone. The conversion attempt failed and the final score was established at 18-12.

The winners gained 203 yards on the ground and 41 through the air for a net of 244 yards.

Hinsdale's attack was limited to the ground, where Imp backs picked up 175 yards.

BORK'S PASSING was accurate 3 times in 4 attempts while the visitors completed no passes in 4 throws and had 2 intercepted.

The Birdies had 16 first downs compared to Hinsdale's 10, but the men in the striped shirts walked off a total of 60 yards against Arlington, while the visitors went without penalty.

Card Harriers Trim Hinsdale

Arlington high school harriers copped another West Suburban conference meet Friday, trimming Hinsdale varsity 21-34 and disposing of the visiting frosh-sophs 18-38.

Once again it was Ken Courter leading the local varsity with a 9:40 performance followed by Ron Marks in 9:45. Alan Hutchinson finished third in 9:54, Bill Dodge fifth, John Anderson tenth and Ronald Schroeder eleventh.

Busch finished fourth for Hinsdale in 9:54, followed by Krueger 6th, Martin 7th, Hampson 8th and Riesen 9th.

FROSH SOPHS of Coach Bob Meissner had Dave Palmer 1st in 10:37, Mike Field 2nd in 10:44, Chuck Phelan 4th in 10:52, Bob Johnson 5th in 11.01, John Newhard 6th, Ken Anderson 10th.

For the visitors it was Erion 3rd in 10:47, Meyer 7th, Morris 8th, Correll 9th and Ballnow 11th.

Hinsdale Mauls Frosh 'A' Gridders

Freshman "A" gridders were snowed under by Hinsdale Monday, 54-6, with the young Cardinals scoring on a 75-yard dash by Bob Voigt after a pitchout in the fourth quarter. Tally was 54-0 at that point.

Hinsdale intercepted 2 Arlington passes, blocked a Heights punt, and recovered 2 Card fumbles. Young Imps also scored 4 times on end arounds, 3 times on passes and once on a double reverse.

Hinsdale rates its freshmen the best in the history of the school. They used double reverses and end runs almost at will, and tallied 13 points the first quarter, 27 the second, 17 the third and 7 the final frame.

Comp. Tickets For 'A' Men's Game

All major "A" winners from Arlington high school, past and present, are urged to contact athletic director Wally Grace by card or phone for complimentary tickets to the "A" men's game Oct. 18.

Opponent will be Downers Grove. All former winners of the award, managers as well as players, are invited. They can secure tickets by contacting Grace.

Michigan Host To Michigan State

One of football's oldest rivalries will be renewed this Saturday, Oct. 12, as Michigan State meets Michigan before 101,000 at Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor. It will be the 50th gridiron clash since 1898 for the ancient rivals.

Of the past 49 meetings between the 2 Michigan schools, the Wolverines hold a commanding lead with 35 wins, 11 losses and 1 tie game. However, since 1950 the Spartans have won 5 and lost 2, and last year MSU blanked the Wolverines, 9-0.

Michigan, which only lost Terry Barr from its 1956 backfield, probably will have Jim VanPelt at quarterback, Jim Pace at tailback, Mike Shatusky at right half, and John Herrnstein at fullback. (Sp

Card Harriers Trim Glenbrook

Arlington's varsity harriers tripped Glenbrook Tuesday, 18-53, with Ken Courter and Ron Marks finishing 1-2 for the Cardinals. Other finishers for Heights included Bob Taggart 4th, Alan Hutchinson 5th, George Luedke 6th, Ronald Schroeder 7th, Dave Palmer 8th and Bob Johnson 9th.

First 5 boys finishing for Glenbrook were Frye 3rd, Lutz 10th, Leger 12th, LOK 13th and Uknow 15th. (Sp

Gymnastics Attract 85 At Arlington

Eighty-five boys have reported to gymnastics coaches Gay Hughes and Rick Farris at Arlington high school, the greatest turnout in history, with more expected when football and cross country are over.

Coaches have lined up a full schedule of meets this year, and are pleased with the turnout thus far. There are 50 freshmen commuting from Prospect high school for afternoon workouts. There are also 15 sophomores working with them to complete the roster of 65 practicing for Coach Farris.

THE VARSITY has 20 juniors and seniors this year, about 7 more than last season when Coach Hughes was so short handed so many times. Actually, while the large turnout will mean better teams for Arlington, it will also mean a cut will have to be made in a couple of weeks to bring the squads down to a workable size.

Squads appear to have a lot of potential, with several freshmen looking particularly promising. Boys have been spending all of their time thus far regaining old routines.

Defense Biggest Problem For NU Against Minnesota

Northwestern's football team, which lost pre-conference tests to Stanford and Oregon State, will launch its Big Ten schedule against an old rival, Minnesota, at Dyche stadium Saturday (Oct. 12). It will be the second engagement for the Gophers who edged Purdue, 21 to 17, last Saturday.

The Wildcats will be seeking their first victory over the Gophers since 1951, when they triumphed, 21 to 7. The Gophers rolled up 4 victories in a row before being held to a scoreless tie at Minneapolis last year.

MINNESOTA will be out to avenge last year's deadlock that was a big factor in keeping the Gophers out of the Rose Bowl. In the overall series, dating from 1892, the Gophers hold a lead of 23 victories to 13 for the Wildcats. Four games have ended in ties.

Despite successive losses to two Pacific Coast conference teams, the Wildcats aren't overawed at the prospect of meeting the victory-flushed Gophers who routed Washington, 46-7, as a tuneup for their triumph over Purdue.

The Wildcats came up with a vastly improved performance over Oregon State last Saturday, after their disappointing showing against Stanford. Against the highly-rated Beavers, the Wildcats rallied for 2 touchdowns to trail, 15 to 13, going into the final period, when a costly 15-yard penalty set the stage for Oregon's clincher touchdown.

BIGGEST PROBLEM confronting the Wildcats as they prepare for the Gophers is defense, which has been vulnerable to both running and passing to date. In two games, opponents have rolled up 494 yards by rushing and 293 yards through the air.

Coach Ara Parseghian plans some intensive work this week on pass defense, which has been a major weakness thus far. Opponents have completed 19 out of 37 aerials, two of them for touchdowns.

Parseghian felt that Northwestern's attack improved greatly against Oregon State. He was pleased with the performances of several sophomores who sparked the Wildcats' rally, singling out quarterback John Talley, halfback Ron Burton, and end Fred Williamson for their play.

Illinois Off to Ohio State Big Ten Openers for Both

Coach Ray Eliot's Illini will add to one of the Big Ten's oldest continuous football rivalries when they meet Ohio State at Columbus Saturday. It will be the first conference test of the 1957 season for both teams.

Since 1914, the Illini and the Buckeyes have met every year. First game in the series was played in 1902 and ended in a scoreless tie. Illinois won the second, 46-0, in 1904, and the third 37-0, in 1914. But when the series became a yearly affair, Ohio State began to assert its power, and now has 26 victories to Illinois' 16. Three games have ended in ties.

MOST DRAMATIC game was the 0-0 deadlock at Columbus in 1951, featured by strong defensive play, pass interceptions, and fumbles. Two All-Americans--Vic Janowicz of Ohio State and John Karras of Illinois—spearheaded offensive play. The Buckeyes had two scoring opportunities in the second period but lost the ball on an Illini goal line stand and a fumble. Illinois dominated the ball in the second half, but still failed to capitalize on scoring chances.

The result was a moral victory for the hosts, but Illinois hurdled Northwestern the following Saturday to take the conference title and win a trip to the Rose Bowl.

IN 1953, in one of the most famous upsets of the series, an underdog Illini team ripped the Buckeyes 41-20 at Columbus, and earned a tie for the Big Ten title. Two unheralded sophomore backs, J. C. Caroline and Melvin (Mickey) Bates, playing their first conference game, virtually ran Ohio State to death.

aCroline and Bates scored 6 touchdowns, 3 of them in less than 14 minutes of the opening quarter. Still, it was not an easy victory. The Buckeyes came back strong in the second quarter, and the Illini lead at halftime was only 21-20. Turning point in the game came when John Bauer, huge Illinois guard, intercepted one of John Borton's passes and returned it to the Ohio State four. Four plays later Illinois led 28-20, and the Bucks never again threatened. (Sp

Notre Dame Renews Series With the Army

Notre Dame versus the Army! After a 10-year lapse, this longtime favorite among inter-sectional classics will be renewed next Saturday, Oct. 12, at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

Starting in 1913, way back when the late Knute Rockne captained the Irish, the 2 teams met every year, through 1947, with the exception of the wartime season of 1918. And although the Notre Damers scored most of the victories, with 23, as compared to 7 losses and 4 ties, it was a close series. This fact is substantiated in that 23 of the previous 34 games found the 2 teams 2 touchdowns or less apart at the finish. In 15 contests, 7 points or less was the margin of separation.

LAST GAME, in 1947, played at Notre Dame, will always be remembered in Notre Dame lore as the Terry Brennan game. Brennan, now the head coach of the Irish, ran back the opening kickoff 97 yards for a score, and also tallied a second touchdown later in the game as he paced Notre Dame to a 27-7 triumph.

The lone appearance of Notre Dame this season in the East will be at the Army game taking place in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, Oct. 12, and it is interesting that the Irish will probably present an entire starting backfield made up of Eastern youths.

Quarterback Bob Williams is from Wilkes Barre, Pa. Left half Aubrey Lewis comes from Montclair, N.J. Right half Dick Lynch now lives in Bound Brook, N.J., although he originally was from Clinton, N.J., and attended high school at Phillipsburg (N.J.) Catholic high. Fullback Nick Pietrosante is from Ansonia, Conn.

Trotters' Game

Abe Saperstein's famed Harlem Globetrotters will make an annual benefit appearance Wednesday, Oct. 16, at the Glenbrook high school gymnasium.

The Glenbrook Dad's Club is sponsoring the star-studded basketball attraction. Tickets are available from merchants in Glenview and Northbrook.

HOMECOMING QUEEN April Marn hands the game ball to Arlington grid captain Bob Creviston just before the Cardinals went out and whipped Hinsdale, 20-14.

Hildebrandt Saves the Game For Miami U.

Doug Hildebrandt of Palatine came up with a picture play to save a 13-7 football victory for the University of Miami as it upset favored Baylor last Saturday.

The junior end single handedly broke up Baylor's last scoring threat in the fourth period. The Bears had advanced to the Miami 32 when their brilliant quarterback, Dale Traylor, faded back to pass.

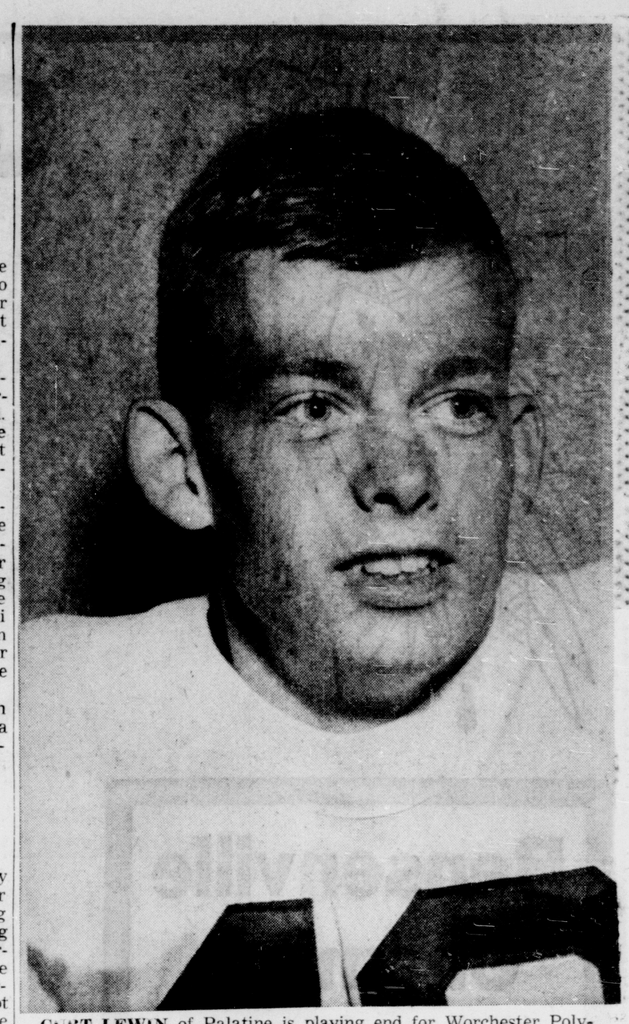
Doug broke through the Baylor protective cover, forced the quarterback to retreat and finally dumped him for a 17 year loss clear at midfield, forcing the Bears to punt. It was the last time they got into Miami territory and the only time in 32 tries that Miami was ever able to get the passer before he could get the ball away.

Miami faces another tough foe this week in North Carolina which last week upset Navy 13-7.

Northern Takes First in Victory

Northern Illinois University football coach Howard Fletcher had mixed emotions following Northern's narrow 27-20 opening win over Eastern Illinois Saturday. "They had us off balance with their single wing allatfernoon," said Fletcher. "We're not that bad defensively, but we were confused in the line several times."

Northern was out gained on the ground, 213 to 158 net yards, but threw the Eastern Panthers back for a yardage loss total of 65, compared to NIU" 34 yards lost rushing.



CURT LEWIN of Palatine is playing end for Worchester Polytechnic institute in Massachusetts this fall. It's a green team at Worcester, with only 3 seniors present. Curt is a freshman, will play Bates at Lewiston, Ma., this Saturday, Oct. 12.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Paint up - Fix up Time

The fact that your editor was out doing a repair job on the dog house this past weekend sort of brought to mind that right now is the time to make sure that if you house your dog in an outside run with a separate dog house you had better make ready for winter.

Those falling leaves are a good indication that old man winter will soon be here and it would be a good idea to check over the condition of outside runs and dog houses now with regards to having a place where the family hound can sleep without cold drafts coming at him from all sides. Most dogs can stand cold weather very well provided they have some sort of protection from icy blasts. If you use an outside dog house for your dogs remember that a deep bed of straw or some other such suitable material is just what is needed for the dogs to curl up in.

Also a good cleaning out of old straw and a new coat of paint can do wonders towards sprucing up the dog's living quarters. In the case of the dog editor's weekend project it even included a new roofing job plus a few boards that were in bad shape.

As an added thought, make a portable platform out of 2 by 4's with 1 by 6 top planking 2 or 3 feet square, depending on the size of your dog, which can be used out of doors for the dog to lie on. It comes in mighty handy when there is snow on the ground and yet the dog would like to take advantage of "sleepin' in the noon-day sun."

New Veterinarian

The increase in the population of the areas served by your paper has often been mentioned in this column and with it the need for additional veterinarians to help out with the overload which our fine veterinarians already located here are working under.

It is of pleasure to note, therefore, that a new arrival among our present animal hospitals is that of the North Suburban Animal hospital owned by Dr. Ian W. Taylor.

Dr. Taylor's office is located at 769 S. Milwaukee ave., Wheeling, where he is becoming well established among people in that area.

Coon Hunting

Writing about veterinarians brings to mind something about human beings and their own health problems.

Not long ago someone came up with the idea that if you can't sleep at night because of business worries or a job that has no action try coon hunting. A night spent in chasing coon will whisk away insomnia and cares faster than any night cap.

Those once initiated into the coon hunting fraternity can understand why hours of tramping in all kinds of weather are cheerfully endured in the hope of finding a ringtail up a tree.

Except for the initial investment in a good coon dog and some stout boots, there is little expense attached to the sport. There is nothing fancy about hunting with coon dogs and coon hunting in itself is teaching an increasing number of Americans to learn to appreciate the outdoors.

Barks and Bays

To settle an argument which has often come to the editor's attention — dogs of the spaniel type were first to be used widely for bird hunting. And speaking of bird hunting — it won't be long fellows. Is your gun ready and all that goes with it? Above all — is your dog ready? (Sp

Dog Show Sunday At Northbrook

Skokie Valley Kennel club show will be held Sunday, Oct. 13, at Northbrook Youth Center park, Shermer rd. and Walters ave., Northbrook. Judging will begin at 9 a.m. with variety group judging at 3 p.m.

Show chairman, Miss Louise Hofmeister of Oak Park reports that there are 522 entries with the majority of breeds rpresented. Included will be 69 german shepherds and 34 great danes. The Western English Setter club will consider the classes at this show as its specialty show.

Mrs. Dorothy Cory, Rand rd., Arlington Heights, is show secretary and may be contacted for further information. David W. Terrill, Palatine, will "MC" the afternoon activities. (Sp

At Shimer

Kay Bohnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohnert, 325 Landmeier rd., Elk Grove Village, has enrolled as a freshman at Shimer college, Mt. Carroll, Ill.

She found orientation week on campus a busy round of placement tests and social activities. The tests are designed to determine the level at which Shimer students should begin their college work. If a student demonstrates college-level mastery of a subject on his placement test, that subject is eliminated from the requirements for a degree.

The social activities during that week helped the new students become acquainted with the staff, fellow freshmen and with the traditions of the 105-year-old liberal arts college. (CC

Social Security Limits Explained

Of the 1,114 social security inquiries made by northwest area residents this month, one most frequently asked was about the amount a beneficiary may earn and still receive his benefit checks, according to Social Security Northwest District Manager Julius Berman.

Berman explained that the purpose of social security payments is to replace, in part, earnings lost because of the death or retirement of a worker.

An "earnings test" is used to determine whether a person can be considered "retired." If he does not earn more than $1200 in a calendar year he can receive social security benefits for all months.

IF A BENEFICIARY earns over $1200, however, one month's benefit will not be payable for every $80 (or fraction of $80) in earnings over the $1200. Assuming the beneficiary works steadily throughout the year, no benefits would be payable if he earned over $2080.

A modification of the above rule allows an employee to receive benefits for any month in which he does not earn over $80, no matter what his earnings for the year may total. A self-employed person may collect benefits for any month in which he does not render substantial services in his business.

THE "EARNINGS TEST" applies only to people who are under 72 years of age. Beginning with the month a person reaches 72 he can collect social security benefits regardless of his earnings. The earnings during the entire year he becomes 72, however, are used in determining whether he can receive benefits for the months before his 72nd birthday.

In computing earnings, special payments such as bonuses, commissions, and vacation pay must be added to regular wages. Some types of income such as interest, dividends, annuities and pensions are not considered earnings.

Berman suggests that anyone who has questions about social security contact the district office at 4255 N. Milwaukee ave., Chicago 41, Illinois or telephone KIldare 5-8844. (BB

Gas Co. Opens New Meter Shop

Northern Illinois Gas company officially opened its new $500,000 meter shop in LaGrange October 2 where the latest methods and modern equipment help assure the accuracy of the more than 600,000 meters now being used by the utility's customers.

The new 20,000 square foot meter shop and office replaced outmoded quarters in Oak Park and Aurora. Its construction was prompted by the steady increase in the number of customers in Northern Illinois Gas company's 20-county territory the past few years which the utility predicts may exceed 750,000 by 1965.

CONSIDERED ONE of the most modern in design, the new meter shop features a conveyer system to carry meters through various operations with a minimum of lost motion. Planned to meet future needs, the new shop will permit processing of over 175,000 meters annually.

The Illinois Commerce Commission requires that all gas meters be shop checked at least once every ten years which means between 60,000 and 70,000 must be removed from customers' premises annually by Northern Illinois Gas at the present time and replaced with meters that have met rigid requirements. In addition, about 40,000 new meters purchased each year by the company are tested in the shop before being placed in service.

Meters brought in after removal from service are cleaned, tested for accuracy and repainted before they are ready for use again. Records indicate that most meters brought in for test after 10 years' service check amazingly true. (BB

BUSINESS BRIEFS

A. J. Knippel National Director for Heccostat

A. J. Knipel of Wood Dale has been appointed national sales director for HeccoStat Paper, a new product just introduced on the market by Hunter Photo-Copyist, Inc.

A member of the Hunter firm since 1955, Knippel has worked 29 years in the copy-reproduction field. He began his career as a photostat operator, and continued for 13 years in the production end, handling jobs also in commercial photography and offset printing. He later served in managerial capacityf or both the Rapid Copy Service Company and Atlas Photo-Copy Company.

BEFORE JOINING the Hunter firm, Mr. Knippel was associated with the Haloid company in Pittsburgh, Pa., and the Reproduction Products Company in Chicago. He is the author of "Modern Training of the Photocopy Operator," published recently by the international Association of Blue Print and Allied Industries.

In his new position, Knippel will take charge of the nationwide sales of HeccoStat Papers, which are projection speed materials especially designed by Hunter for use in standard "stat" cameras.

Knippel will work out of Hunter's Chicago office. (BB

Bittner Elected To Gas Position

Victor F. Bittner, of Mt. Prospect, assistant chief technical engineer, The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, Chicago, was elected chairman of the operating section of the American Gas association Tuesday at the 39th annual AGA convention.

The American Gas association is the national trade association of the $19 billion gas industry. Its 8,000 members throughout the world include the leading gas utilities, pipeline companies, and gas appliance and equipment manufacturers in the United States and Canada. The 3-day convention, which concludes morrow, is being attended by more than 4,000 delegates from nearly every state in the nation.

THE OPERATING section is responsible for all matters pertaining to the production, gathering, manufacturing, transmitting and distribution of gas and its by-products in behalf of the industry.

Bittner was graduated from the engineering school of the University of Wisconsin in 1923. He joined The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company immediately and from 1926 has served with the engineering department. He is married, and resides at 300 W. Milburn ave., Mt. Prospect.

Active in gas industry affairs for many years, he has served as the chairman of the AG distribution committee in 1951, and has served on various distribution design and Development committees. He has been a member of the safety committee and assisted in drafting and developing the American Standards association code on gas transmission and distribution piping system. (BB

Meter Division Manager At Sun Electric Corp.

A. E. Weill, 205 E. Berkshire lane, Mt. Prospect, has been named general manager of the meter division, Sun Electric corporation, Chicago, according to an announcement by R. R. Malik, company president.

He will head the sales, engineering and production of this rapidly expanding division, organized as a wartime necessity in 1943 to provide a source of meter supply for Sun's automotive equipment. The meter division comprises one of the most modern and complete meter manufacturing facilities in the country, with its products finding hundreds of industrial and military uses.

Weill has been associated with the meter division almost from its inception and brings to his new appointment a wealth of experience and familiarity with all phases of the meter industry.

School Lunch Applications At New High

County Superintendent of Schools Noble J. Puffer announced this week that the largest number of applications for the school lunch program has been received in his office since the beginning of the program.

Last year, 1,173 applications were received and $2,898,559.32 was paid for these claims.

THIS YEAR, 1,235 separate applications have been received, including 283 to suburban school districts (including PTA's).

Puffer said that he believed more than $3,000,000 would be paid out this school year on the basis of the increased number of applications. No state funds are involved in these payments since all money comes from the federal government. (B8

Magazine Cites Area Subdivider

An Arlington Heights home builder won national recognition this week when Newsweek magazined described his activities here and elsewhere in the Midwest.

Donald L. Huber, 25-year-old board chairman of Hasbrook Construction Co., Inc., was called an "elder statesman of the industry" by the October 7 issue of the magazine.

Huber is now building 532 homes in Arlington Heights. Since he started in the business at age 15, he has built more than 4,000 homes in Dayton and Columbus, Ohio. He plans 1,500 homes for Indianapolis. Expansion in other cities is expected.

NEWSWEEK CITED Huber's community responsibility thinking. Wherever he builds, the magazine said, "he will alert community officials to the problems of a mass building project, and appoint a local man as builder." The parties then try to solve the problems together.

One aspect of Huber's operations is at odds with his thinking. His houses, the magazine said, are "built for permanence."

What's wrong with building a house to last? "It breeds slums," Huber said. "A house should be torn down after it is 50 or 60 years old." (BB

The Mailman's Corner

Walking Can Be Very Beneficial

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Most of us depend too much on transportation and are not acquainted with the importance of walking.

Doctors will tell you that walking will keep your heart in good shape, your lungs working well, and roll the fat off your stomach, blood vessels, kidneys and liver. With that in mind, it is surprising that we prefer to go to the doctor instead of going for a walk.

IF THAT WERE all that walking can do for you, it should be enough to make a habitual evening or morning walk worth while; but you get a bonus in addition to a boost in health.

You get a chance to look at flowers blooming along the wayside, or in the yards of people's homes which you pass. You will note with pleasure and a lifting of the spirits, the lazy white clouds drifting overhead like sailing vessels in a sea of blue. You will see squirrels frolicking in the trees, a rabbit setting poised, ready to run, birds busy with their domestic duties, children playing.

You will commence to be in tune with your town, your countryside, and it will be a good feeling.

Or if you are in a thoughtful mood, you will find that thoughts come easier, ideas are clearer, as the exercise of walking pumps the blood into your brain, and the problems you once thought insurmountable will be answered for you.

WHEREVER YOU walk, if you look, you will find plenty to see and think about, and not a little to marvel over. Your appetite will be better and when you go to bed, your body will relax, your mind clear itself of the day's tensions, and you will sleep soundly all night to awaken to a new day with a new zest, ready to do a day's work, perhaps even looking forward to it.

Such are some of the benefits of walking; so next time you need a loaf of bread, or feel a little loggy, or can't sleep at night, try a good brisk 2 mile hike. It'll do wonders for you.

"The Northwest Suburban Real Estate Clearing House"

by FRED GAREISS

If you've been tinkering around with the idea of getting a smaller camera—or better— if you're on the verge of getting any camera —35 mm photography is for you. It's the biggest package of value, photographic and economic, ever wrapped up in a pocketsize carrying case.

The miniature camera, which is generally considered the 35 mm, in any of it's current 150 models is the "dream camera" for many photographers, because with it you can take pictures and loads of them, just about anywhe r e, anytime and at the lowest cost. It's a camera that really goes places——over the shoulder, in a pocket or a knapsack.

MANY FAMILIES own two 35 mm cameras, not a "his' 'and "hers," but one for color slides and one for black and white work. Such an arrangement is usually just a luxury of convenience, since any 35 mm camera uses either color or black and white film in regular film cartridges. Individual features of each camera distinguish it for the kind of photographer you are and t h e type of pictures you will probably make.

Just about every type of hand-held camera ever developed has its counterpart in a camera which uses 35 mm film. All 35 mm cameras owe their existence to t h e sprocketed movie film whose adaption to still photography after World War I permitted mass-produced miniature cameras.

TO THE BEGINNER, all the knobs and buttons protruding from a 35 mm camera often look difficult and too complicated t o operate. This is because on a small camera body all the controls must be located close to one another, often giving the impression that the instrument is intended only for those highly skilled in the use of very complex gadgets——those who like to tinker.

This is definitely not true. A 35 mm camera contains no more controls than other cameras, and their operation is no more complicated than that of the larger cameras. Without a doubt 35 mm photography is for anyone five years old and beyond who loves the excitement of picture-taking. So if you're looking for a camera, investigate the miniature.

IN ORDER to help you decide if 35 mm photography is for you, with my next column I will start a series of answers to the questions most asked of photographers by camera buyers.

Which camera you choose is up to you, but the information should help you to decide. (B12

Honorable Discharge

William A. King, Radarman third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. William King, 1230 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, and husband of Mrs. William A. King of Norfolk, Va., has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Navy attached to the U. S. Naval receiving station, Norfolk, Va., commanded by Capt. J. C. G. Wilson, USN.

The receiving station processes approximately 8,000 men a month on their way to and from naval activities all over the world.

At Fort Gordon

Pvt. Roger A. Niemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Niemeyer, Palatine, recently was graduated from the 10-week power equipment maintenance course at the Army's Southeastern Signal school, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The course trained Niemeyer in the installation, operation and service of motor driven power equipment.

Niemeyer entered the army in April 1957 and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. He was graduated from Palatine high school in 1954 and was employed by the Jewel Food store before entering the army. His wife, Diane, lives in Augusta, Ga.

At Fort Harrison

Second Lt. Ray G. Mair, 25, son of William H. Mair, 332 N. Benton st., Palatine, is attending the officer basic course at the Army's Finance School, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

The 14-week course provides elementary training for Finance corps officers and is a career requirement for all officers with finance or comptroller assignments.

Lt. Mair, whose wife, Juniet, is with him at Fort Harrison, is a 1955 graduate of Northwestern university and a member of Alpha Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

At Amarillo

AB John A. Stanton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stanton, 301 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, is now stationed at Amarillo air force base, Amarillo, Texas, for an 18-week course in air frame repair.

Stanton enlisted in the air force July 24 and completed 4 weeks of basic training at Lackland air force base, Texas. (WUS

At Fort Leonard Wood

Army Pvt. Frank P. Bacci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy J. Bacci, 1 N. Owen, Mt. Prospect, recently qualified as an expert with the M-1 rifle at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Bacci is receiving basic combat training at the fort, during the first phase of 6 months active duty under the Reserve Forces act program.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Northern university and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He was formerly a chemist with the J. T. Baker Chemical company, Phillipsburg, N. J. (WUS

On USS Liddle

Naval Reserve Lt. Irvin M. Slepicka Jr., son of Mrs. Mabelle Slepicka of 549 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, and husband of the former Miss Lorraine J. Pihl of Harvard, Ill., aboard the high speed transport USS Liddle, returned to New Orleans, La., September 27 after completing a 2-week naval reserve cruise in the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean sea.

During the 14-day cruise, the reservists participated in anti-submarine warfare operations, and surface and anti-aircraft gunnery exercises.

A weekend recreational visit was made to Coco Solo, Canal Zone. (WUS

Lee, a machine accounting specialist with the 7th Machine Records Unit at the fort, entered the Army in September 1956 and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 23-year-old soldier was formerly a machine accounting clerk with the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Co., Chicago. He is a 1955 graduate of Northwestern university and a member of Delta Sigma Pi fraternity. (WUS

At Fort Leonard Wood

Two local men are receiving 8 weeks of basic combat training under the Reserve Forces act program at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Pvt. James M. Henderson, son of the James O. Hendersons, 707 See Gwun, Mt. Prospect, and Pvt. DeElton P. Gregory, son of the Howard D. Gregorys, 1301 N. Rand rd., Arlington Heights, are both 1957 graduates of Arlington High school. (WUS

At Ft. Benjamin Harrison

Army Sgt. Harold K. Flade, son of Mrs. Madlyn Flade, 505 N. Maple, Prospect Heights, recently was named Post Soldier-of-the-Month at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

An instructor in the Adjutant Generals school, Sgt. Flade was selected for his soldierly appearance, knowledge of duties and military courtesy.

The sergeant entered the army in 1947 and is a 1946 graduate of Foreman high school, Chicago.

His wife, Erna, lives in Indianapolis. (WUS

Lutheran General Hospital Trustees Approve Plans

Lutheran General hospital trustees at their annual meeting September 26 approved revised architect's plans to increase the initial construction of the new hospital to 326 beds, according to N. M. Nesset, board president.

Ground will be broken this fall. Construction will begin at an early date and the 326 bed hospital is scheduled to be completed and open to serve the entire northwest suburbs by the fall of 1959.

ARCHITECT'S PLANS provide for a further expansion to 450 beds with additional operating rooms and laboratories. The entire hospital will be air-conditioned.

Construction costs of the 326 bed hospital and the school of nursing for 100 student nurses total $5,900,000. Five million dollars is now assured. The balance is being raised from residents, corporations and interested area doctors who have not yet contributed.

HILL-BURTON federal funds for $1,375,000 have been alloted and set aside for Lutheran General hospital. The Ford foundation gift of $96,000 has been received. Lutheran Deaconess hospital financing of $2,279,000 has been arranged. Contributions of $1,250,000 will finance the balance of the initial $5,000,000 program.

Residential committees of Park Ridge and Des Plaines have agreed to obtain contributions of approximately $100,000 from several thousand residents in those 2 communities who have not yet contributed. This will bring the public contributions to the initial $1,250,000 mark. (B8

Greek Orthodox Rites Sunday

Letters from Our Readers

The Fence Post

Letters to the Fence Post must be short and concise. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld from publication on request. Letters must be addressed to The Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Stands Up to Be Counted

A letter in this column commenting on suburban reaction to the violence at Little Rock recently questioned whether the same "high moral tone" would prevail here if Negroes began to move into the northwest suburbs.

This is a thought-provoking question, for that day will surely come. Let us hope we have the foresight to prepare for it in time with a good community-wide human relations program.

One always hopes for neighbors who are friendly, public spirited and of high character. Any family approximating this description should be welcome anywhere.

I wish to be counted among those who would welcome such a family, even if Negro, to Arlington Heights.

Double Parking and Porridge Pots

There is no Bughouse Square in the center of Palatine, so once more my troubles will have to be aired in the Fence Post. I only hope the women in question as well as the police force of our town will somehow see this article.

My vexation is the double parking situation along Railroad ave. and Slade st. which I have run into a number of times.

The women have all left their "porridge pots" to dash to the station to meet the evening special, the 5:57. They invariably start to double and triple park along Railroad ave. I happened to be parked the other night in a parking space along Railroad ave., having done some last minute shopping in town, but could not move my car as I was blocked. Oh, to have been a police woman in disguise!

After blowing my horn, the woman who was blocking my way looked at me, lighted a cigarette, and sat there. But then, what could she do—there were 5 cars bumper to bumper in front of her and 3 behind. So I sat there and waited for the 5:57. Four more minutes to go; let my "porridge" burn.

Finally the train is coming it—engines are started up—motors are raced. The 5:57 pulls in, and the show begins.

The "city leagues" begin to disembark. They wander around, say hi to fellow friends, look for "the" car and then walk at a leisurely pace to the car. I will admit a few made some mad dashes, but alas, they didn't belong to the cars behind me.

Maybe the village of Palatine cannot afford extra police at this time (though the police car was parked on the opposite side of the station probably unaware of what was going on at this side), but I will volunteer my services to keep double parkers on the move.

The town seems to always be looking for revenue and it could certainly collect a lot more in parking tickets than it does from the quarter parking meters in the commuter lot.

One last word to the women in question: Are you really that much in a hurry? Couldn't you park your car correctly and wait? So there isn't a space just where hubby gets off. Can't he stretch those legs for a block or two?

This is the end of my problem, but someday it may be yours—if nothing is done.

P. S. My "porridge" didn't burn—did yours?

Urges Brakes on School Spending

We have been hearing a lot of hue and cry about the need for more schools in Roselle. I would like to bring up a few points along these lines that the school board might not have given enough consideration to:

1. Roselle has the highest taxes in the county. Why not reduce some of the heavy debt we are already burdened with before assuming further obligations?

2. Are the schools really too crowded? According to a sign in a Roselle store, there are 20 teachers; and according to the school board, there are 481 students. It seems to me that figures out to an average of 24 pupils per teacher.

3. Are teachers of today unable to cope with a class of 30 or 35? When I went to school, there were 40 or 50 in the classes I attended.

4. If kindergarten were discontinued, wouldn't that add a classroom?

5. The gym could be divided into 6 or 8 classrooms at a fraction of what the addition would cost.

6. Can't the school board show more cooperation with the people? No one, least of all me, would be miserly when it comes to education. The school board has problems and the public has always stood behind them and voted them money when it was needed.

Let the school board show as much consideration now as they were given in the past. We are now paying off a grammar school. Our real estate taxes are 2 or 3 times more than our income taxes. Give us a chance to digest what we already have before we take another bite.

Clarifying School Expense

In the September 26 issue of the Arlington Heights Herald, a letter appeared in the Fence Post regarding the recent $350,000 bond issue of District 25.

This bond issue was approved by the voters on June 8, 1957, for the purpose of constructing a completely new 7-room building on the Miner School site and for the construction of a 4-room addition and a multi-purpose room at the Ridge School. In addition to the construction of the building, bond issues are expected to provide for the required site and street development, movable equipment, and architectural and engineering fees.

In calculating costs per classroom, the multi-purpose room at the Ridge school should be charged against the cost of the complete Ridge school. The new 7-room school (to be referred to as the Windsor school) is the first unit of a new lower grade building and will include heating and other service facilities for the size the building will ultimately reach.

R. L. Johnston, President
Board of Education

School Board Sometimes Tempted

Many thanks to the board members of school district 12, and to Thomas H. Mayhew, superintendent of schools, for their excellent planning of class schedules and use of existing space in the Roselle schools.

School boards are sometimes tempted to disband kindergartens and place students on split shifts to emphasize the pressures of increased enrollment when they have seen a proposed bond issue defeated as happened in Roselle last January. It is to the credit of our school leaders that they did not do so when another bond issue is pending.

Perhaps these sacrifices will prove necessary as enrollment increases further. It is important that parents and citizens interested in education do not impose these sacrifices on the children of the community by failing to realize the importance of acquiring classroom space as it is needed.

Suburban Dilemma Discussed

Understanding Is Goal of Clinic

IN HIS WELCOMING ADDRESS, Stuart R. Paddock, president of Paddock Publications, praised suburban newcomers for their keen interest in community problems.

Stuart R. Paddock, president of Paddock Publications, paid tribute Saturday to the 300 suburbanites who attended the first Suburban Problems Clinic.

"Your presence demonstrates your interest in 3 of the most important problems facing us today—welfare of schools, juvenile delinquency, and city and rural planning," he declared. "These problems have been with us a long time. It was our belief that an area-wide discussion of them would be helpful, that resulted in this clinic."

EXPLAINING that suggested remedies can succeed only with the cooperation of the whole community, Paddock said: "If the discussion today brings about better understanding, the clinic will have been worthwhile."

In citing the purpose behind the establishment of the clinic, Paddock said newspaper readers "all too frequently receive a small picture of community problems. Scare headlines and succinct news stories don't always reveal the basic facts of the many area-wide problems which face our suburban communities.

"We think every newspaper has a community service responsibility to fulfill. Thus Paddock Publications welcomes the opportunity to sponsor this clinic."

STATING THAT the population of the area has more than doubled since 1952, Paddock said serious community problems accompanied this growth.

"It is the newcomer who is asking the "why" questions. Too often, old timers are not ready to give the answers. It is usually the newcomer who is demanding remedial action; they are the ones who are asking public officials to find the right answers. It will take all of us working together to accomplish those things which will make our communities worthy of the coming generation," he concluded.

Paddock said response to the first clinic was so favorable that it will become an annual community service project of the publications.

Area Must Share Growth Problems

CHICAGO'S COMMISSIONER of planning, Ira J. Bach, assured suburbanites that Mayor Daley has "no designs" on the region.

All communities in the expanding Chicago metropolitan region must share in the problems of growth as well as the privileges.

That was the message which Ira J. Bach, Chicago's commissioner of planning, brought to nearly 300 village leaders and civic representatives at the Suburban Problems Clinic luncheon.

Describing the metropolitan region's boundaries as encompassing Zion, Elgin, Aurora, Joliet, and Michigan City, Bach said the entire area experiences a common inter-dependence because it shares the same economic base.

AMONG PRIVILEGES which he said the region enjoyed were full employment, a great labor force, industrial growth and expansion, and the cultural and educational benefits which only a metropolitan center can provide.

He pointed out, for example, that Chicago's industrial expansion alone was greater than the combined industrial plants of Cleveland and Los Angeles.

But the region must share the problems of growth as well, he declared, pointing out that the metropolitan area will be bursting at the seams by 1980 with an estimated population of 8 million.

"THIS CREATES enormous problems," said the planner. "Schools, housing, technique of land use planning, all are important in the development of the region. What goes on in 1 locality affects all the others."

He explained that among problems which must be shared are those involving transportation, security, drainage, and health.

Bach cited the Chicago Area Traffic study now under way as an example of what regional survey and planning can accomplish. The study is seeking answers to better modes of transportation, better routes, and better ways of highway development.

THE RECENTLY-ORGANIZED Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning commission, authorized by the state legislature, is now being financed by state, county, and city funds until 1959 when permanent means for financing will have to be found, explained Bach.

He pointed out that this group can only advise and use persuasion.

"This is not easy since many communities guard their autonomy with great zeal," he added. "There is a general suspicion that the central city will annex the whole area before the commission's work is over."

But he insisted that if the commission accomplishes nothing more than the acquisition of mutual knowledge and mutual respect for municipal problems, then it will have "accomplished the mandate of the legislature."

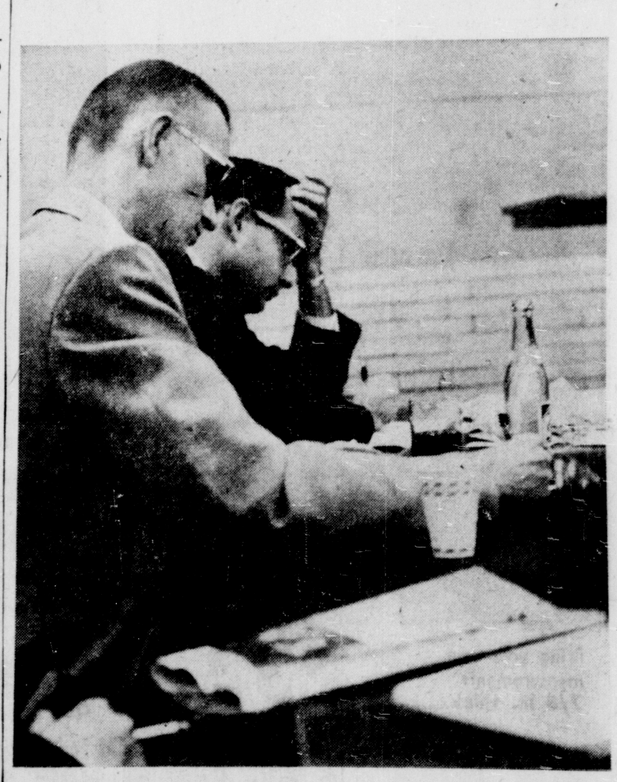
IN ANSWER to a question from the floor, Bach said that various techniques of metropolitan planning and government are now being studied. Among plans under consideration are those now in effect in Denver, where city and county government were consolidated; Miami and Toronto, where a metropolitan authority was set up; and New York, where a 3-state regional body has met with some success.

A question suggesting that Chicago may try to control suburbs by regulating the water supply brought this retort from Bach:

"Speaking for Mayor Daley, I know he has no designs on the region. Mayor Daley feels that only time will solve the problems."



CONCENTRATING on a discussion of juvenile delinquency are Tom Brennan (left) and Charles Hayes, co-chairmen of the Suburban Problems Clinic.

Cooperation Called Key To Solving School Crisis

RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITIES can no longer carry the full burden for providing good schooling, warned this panel comprised by Jack W. Norris, superintendent of Wheeling school district 21; Albert F. Riley, president of Hasbrook Construction co.; County School Superintendent Noble J. Puffer; Vincent Nunamaker, Elk Grove school district 59; and William I. Casteel, board of education, Wilson school district 24.

Problems facing suburban schools today can best be solved by cooperation of public officials, parents and builders.

Discussion of 3 major school questions at last Saturday's suburban problems clinic ultimately led to this conclusion.

The need for legislative action was frequently mentioned.

Topics considered by a panel led by Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools, were the school building crisis, school operating crisis, and consolidation as a possible solution.

A strictly home-owning community cannot carry the burden of providing good school facilities based on the present tax structure, where 1/3 of the wealth of the state, as represented by real estate and personal property, shoulders the load.

An average of 80 per cent of school costs is paid by local taxes and 20 per cent by state aid.

Introduction of industry into a community helps ease the burden, Puffer pointed out.

BUT THE IMPACT of large housing developments can only be cushioned by voluntary cooperation of the builder. Unless there is some enabling legislation, there is no legal responsibility on a subdivider to provide for good schools.

Help must be voluntary, but such aid is good salesmanship.

Panel members related their success in working with builders.

Wheeling school district 21 is getting better local support from subdividers, who are now agreeing to help on a voluntary basis, according to Jack W. Norris, superintendent.

Vincent Nunamaker, who led a group of home owners in a successful battle to have developers contribute toward Elk Grove school district 59, said contractors now come to the school board to discuss problems instead of the board going to them. It is the responsibility of the people who live in the area to become civic-minded, he said.

WILSON SCHOOL district 24 has kept ahead of the problem because of the cooperation of the people, public officials and the 3 major builders, William I. Casteel, a board member told the audience.

The smaller the school district, the greater the effects of a large project, he said.

Speaking for the builders, Albert F. Riley, president of Hasbrook Construction co., said the builder's life is a tough one. It is the most regulated of any industry except atomic energy. "A builder cannot go out ahead of financial resources regardless of personal desire," he continued.

HE REFERRED to limits placed by FHA, which does not provide for any contributions regardless of merit. Contributions to schools must be made up by efficiencies in operation. Eventually they are passed on to the buyer, since "builders are not philanthropic."

Riley suggested school boards adopt good management policies used in business. His firm encourages legislative action to correct such problems as the long wait, as much as 18 months, before tax money is collected on a new home. New England has remedied this. Indiana permits schools to arrange financing of new buildings in anticipation of taxes.

He has suggested to the National Association of Home Builders a state or federal agency similar to FHA to guarantee investments of this nature.

MARKET RESEARCH predicts with reasonable certainty future growth of a community, he stated, and school boards could plan sites in advance and take long options at low cost before land values increase.

Puffer pointed out new legislation which permits a school board to select sites without referendum makes this feasible.

Rejection of tax rate increases was called the number 1 problem of the future.

GOOD SCHOOL buildings are "silly" without adequate operating funds, Puffer said. He referred to what Norris termed "not an organized revolt but a silent and sullen resentment to taxes and government."

School officials must do a good job telling their needs through the press and community organizations, Puffer commented. "People are investing in education and getting a dollar's value for each dollar invested," he said.

Either increased state aid or industry must help carry this burden.

Solution for smaller districts may lie in consolidation. Large districts can find economies in operation not possible to small districts.

PUFFER SAID 45 per cent of the state is now organized in unit districts, that is, grades 1 through 12 under 1 school board. However, this allows only 5 per cent bonding power, not enough to build new schools needed in the fast-growing suburban area. Organization under the separate high school and grade school system allows each district 5 per cent bonding power.

Three small school districts formed Wheeling consolidated district, and all of Palatine township is consolidated with the exception of 1 rural district.

The question is whether larger districts are interested in picking up responsibilities of less fortunate districts that adjoin them.

Further consolidation must come out of study and action groups.

THEODORE LAMS, village president of Mt. Prospect, suggested a new idea for distributing tax money from industry.

"If legally feasible," he said, "it would seem equitable to distribute all industrial tax income for schools on a basis similar to motor fuel taxes on a county-wide basis, perhaps excluding Chicago.

"Total allotment of taxes for schools only would be distributed on the basis of actual enrollment.

"In this manner all school districts would share alike with no one district having an advantage over the other due to a preponderance of industry in a given district."

IN ANSWER to questions posed by the audience panel members stated:

—Only through legislation can other sources of revenue be provided.

—Voluntary agreements between builders and school officials will not be affected by an adverse decision in the Park Ridge case, which challenges the legality of an ordinance requiring contributions from builders.

—Assessed valuation of new homes can be raised by working with the assessor.

—Operation of schools on a 12-month basis to make full use of facilities has been abandoned in all cases where it has been tried out, difficulties of synchronizing vacations, steady enrollment, additional staff and building economies proving too great.

—Trailer camp owners are yielding to persuasion by school boards and cooperating by adding a fee for each child to their rental rates. The assessor lists a trailer as personal property, but collection of the tax is difficult.

—A bill introduced in the legislature to make a survey of redistricting schools was passed by both House and Senate but vetoed by Governor Stratton.

Here's Summary Of Clinic Panels

Here are the major conclusions of the first Suburban Problems Clinic:

SCHOOL PROBLEMS—

1. A strictly residential community cannot carry the full burden of providing good school facilities based on the present tax structure.
2. The impact of large housing developments can be cushioned only with voluntary builder cooperation.
3. Builder contributions to school districts must be passed on to the home buyer.
4. Voter rejection of tax rate increases is the chief problem for the future.
5. School officials must do a better job of telling their story to the community.
6. Either increased state aid or suitable industry must help carry the growing burden.
7. Solution for smaller districts may lie in consolidation with larger districts.
8. Voluntary agreements between builders and school officials will not be affected by an adverse decision in the Park Ridge case.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

1. Juvenile delinquency will continue to be a major problem in rapidly expanding suburban areas.
2. The solution to juvenile delinquency lies in the capacity of schools, churches, community groups, and parents to meet the challenge on a community level rather than to rely on police discipline or detention.
3. The community must recognize the symptoms of delinquency and act upon them before the problem reaches a crisis state.
4. Parents should take more interest in teenagers and exercise closer supervision and guidance.
5. Parents should place more restrictions on use of the family car as well as make sure they know where the teen is taking the car and with whom.

ZONING AND PLANNING—

1. There must be better communication between zoners, property owners, village attorneys, trustees, and plan commissions if we are to get better defined plans.
2. Although there is now a general awareness of the need for planning, "it's a story of being too late with everything."
3. Central business districts will not be able to compete with the urban expansion creating modern, well-planned shopping centers.
4. If a suburb is to attract industry, it must be prepared to cope with the problems brought by industry.
5. Until recently, some unscrupulous builders incorporated areas in order to create developments which would not meet minimum standards of county and village zoning ordinances.

Suburbs Ignore Symptoms Of Juvenile Delinquency

NORTHWEST SUBURBS have failed to recognize the symptoms of juvenile delinquency, this panel declared: Dr. Eugene Oliver, administrator of Arlington high school; Thomas A. Ullock, former Rolling Meadows chief of police; Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman; Chief Cy Campbell of Rolling Meadows; and Miss Lucia Thomas, assistant state's attorney for Cook county.

The price that suburbs must pay for progress and expansion is one that cannot be ignored. That price—more misdemeanors and an increase in minor crime—can be small if the community comes to grips with it early.

So warned Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, chairman of the juvenile delinquency panel at Saturday's Suburban Problems Clinic.

Declaring that important changes are taking place in the community, Lohman urged northwest suburbs to be alert to the growing menace of juvenile delinquency "springing up about the margins of the central city."

He said this conference was "significant because it anticipates the changes taking place in the community, without delaying action until they reach a crisis level."

Calling for a return to community-level action to meet the challenge of juvenile delinquency, Lohman said: "Only as houses are joined together family to family in a community with guidance and inspiration can we expect children to develop the moral values of the older generation."

THERE IS A serious lack of community organization in some suburbs, declared the sheriff, and a few new suburbs are nothing more than "a type of built-in slum area."

"Youngsters are growing up in a new phenomenon," he told clinic guests. "They are highly individualistic because they are not subjected to a common degree of behavior. We mustn't interpret that behavior alone as delinquency, but accept it as a symptom of delinquency. It's the symptoms we are ignoring, letting them lull us to sleep."

He added that the final solution to the juvenile problem lies with our ability to increase the capacity of schools, churches, and community groups to accept "individuated" behavior..

DETENTION OF juvenile delinquents in an institution can in reality do more harm than good, said Lohman.

"Fifty per cent of our serious adult offenders are former juvenile delinquents," he explained. "They are the products of our unsuccessful attempts to deal with minor problems. The dangerous enemies in society today are the products of St. Charles, Geneva, Pontiac, County Jail, Bridewell, and Juvenile court. They are the products of this reliance on detention; the solution has failed, the approach has been wrong. We must turn again to the community for the answer."

He pointed out that most cases of delinquency, involving minor crime or vandalism, should be handled on the community level—and the community should work to rehabilitate the delinquent without resorting to detention in an institution.

SERVING WITH Lohman on the juvenile delinquency panel were Dr. Eugene Oliver, administrator of Arlington high school Tom Ullock, formerly of Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows police departments; Chief Cy Campbell of Rolling Meadows; and Miss Lucia Thomas, assistant state's attorney for Cook county.

There was little agreement among panel members as to what constituted juvenile delinquency and how serious it was in northwest suburbs.

Chief Campbell, declaring that the area faced no such problem, cited statistics he had gathered in a private survey of 5 northwest towns. During 1 year, these police departments made 16 referrals to Family court involving 67 cases of juvenile delinquency.

"Unless a case is sent to Family court, it cannot be considered as juvenile delinquency," he added. "Blue jeans and long hair don't make a delinquent."

"DRESS IS AN indication of which way the individual is leaning, however," reported Ullock. "At the point where a youngster's habits and associates begin to change to the worse, that's the danger signal for parents."

Ullock said parents and school authorities should insist that youngsters wear proper clothing and avoid extreme or bizarre haircuts.

THE SHERIFF cautioned against treating juveniles as law violators. "The giving of the label 'delinquent' is done with too little restraint," he declared. "Because a youngster dresses differently or acts differently, that doesn't automatically make him delinquent. But these are signs which should require special attention."

Miss Thomas, who represents the state's attorney's office in all juvenile cases at Family court, defined "juvenile delinquency" as anti-social acts by boys and girls under 18 years of age which violate city or state laws. "This is behavior which in an adult would be considered criminal."

She said most juvenile cases from the northwest area concerned auto tampering, and breaking and entering.

SHERIFF LOHMAN added that most complaints to his office concerned teenage drinking, beer in forest preserves, drag racing, exaggerated dress, and general attention-getting behavior.

"Our problem in solving this situation lies in the juvenile's attitude," concluded Ullock. "First we must succeed in gaining the juvenile's voluntary compliance toward the law. Second, we have a problem in parents. Too many teens have no respect for their parents, so how can we expect them to respect anyone outside of their home? Third, we must realize that a 16-year-old today is more mature, mentally, than a 16-year-old in the last generation. And finally, most problems in juvenile delinquency become police problems because they're thrown at them. It shouldn't be a police problem in the beginning, rather, parents sholud act.

Truancy was cited as a major problem in many high schools, although Dr. Oliver said Arlington high school was fortunate. "We face no serious problem in delinquency. Truancy, vandalism, and serous discipline problems are at a low degree. The high school has a high level of cooperation from churches, parents, and the local and county police. Our problems are isolated ones, not gang or group problems."

Oliver added that school resources are helpful in preventing delinquency: a good educational and activity program to keep young people busy.

Ullock commented at this point that he recalled a gang fight in Arlington Heights 4 years ago which at one point involved more than 200 youths in a theatre parking lot.

THE PANEL AGREED that a partial solution to the growing juvenile problem was in restricted use of the automobile. Parents shouldn't be too free with the family car, and they should always make sure they know where the youngsters are going with it and with whom.

"Where parents have taken an interest in the teen, there is less of a problem," remarked Lohman. "Most teenagers are left to drift."

Zoners Cite Communication As Big Problem in Suburbs

THE NEED FOR ZONING and planning was emphasized by panel members Richard R. Young, vice chairman of Mount Prospect plan commission; Charles Klopp, chairman of Palatine plan commission; Edward S. Jackson, former chairman of Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals; Andrew J. Dallstream, chairman of county zoning board; and Dr. Curtis D. MacDougall, former chairman of Cook County Housing authority.

"Communication" was cited Saturday as the biggest problem in suburban zoning and planning.

"We must communicate if we are to get better defined plans," explained Andrew J. Dallstream, chairman of the county zoning board of appeals. "We are very anxious to have trustees, village attorneys, and plan commission members as well as property owners at county zoning hearings. But we face a problem in communicating with them."

Dallstream served as chairman of the zoning and planning panel at the Suburban Problems Clinic.

"We are going to try and improve the channels of communication. If we are to solve the area's problems, we must talk things over," he continued. "There is a general feeling of distrust on zoning matters, but there is also an extraordinary lack of interest on the part of the public."

Pointing out that there is now an awareness for the need of planning and zoning, Dallstream emphasized that "It's a story of being too late with everything. We were too late with village zoning ordinances, and we were 20 years too late with the county zoning ordinance. There's a lot to undo."

Charles Klopp, chairman of the Palatine plan commission, discussed the status of planning in the northwest area.

Lake Zurich, Barrington, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, and Park Ridge have hired professional consultants to draw up master plans. Palatine has been operating with a master plan for 2½ years, and Rolling Meadows is now interviewing consultants.

"THE ROLE of villages in controlling fringe growth was greatly strengthened by the court decision on the Naperville case," explained Klopp. "This permits villages to exercise influence over development within 1.5 miles of their limits."

Dr. Curtis D. MacDougall, former chairman of the Cook County Housing authority, sounded a death knell for central business districts.

Recalling the pattern in his boyhood when meat markets and grocery stores were strewn through residential areas, he said the pattern had changed within a generation to the modern shopping center.

"In another generation," said MacDougall, "there will be continuous city within a radius of 50 miles from State and Madison sts. What will happen to central business districts? They will die out, become replaced by modern, planned shopping centers or else become merely neighborhood service centers."

INDUSTRY FOR suburbs was described as a "two-headed coin" by Edward S. Jackson, former chairman of Arlington Heights zoning board.

"Industry embraces a variety of activity," he explained. "There's a world of difference between a telephone central station and an explosive plant. A town must keep that difference in mind when selecting its industry."

Emphasizing that a suburb does not create industry, Jackson said industry must be attracted to a town.

"If a community is to attract industry, it must be prepared to cope with the problems brought by industry. The feeling that industry is a panacea to taxpayers is not necessarily so. While it does lessen the burden to the home owner, taxation is only one factor in the cost of living," said Jackson.

AMONG PROBLEMS created by industry is the increase in traffic. Certain kinds of industry may increase insurance rates if it is concentrated in a certain area, he explained.

"Industry must also be considered from a personnel standpoint," he added, "because different kinds of industry attract different kinds of people to the community. Before we make a decision on whether to attract industry, we must be very sure we want it and are willing to cope with the problems it will bring."

Also serving on the zoning and planning panel was Richard R. Young, vice chairman of the Mt. Prospect plan commission.

THE PANEL ALSO discussed the problem of coping with zoning and planning in unincorporated areas.

"Until recently," declared Dallstream, "it was popular to incorporate a new village. But some builders took advantage of the law to despoil suburban areas with development which village and county zoners would not permit. The legislature has now increased minimum population requirements for incorporation from 100 to 500 in order to correct that weakness."

Quick Taking Law Changes Farm-Highway Picture

The power of the state to take private property for public use upon payment of just compensation — called eminent domain — has been recognized for centuries. However, in most cases the state may take possession of the property only after just compensation (the money award) is judicially determined and paid to the owner. Since this process takes time, other methods are sought that will allow the state to take immediate possession so that it need not stop important public projects, like road building, until it gets the needed property.

The new Illinois " quick-take" law, which became effective this past summer, is one way to overcoe this obstacle. This law applies only to acquisition of land for highway purposes. Here's the way it works:

AFTER NEGOTIATIONS to purchase the land fail, the state files a petition with the court as it would in a regular condemnation suit. Then, at any time before judgment in the condemnation trial, the state may ask that it be immediately granted title to the land. The court then calls in the interested parties and ay hear evidence of value or appoint three disinterested appraisers to determine a value.

When the preliminary estimate of value is completed by the court, the state deposits the stated amount of money, plus one-fourth more, and takes posession. The landowner may withdraw the amount of estimated compensation from the court, or he may appeal. In either case, at some later date the formal condemnation trial is held. At this time both sides present evidence of value, but neither may show the amount of the preliminary estimate. The court then makes a final determination of just compensation.

* * * *

IF THE FINAL award is more than the state deposited, the landowner received this extra sum plus 6 per cent interest thereon. If it is less than the amount the landowner withdrew from the court, he must return the surplus, but no interest is charged to him.

This new law is definitely a boon to the highway construction program. However, there is some question about whether it overcomes the objections raised by the Supreme Court of Illinois in 1951 when a similar law was held unconstitutional. (Fm

New Antibiotic Kills More Worms

Beginning with pigs' first creep feed, a new product called 'Hygromix' can now be fed continuously to control three of our most costly swine worms.

Farmers can now control three kinds of swine worms while they feed their hogs. Feed manufacturers are now adding a worm-killing antibiotic called hygromycin to feed for continuous treatment.

This is welcome news to farmers who lose an estimated $277 million yearly to hog worms—the equivalent of $3 a hog.

The new hog worm control is reported to have these advantages over present day wormers:

1. Stops worm egg production, thus helping cut chances of infestation.

2. Kills nodular and whipworms as well as large round worms. Most wormers control only large roundworms.

3. Safe, even when fed in pigs' first creep feeds, to help get pigs off to a good start.

A discovery of Eli Lilly and Company, hygromycin introduces a new concept in hog worm control: the feeding of a low-level, worm-killing antibiotic to provide more thorough, continuous protection.

More than two dozen experiments involving several thousand hogs have been conducted by Lilly as well as the University of Wisconsin and Indiana farmers. In farm trials, pigs receiving hygromycin have gained an average of 16 percent faster on 9 percent less feed per pound gain.

Hygromycin is available from feed manufacturers and dealers in complete feeds or protein supplements. Research indicates that for best worm control it should be included in the pigs' first creep feed and fed continuously until pigs weigh 80 to 100 pounds. Feeder pigs weighing up to 140 pounds not previously fed hygromycin should get it in complete feed for a minimum of five weeks.

Soybean Crop Increase Is Less Than in Prior Years

by L. H. SIMERL

The corn and soybean crops developed and matured well despite a late start. Harvest is occurings simultaneously over much greater than usual areas.

These developments have put strong pressure on market prices in recent weeks.

THE SOYBEAN crop is a record-breaker for the fourth consecutive year. On the other hand, the crop this year apparently exceeds that of the previous year by a smaller amount than any of the 3 preceding crops.

The present crop was estimated by the USDA in September at 459 million bushels. Later estimates are expected to show that it will be around 20 million bushels larger than that of last year.

The 3 previous crops averaged about 60 million bushels more than the crop before. If the market for soybeans continues to expand as it has in recent years, it should not be difficult to dispose of this year's crop.

PRICES OFFERED recently for soybeans were about equal to the price support level minus costs of storage. Prices seem likely to rise above this floor sometime during the marketing year.

The national average support level for the 1957 crop is $2.09 a bushel compared with $2.15 for the 1956 crop.

Last year the national average market price received by farmers was $2.07 in October. Later monthly averages ranged from $2.18 to $2.31. Prices for the 1956 crop received a strong boost when the Suez Canal was blocked.

EXPORTS ARE a very important factor in the market for soybeans. Around 85 million bushels, or nearly one-fifth, of last year's crop were exported. Most of the export beans were sold in Japan, Netherlands, West Germany and Canada.

Most of the exported beans were shipped under export subsidies provided by Public Law 480. Thus the export market for our soybeans now depends to a considerable extent upon government aid.

The foreign demand for soybeans will depend considerably upon the production of competing oilseeds in foreign countries. Reliable estimates of foreign production will not be available until about December.

THE CARRYOVER of old soybeans is again inconsequential — only a few million bushels.

There are a number of possible soybean price-lifting factors: The cottonseed crop may be a little smaller than last year. U.S. and Canadian production of flax seed is down from 1956 levels. Increasing hog production may boost the demand for soybean meal. Broiler production, which uses large amounts of soybean meal, continues to increase. (Fm

Chicken Flocks Decrease in '57

Many Illinois farmers who raised laying chickens last year are not doing it in 1957.

J. R. Roush, extension egg marketing specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, quotes figures from the crop reporting board of the U.S. Department of Agriculture that show the greatest decrease to be in numbers of small flocks.

By January 1, 1958, the total U.S. laying flock is expected to be down 6 to 8 per cent from January 1, 1957, Roush says. This decrease is due to fewer replacements. The members of young chicks raised on farms this year is expected to be the lowest on record.

Last February farmers reported that they intended to buy 9 per cent fewer chicks than they bought last year, according to the USDA figures. But Illinois farmers actually bought 28 per cent fewer flock replacements during the first 6 months of this year than last year. The U.S. average was 18 per cent lower. Only Virginia, with a 31 per cent cut in flock replacements, ranked lower than Illinois.

During these same months, Illinois egg prices averaged 26 per cent below last year compared with 22 per cent below for the U.S. average. Feed prices were about 1 per cent higher.

Every region in the country is showing the same sharp decrease in chicks raised, ranging from an average of 23 per cent in the east north central states to 8 per cent in the south Atlantic states. These figures do not apply to broiler chicks. (Fm

Hog Farrowing Ideas Presented

Many permanent hog farrowing houses today are being built with radiant heat and labor-saving equipment.

Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees says that floors in farrowing houses should be warm and dry. A waterproof border insulation should be between the edge of the door and the foundation. It should be at least one inch thick and extend to a minimum depth of 24 inches.

INSULATION in walls and ceilings is necessary to reduce heat loss from the building and to help maintain uniform temperatures. More is needed in the ceiling than in the walls. A four-inch thickness if recommended for the ceiling, with a vapor barrier on the underneath side.

Two types of walls are commonly used, both of which are satisfactory. One is built of lightweight concrete masonry, and the other is of wood construction. For easier heating, it is desirable to keep both wall and floor areas to a minimum. A 7-foot ceiling height is enough in alleys and areas where operators must work.

One window for every pen is desirable. Provide one square foot of glass for every 20 feet of floor area. A storm sash or double-glazed sash to reduce heat loss is essential.

EVEN IN COLD weather, ventilation must be maintained to remove moisture as fast as the hogs give it off and to admit the correct amount of fresh air. In low buildings, such as farrowing houses a gravity-type ventilation is not dependable. A fan system installed according to manufacturer's instructions is best. However, with this amount of ventilation the house must be well insulated to keep it from getting too cold when outside temperatures are low.

For full information about farrowing houses, ask your farm adviser for a copy of University of Illinois circular 780, "Hog Farrowing Houses and Equipment," or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana, for a copy. (Fm

To Exhibit 6 Guernseys

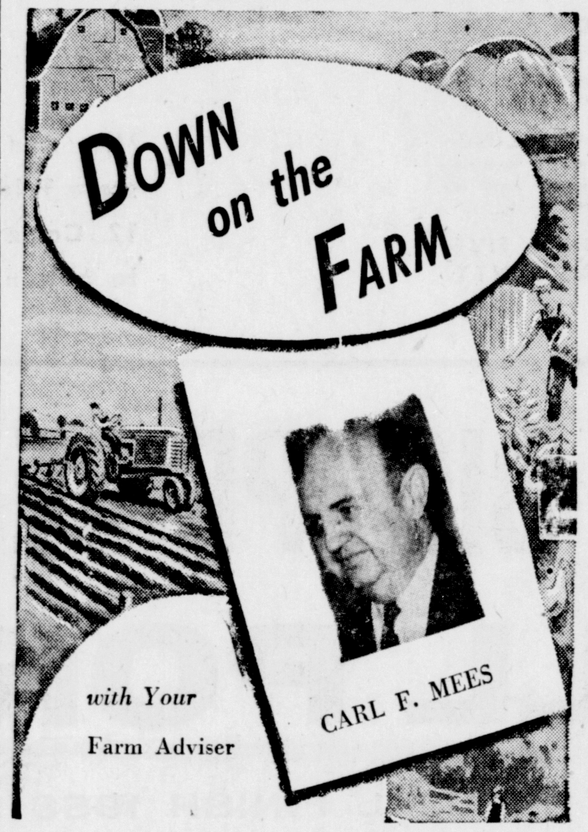
S. B. Henselle, Arlington Heights, will exhibit 6 Guernseys in the competitions of the International Dairy Show, Oct. 9-15 in the Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards.

More than 2,000 of the best purebred dairy cattle from 30 states and Canada will compete in the big Chicago show, now the world's largest and finest dairy cattle exhibition. Cattle come from Maine to California, from Ontario to Florida.

The International "Golden Spurs" rodeo highlights entertainment features this year, starring Rex Allen, popular film and TV star. Exciting bronc, steer wrestling and Brahma bull riding contests make rodeo the most dangerous and one of the most thrilling sports.

The third annual national 4-H Educational conference for dairy project winners from 18 states, the International Collegiate and 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging contests, and a collegiate dairy products judging contest are among other interesting events. The third Annual American Dairy princess contest will take place in the International Little Theatre at the show.

Chicago sightseeing tours at half fare will operate directly from the amphitheatre this year for visitors who wish to see points of interest in Chicago. (Fm



To maintain the health and to promote vigorous growth of shade trees, it often becomes necessary to provide food material which is lacking. In the forest, where humus accumulates year after year, trees are liberally supplied with organic matter derived from decaying leaves and plants which also serve to retain an abundance of soil water. Since natural sources of food and water cannot be maintained along city streets, in lawns and in parks, artificial feeding and watering are necessary.

PREPARED TREE FOODS

There is no established rule as to the amount of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium a tree food must contain. In fertilizer formulae nitrogen is expressed as nitrogen (N) phosphorus as phosphoric acid P2O5 and potassium as potash K2O. Commonly tree foods contain nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash in proportions of 23-21-17; 23-18-17; 19-28-14; 12-6-4; 10-6-4; etc. Four widely used formulae are 23-21-17; 19-28-14; 10-8-6 and 10-6-4. These can be purchased through local dealers in fertilizers.

AMOUNT OF TREE FOD NEEDED

A common method of determining the amount of tree food needed, based upon the amount of nitrogen required to maintain uniform tree growth, is as follows. Trees less than 6 inches in diameter should receive ¼ pound of available nitrogen, and trees 6 inches and over in diameter should receive ½ pound of available nitrogen per inch of trunk diameter.

A tree 4 inches in diameter required ¼ pound per inch of 1 pound of available nitrogen. To determine the pounds of a 10-8-6 formula required to give one pound of available nitrogen, divide 1 by 0.10 (10 per cent available nitrogen). The amount of 10-8-6 required is 10 pounds. A tree 12 inches in diameter required ½ pound per inch or 6 pounds of available nitrogen.

The amount of a 10-8-6 formula required to give 6 pounds of available nitrogen is 6 divided by 0.10 (10 per cent availabe nitrogen) or 60 pounds.

HOW TO FEED

With a punch-bar or auger drive holes, 1½ to 2 inches in diameter, perpendicularly into the soil beneath the tree. The holes should be 18 to 24 inches deep and spaced 2 to 2½ feet apart in concentric circles around the trunk. The outer circle should be somewhat beyond the limit of branch spread and the inner circles should be spaced to maintain about the required distance between holes. Holes may be quite near the trunks of large trees to supply feeding roots in that region. Distribute the tree food evenly in the holes.

Then fill the holes with water and keep them filled for about 3 days, to soak the tree food into the soil and make it quickly available to the feeding roots. The holes may now be filled with sand, peat moss, or loose soil. Or, if left open, they will facilitate water absorption during rains, aerate the soil, promote development of feeding roots, and provide an effective means of feeding roots, and provide an effective means of supplying water during droughts.

WHEN TO FEED

Tree feeding can be done at any time of year but feeding during April, May or October, when the soil contains ample water, is especially beneficial. Tree foods are most readily available when in water solution, hence it is highly desirable that sufficient water be present in the soil to dissolve the food. Well-fed trees seem to be more resistant to drought.

WATERING SHADE TREES

Although shade trees generally do well without special watering, lack of water in drought years or as a result of temporary or permanent lowering of the soil water table can cause serious injury and bring about their death. It does little good to water the ground surface beneath trees. But a grid of holes reaching the root level such as is required for tree feeding, is ideal for effective watering. Generous waterings at one to three-week intervals give better results than frequent light waterings.

TREE EXPERTS

It is advisable, when possible, to have tree feeding done by a person having proper equipment for the job and familiar with the process. Reliable tree experts have equipment. Also, they know where to obtain tree food and how to apply it. Their experience tends to assure better results. (Fm

Busy Bees Add New Members

Palatine Busy Bees held their October meeting a week ago Wednesday. They closed their membership drive with a total of 70 members. Since enrollment is so large the club is seeking an assistant leader. Anyone who is interested may call Mrs. A. Koskela, FL 9-0886. (4-H

Busy Fingers Had Meeting and Party

Semi-monthly meeting of Busy Fingers 4-H club was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Ryan.

The first part of the meeting was turned over to regular business of the club. Various projects were discussed and social events were planned for later in the year.

After the business meeting the members enjoyed a party in celebration of Pat Brice's birthday.

Schedule Meeting

Next regular meeting of North Cook Rural Youth will be held October 16 at 8 p.m. in the Farm Bureau building, 201 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. Rural adults, 18 years and older, are welcome. (4-H

Winter Brings On New Fire Hazards for Farm Families

Ripened, frost-killed fields of corn, fence row after fence row of dead grass and leaves, acres of tinder dry woodland — —all are potential areas for damaging fires to start, primed by a discarded cigarette or a hot tractor exhaust.

As the nation marks National Fire Prevention week which started Sunday the danger of fires starting in fallen leaves or dead grass is great, Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, said today.

Almost as big a cause of fires for the next few months will be overheated or defective stoves and furnaces, predicted Steffey. Based on National Safety council figures, defective heating equipment causes about one-sixth of all farm fires!

"MOST OF US are familiar with the causes of farm fires, but we tend to ignore them because we think they couldn't happen to us — —that it's the neighbor in the next township or in the county to the west that will be unfortunate."

However, continued Steffey, fires do strike close to home, claiming valuable property and taking many lives. Steady increase in the number of electrical appliances added to our wiring circuits throughout the farmstead makes more than ¾ of our farms sadly lacking in proper wiring.

"Adequate wiring means having big enough wire installed to make up for the added electrical appliances on a circuit," explained Steffey. "If you add appliances to a circuit, you must increase the size of the wire or add a new circuit so that enough current can pass through it to operate the units properly.

"APPLIANCES may operate on an overloaded circuit, but they will not operate up to standard, and the continued effort to gain enough electricity causes the wire to become overheated —and start a fire."

Loss of life in farm fires are highest among the younger and older age groups. Children under 5 years of age accounted for 12.3 per cent of the farm fire death losses in the country in 1956, the National Safety Council reports.

From 45-64 years of age, 23.9 per cent of the deaths occurred, while 27.7 per cent were in the age group over 65.

The best thing to do about fires is to constantly take steps to prevent them. "Fire Prevention Week" simply emphasizes the fact that farm people should take special effort to get rid of the potential causes of fire.

"CHECK AND eliminate hazards regularly — not spasmodically. Have fire-fighting equipment on hand so you can put out a small fire. Be sure there is an adequate suply of water to help the fire department fight a big fire."

Despite all precautions fires do occur, and Steffey listed these steps to take in case a fire does break out:

1. Get everyone out and away from the building on fire. Protect human lives first.

2. Call for help at nearest phone — —or make sure someone calls or goes for help.

3. Keep the fire from spreading and concentrate on protecting other buildings, livestock and property. It may be you will need to remove animals from the building but be sure you are not endangering your own life by entering the burning structure.

"NOW IS A GOOD time for every family to plan what they would do in case of fire,' 'concluded Steffey. "Instruct the older children in how to call the fire department and in the proper method of operating the fire extinguisher.

"Determine what each of the parents will do if they should awaken at night and find the home on fire. Decisions made ahead of time as to who will call the children, pick up the baby, save certain valuables, and call the fire department and seconds." (Fm

Issue 5 Fire Rules

Are your children safe from fire at home and at play?

"I'm sure most folks can answer 'yes,' " says Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees. "Parents generally realize that they can do a lot to keep fire from harming their youngsters."

For those parents who may have a few doubts, though, Mees has this special fire prevention week advice on child fire safety:

1 —Keep very young children —2 and under—in sight and in mind all the time; they need 100 per cent protection from fire.

2 — —Teach older children the safe and proper uses of fire and thus to respect it; remember that they learn best by your example.

3 —Keep the child's home your home—free of fire hazards; your fire department is ready to help you spot those hazards.

4 — —Know the right way to escape from any building in an emergency and train your children to be as ready and able to do the same.

5 — —There's a quick and a sure way to call the fire department; knowing the right way before any sudden emergency can very well mean the saving of precious seconds—and perhaps even the life of a child. (Fm

Harvest Time Also Brings On Accidents

Harvest time brings an increase in the activities not only of adults and children, but also of farm machinery.

Children plus farm machinery add up to a bumper crop of accidents each year, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois. The children are not at fault, and neither is the machinery. It is the parents who must be responsible for seeing that these accidents don't happen.

The best way is to make children understand how accidents are caused and how they can prevent them. They may think you are too strict when you forbid them to ride on a tractor or other machinery. But it may keep them from being injured or even killed. So think twice before you let children ride on equipment. (Fm

Needle In The Groove

by PAUL H. LITTLE

Lest we think our own nation has a monopoly on good jazz bands, Victor brings to our attention a stunning 12-inch platter (LPM-1495) "Caution! Men Swinging" by Dennis Farnon and his orchestra. This gifted Canadian bandleader stands comparison with our very best combos, as you'll hear for yourself when you listen to his versions of "Isle of Capri," "It Don't Mean a Thing," "Why Don't You Do Right," "Three Little Words" and "Resume Speed." On this disc, trumpeter Pete Candoli, drummer Alvin Stoller, valve trombonist Bob Enevoldsen and Lou Levyat the piano come in for neat solo work. Exceptionally pleasing, and sound the same.

A topnotch Mexican orchestra, that of Louis Arcaraz, gives us some smooth dance music on "Whispering" (Victor LPM-1385), in tunes like "Jalousie," "Laura," "April Showers," "Ballerina," "Sunrise Serenade" and "Love Letters in the Sand." Arcaraz has a flair for rhythm. And speaking of rhythm, don't miss "The Jazz Rhythms of Gene Krupa" (Verve MGV-8207) as this great drummer leads off in "Gene's Bass Blues," "Tepee," "Strike Up the Band" and "Krupa's Wail" with pianist Bobby Scott, sax and clarinet star Eddie Shu, and bassist John Drew taking laurels for their solos.

UNDER FRANK O'Donnell's superb promotional effects, Victor's budget-priced Camden label ($1.98 per 12-inch platter) has meritoriously forged ahead, not only offering reissues of great classical and jazz performances taken from "shellac" masters with exceptionally fine sound (we cite "The Art of Rosa Ponselle." a two-disc Camden album that is a collector's item of great operatic singing), but also modern popular music given almost as fine sound as we find on Red Seal, and thus all the more a bargain at their low price.

One of these is CAL-832 "The Student Prince," a delightful platter of highlights by Al Goodman and his orchestra, with baritone Earl Wrightson, sopranos Frances Greer and Mary Martha Briney, and tenor Donald Dame in such memorable tunes as "Golden Days," "Drinking Song," "Deep in My Heart Dear" and "Just We Two." And for delightful background or dance music, we recommend "Let's Have a Dance Party!" (CAL-381) by Buddy Morrow and his orchestra, with such favorites as "Stairway to the Stars," "Rio Rita," "Memphis Drag," "Ain't Got Nobody," 'Beale Street Mamma," and That Ol' Black Magic." Hi-fi sound, too!

TWO MORE FINE Camdens for relaxing listening. One is "We Danced All Night" (CAL-380), by Ray Noble and his smoothly styled orchestra in "El Relicario," "I've Got My Love to Keep Me Warm," "Dinah," "Allah's Toe," Bahama Buggyride," Holiday," "I've Got You Under My Skin," and "The Touch of Your Lips." Then there's "The Magic Touch" (CAL-379) by Hugo Winterhalter and his orchestra, in "On the Alamo," "The Mule Drive," "Tic-Tac-Toe," "Make Believe Land" and "I'll See You in My Dreams." Beautifully styled, and the sound is as good as any standard major lp.

Don't miss Arthur Fielder and the Boston "Pops" in selections from Strauss' "Gypsy Baron" and "Die Fledermaus" (LM-2130), with such exuberant and pulse tingling numbers as "Tiktak, an der Modau," "Husaren Schatz - Waltzer," and the overtures to both of these immortal operettas. Symphonic treatment with a verve you seldom find at the concert hall, and superlative sound to boot.

MORE BACKGROUND music, "Lights and Shadows, Dinner Music" by Al Nevins and his orchestra (Victor LPM-1475) with a particularly attractive program: "Love, Your Magic Spell Is Everywhere," "Musetta's Waltz," "The Night is Young and You're So Beautiful," "All the Things You Are," and "Ecstasy Waltz." Reminds us sadly that nowadays tunes aren't half so medodious as those oldtimers! Nevins' suave yet modern treatment is sheer aural delight!

For listening novelty, try "Loves of My Life" (Victor Vik LX-xx 1089) by Hugo Montenegro and his orchestra, with the spotlight on a 2-octave portable electric organ that adds a fascinatingly rich tonal coloring to Montenegro's lilting styling. Tunes include "Sophisticated Lady," "My Old Flame," "Little Girl Blue," and "The Lady Is a Tramp" with Jerry Sanfino's good sax solos outstanding on the first tune. Fred Eilkins' flute riffs on "Sweet and Lovely" and "I Married an Angel" are especially attractive.

And finally, from Victor, "Higher Than Fi" (Vik LX-1097) by Marty Gold and his orchestra; Gold is one of the most gifted arrangers and composers around. as he proves in his way with "In the Blue of the Evening," his own "Puppet on the String" and "Rush Hour"

Joanne Freiburger Is Now Mrs. Unterfenger

(Community Camera

Miss Joanne Frieburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Freiburger, 3612 Sigwalt, Rolling Meadows, and Edward Unterfenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Unterfenger of Chicago, were united in marriage by Rev. Harold O'Hara September 28 at 11 a.m. mass in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights.

White and yellow mums formed the setting for the bouble ring service as "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" were sung. Mrs. Richard Drolet was organist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with cuffed neckline, V back and three-quarter sleeves. She carried a white orchid with white-feathered mums and yellow roses.

Marianne Freiburger of Milwaukee, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Rosemary Hagen of Milwaukee and Adelaide Giorgi of Elmwood Park, were bridesmaids. All wore identical gowns of beige crystalette-backed satin with scoop necklines, street-length skirts and three-quarter sleeves. Their flowers were rust mums and yellow roses with artificial grapes made in basket style.

Jerry Sommers of Chicago was best man and Norman Robbins of Oak Park and Robert Garmoe of Franklin Park were ushers.

A reception was held at the Arlington Heights VFW hall where Mrs. Freiburger received the guests in a periwinkle blue 2-tone chiffon and satin dress. Ivory orchids complemented her ensemble.

The couple honeymooned for 2 weeks in the Smoky mountains and is now at home in Rolling Meadows.

The new Mrs. Unterfenger was graduated from Alverno college in Milwaukee and is now employed at Du Page Memorial hospital. The bridegroom is with the Harris Trust, Chicago.

Meat 'As Eaten' Has Fewer Calories

by MARIANNE SCOTT

Recent research conducted at Oklahoma State university has shown that cooked meat, as it is produced and cooked today, has significantly less fat, fewer calories, and more protein than the values given in current textbooks.

For instance, a generous serving (3½) ounces) of cooked strictly lean meat has about 200 calories and 8 grams of fat. This is in contrast to older textbook values of 300 or more calories and 20-30 grams of fat.

THE RESEARCH was conducted at Oklahoma by Dr. Ruth M. Leverton, then in charge of Home Economics Research at the Oklahoma State university agricultural experiment station, now assistant director of the Institute of Home Economics, Human Nutrition Research Division, Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., under a grant from the National Livestock and Meat Board.

The first report on this work was given during last week's 52nd annual meeting of the American Meat Institute by Rita Campbell, Nutrition Director of the National Livestock and Meat Board.

WHAT MAKES the work unique, and the results of special value to physicians, dietitians and everyone concerned with food composition, is that the lean portion of each serving of meat was analyzed separately from the fat portion, and the lean portion marbled with streaks of fat was analyzed separately also.

Textbook figures now in use for meat are for the combined lean, marble, and fat portions. This makes the fat and calorie values unrealistically high, because today most people do not eat much, if any, of the fat served on cuts of meat. We need only to watch people eat their servings of meat to know how many of them carefully trim all of the obviously fat portion and push it aside.

THE OBVIOUSLY lean portion which has no visible streaks of fat is usually consumed by all. Then comes the "marbled" portion which contains the intermuscular fat and in which the lean and fat are too closely mixed to be separated. This part-lean, part-fat portion is not eaten by some because of their consciousness of the fat problem, but it is relished by most people because of its flavor and tender juiciness.

The results of the Oklahoma study on 53 cuts of beef, veal, lamb, and pork are being reported in a technical bulletin and will include vitamin and mineral figures as well as the fat, calories, and protein. The meat was from animals considered typical of what is available to the consumer .It was cooked by the consumer. It was suitable for the different cuts — broiling, roasting, braising, etc. Never more than one tablespoon of fat was added during cooking and that only for braising.

THE OBVIOUSLY lean portion of the different cuts of beef, veal, lamb, and pork averaged approximately 8 per cent fat as compared with 20-30 per cent given in textbooks for the entire cut. A 3½-ounce serving of cooked lean meat (no visible fat) will supply about 200 calories and 30 grams of protein.

When both the lean and the marble portion of a meat cut are combined, the average fat content is likely to be about twice as much as for the lean alone — 16 per cent — and this is still low by usual standards of fat content. The average calorie value is higher than for the lean alone — 260 calories for a 3½-ounce serving and the protein value of this serving is about 28 grams.

THIS WILL COME as a surprise to many: When studied in different portions as for this study, lean pork was no higher in fat or calories than lean beef, veal or lamb, and the combined lean and marbled portion of pork cuts was no higher in fat and calories than those of other meats.

Kappa Alpha Thetas To Meet October 17

Northwest Suburban alumnae club of Kappa Alpha Theta will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday, Oct. 17, at 1 p.m. Hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. E. L. Wilson at her home, 323 S. All new Thetas in the area, including Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Palatine, are invited. Further information concerning this meeting or others may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Lindstrom, membership chairman, at CL 3-2226.

Round Table Friday For DAR Regents

Mrs. Albert H. Schutt, regent of Eli Skinner chapter of DAR will be among the 33 chapter regents who will attend the regents round table Friday, Oct. 11, in the Georgian room of Carson Pirie Scott and Co.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Len Young Smith, state regent of Illinois, and the chief matter under discussion will be how the DAR chapters of Illinois can help the Indian Center, located on the third and fourth floors at 411 N. La Salle st.

The center fosters integration of 6,000 to 8,000 Indians, representing 45 tribes from all over our country, and promotes their economic and educational advancement.

Busy Arlington Woman To Head Volunteer Group

Mrs. Herbert E. Miles, 102 Brighton place, Arlington Heights, was elected vice president of the Women's Auxiliary of United Charities at the volunteer group's annual meeting held October 7.

Mrs. Miles has been a member of the auxiliary for the past 2 years, having headed up the Arlington Heights Riverview Ramble ticket committee the summer of 1955. She worked on the 1956 Ramble and this past year served as chairman of northwest suburban ticket sales.

For the past year and a half, she has volunteered regularly as a receptionist in the Legal Aid Bureau; has also assisted in the Camp Algonquin medical examination and the sorting of thousands of toys donated each year by a Chicago firm to be distributed at Christmas time. During the past year, Mrs. Miles has been treasurer of the auxiliary.

Prior to 1954, she had been a teacher of science at North Shore Country Day school and her other volunteer interests and activities in the past include church and school work, Red Cross fund drives and hospital service, and she is a member of the AAUW, PTA, Woman's club and League of Women's Voters. Mrs. Miles is again volunteering one day a week in the office at Country Day school, as well as taking up her reception assignment in United Charities' Legal Aid bureau.

September 1st Wedding Unites Palatine Pair

A September 1 wedding united 2 Palatine families when Miss Sharon Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredolph Gustafson, 424 Rose st., became the bride of Lynde Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Palos rd. The ceremony took place at 7 p.m. in Christ Evangelical Lutheran church with Rev. Paul Fleischmann officiating.

The altar was banked with vases and baskets of white gladioli, ivy and white mums for the double ring, candlelight service. Organist was Hamilton Olson and soloists were Mrs. George Heinemann who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Dale Anderson of Bagley, Minn. who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "I Love Thee."

A princess style gown of slipper satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The gown was made with round yoke of sheer chiffon, long-pointed sleeves and chapel train. The sleeves of her gown were trimmed with seed pearls and her headpiece, also of seed pearls, held a fingertip veil. She carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid, stephanotis and trailing ivy. Mr. Gustafson gave his daughter in marriage.

Five attendants, including the young flower girl and ring bearer, preceded the bride down the aisle. Miss Margaret Bidwell of Kingsford, Mich. was maid of honor and Mrs. Patricia Spencer of Arlington Heights and Miss Barbara Palmer of Palatine, were bridesmaids. All wore identical ballerina gowns of satin-backed crystalette fashioned with bateau necklines with deep V cuts in back in ice blue, rose and melon, respectively. Their waists were encircled with satin cummerbunds. White mums and pompons made up their colonial bouquets.

(Jenart Studio

Six-year-old Beth Gustafson, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore an ice blue crystalette gown with satin cummerbund. She also carried a colonial bouquet of white mums and pompons. Steve Anderson, 5, of Bagley, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gustafson chose a turquoise dress with white accessories, and a corsage of white pompons while Mrs. Anderson chose a brown sheath dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow pompons.

Dale Anderson of Bagley was best man and ushers were Alden Lorents, also of Bagley, and Bob Spencer of Arlington Heights.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the home of the bride's parents after which Mr. Anderson took his bride on a 2-week wedding trip to the Black Hills and Yellowstone. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Nick Gustafson of Kingsford, Mich. was among the wedding guests.

The bride was graduated from Palatine high school in June and the bridegroom, who is with Herzog Construction Co., Des Plaines, was graduated from high school in Two Harbors, Minn. in 1955.

For Women

(Robert Photo

St. Paul Ev. Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect was the scene of the marriage of Miss Darlene Matys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Matys, 200 E. Berkshire lane, Mt. Prospect, and William Wilkinson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkinson of Park Ridge, at 5 p.m. August 31.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in Mt. Prospect VFW hall. Rev. Thies of Luther High North, performed the service during which Mr. Matys gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of nylon tulle and lace with chapel train. A pearl crown held her waist-length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis with amazon lilies.

Miss Sandra Salzmann of Park Ridge was maid of honor and the bride's sister, Madeline Matys, was junior bridesmaid. Karen Reis of Mt. Prospect, Barbara Merrill of Oak Park and Brenda Mellon of Aurora, were bridesmaids. All wore gowns of light green embossed nylon over taffeta and carried pompons in fall shades with heat and oak leaves.

The bride's mother chose a beige lace sheath dress complemented by a corsage of cypripedium orchids while the bridegroom's mother chose a blue taffeta gown with corsage of pink tea roses.

Howard Wilkinson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Ralph Gumbinger of Park Ridge and Gary Schooler and William Stalder of Elmwood Park.

The bride was graduated from Luther High North and attended Northern university at De Kalb for 1 year. Her bridegroom was graduated from Oak Park River Forest high school and completed 2 years at Northern university. He is now attending Western university in Macomb where he and his bride are residing at 329 S. Dudley after a wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

Mother Learns Little from Coed

by MARY

I am in the throes of an acute attack of frustration. It's nothing that has come on suddenly. Symptoms have been manifesting themselves for some time now. What ever made me think I was going to get a vicarious pleasure out of having the oldest in college?

What kept me going, not strong, just going, during the terrible shopping and erranding and packing was that I would have such fun hearing all about it once she got where she was going. So, the whole family poured her and her 19 suitcases on the train for the southland. Then we sat back and waited for the letters to pour in.

AND WE waited and waited and waited. And finally, 1 day came a short note that asked me to send her gray skirt and 3 blouses that somehow got shunted aside in the melee. She also said that she was fine.

Oh well, we consoled ourselves, just let her get settled and the newsy epistles would warm our long fall evenings. If I have to depend on any information I get from her, the cockles of my heart will not only be cold but congealed.

THE LAST letter said that she had some classes she liked better than others. This is dandy peachy keen, except she hasn't said what she is taking. Does this mean, we ask ourselves plaintively, that she likes basket weaving better than water skiing?

She also said there were 2 sororities that she liked better than others. This tidbit of information standing stark and barren on the small sheet of foolscap left me hanging on the ropes.

ANOTHER informative bit to come out of Coral Gables was she has a roommate. This wasn't exactly unexpected, but it was nice to know. Whether roommate is from the United States or outer space is anybody's guess. She may be 10 feet tall or a pigmy, blond, brunette or albino. Maybe she has 2 heads. You can see what tricks the imagination can play.

The last letter mentioned the food was terrible. It also put in a request for reams and reams of typing paper to be sent winging her way. Whatever for? What she writes could be inscribed on the eye of a needle with space leftover for wide margins. (S

All-Day Meeting For District Women's Clubs

Illinois Seventh District Federation of Women's clubs will join other districts in the northern region at a federation conference Monday, October 21, at the First Baptist church, Oak Park, beginning at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Harold F. Dean, Mendota, vice president director of the northern region, will preside at the all-day meeting. Following introduction of officers and chairmen by Mrs. Ervin J. Heckel, state president, departmental workshops will be conducted for local and district chairmen. This is an opportunity to discuss aims, projects and problems with the state chairmen.

The conference will recess for lunch, to be served by the ladies of the church, and will re-convene to hear Mrs. Heckel speak on "Give the Lady What She Wants."

Reservations for the lunch should be made with Mrs. Jerome W. Mohrhusen, 2821 Pearl st., Franklin Park, by October 12.

Official hostesses for the conference will be members of the first and seventh districts. (S

Klehms Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klehm, first coupleto be married in Arlington Heights by the late Rev. Carl M. Noack, celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary last week. The celebration recalled to them the original event September 29, 1899 when 600 guests were entertained in tents on the Klehm property. Mr. Klehm, 90, is one of Arlington Heights' eldest residents and businessmen. He was born on the property he owns. His father established the Klehm nursery 100 years ago. The Klehms have 7 children, 19 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. (S

Style Show Oct. 21st

Barbara Hassell Weds Werner Groos Sept. 28

In a 4:30 o'clock service September 28, Miss Barbara Helen Hassell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Hassell, 819 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights, was married to Werner Whitfield Groos, son of Mrs. Werner Groos of Harlan, Ky. The service took place in the Episcopal church in Harlan with Rev. Phillip Johnson officiating. Miss Elizabeth Whitfield was organist.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and candelabra with tall white tapers entwined with English ivy. Mr. Hassell gave his daughter in marriage during the double ring ceremony which was attended only by the immediate families.

The bride wore a light blue suit with small close-fitting hat in copper tones. Her shoes and handbag matched her suit and she wore white half gloves. White roses made up her bridal corsage.

Mrs. Charles Jay Simonsen of Lima, Ohio, was her sister's only attendant and wore a blue printed sheath dress with dark blue accessories and a corsage of peach colored roses. Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Erick Groos of Harlan.

A reception for 75 guests was held in the home of the bridegroom's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dupree of Harlan during which Mrs. Hassell received in a beige shantung sheath with bead trim. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Groos received in a brown crepe sheath with corsage of peach roses.

Mr. Groos and his bride left on a 1-week wedding trip through the Smokies and after October 15 will be at home in the Haskins apartments in Harlan.

The new Mrs. Groos was graduated from Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C. The bridegroom studied at Darlington School for Boys in Georgia and

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it true that women are shaking hands more than they formerly did?

A. Although society still does not require it, women are shaking hands more than they used to. And I'm all in favor of it. Nothing can take the place of a sincere handclasp when meeting a friend or acknowledging an introduction.

Q. Should birth announcements be mailed to everyone, including those whom you have already told over the telephone?

A. No; only to friends and relatives whom you have not told.

Q. Should toothpicks be placed on the dinner table?

A. Certainly not! Since it is not good form to be seen using a toothpick in public, they do not have any place on the table.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

CIGA

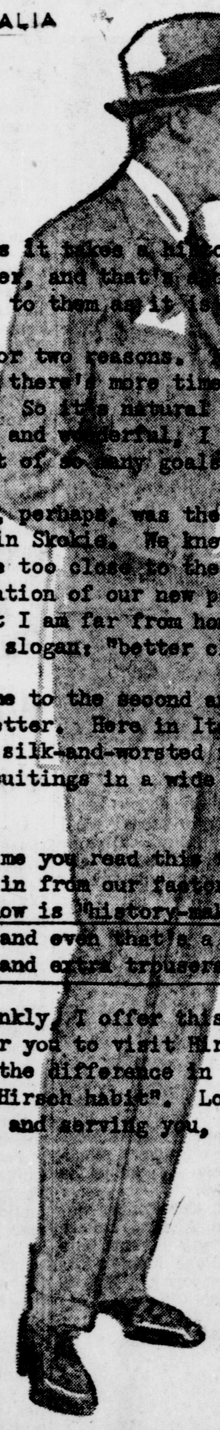
MILANO, ITALIA



Dear Sir:

My family says it takes a history-making happening to get me to write a letter, and that's about right. (This may be as much of a surprise to them as it is to you!)

I'm writing for two reasons. First, while all old folks like to reminisce, there's more time here in the Old World to pause and reflect. So it's natural I should look back on 54 years of business, and wonderful, I think, that the last year brought fulfillment of so many goals!

Most dramatic, perhaps, was the reception given to our Old Orchard store in Skokie. We knew it was beautiful and different, but we were too close to the project to anticipate the praise and appreciation of our new patrons for Hirsch-created clothing. Now that I am far from home, I'm humbly grateful we can live up to our slogan: "better clothes for less".

Which brings me to the second and most important reason for writing this letter. Here in Italy I bought bolt after bolt of the finest silk-and-worsted fabrics I have ever seen... magnificent men's suitings in a wide variety of silk blends and patterns.

Yes, by the time you read this there will be hundreds of these superb suits in from our factory awaiting your selection and at a price I know is "history-making". For it's not our regular $85 price (and even that's a $15 saving) but just $59! Fifty-nine dollars and extra trousers are available.

Now, quite frankly, I offer this Italian Import special as an inducement for you to visit Hirsch...feeling that when you personally see the difference in Hirsch-made clothing, you, too, will get the "Hirsch habit". Looking forward to the pleasure of meeting and serving you, I am

Cordially yours,

L. L. Hirsch

Brief European Tour Is Robertson Honeymoon

A brief tour of Europe before establishing residence in Badkissingen, Germany, was the wedding trip for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen Robertson who were married September 14 in Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. The bride is the former Renata Myra Landmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Landmeier, 107 S. Kennicott, Arlington Heights. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Robertson of Columbus, Ga.

The ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. with a buffet supper for 225 guests following in the church parlors. Rev. Edgar H. Behrens officiated amid a setting of rhodendron trees with white asters, candelabra and baskets of white gladioli, pompons and asters. The bride's uncle, L. Stolper of Madison was organist and soloist was G. Schrader who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and a favorite hymn of the bride's.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of pure silk fashioned princess style with short sleeves appliqued in alencon lace. The same applique was also used on the folds of silk bordering the skirt. The lace was beaded to match her mantilla of illusion and lace. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Myra Landmeier of Arlington Heights, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Lorraine Meyer of Arlington Heights and Miss Joyce Dare of Highland Park, were bridesmaids. All wore sheath dresses of rose petal pink velvet with leg of mutton short sleeves and satin drapes. They wore feathered hats to match and carried sunburst bouquets of pink tufted carnations and lavender. asters with trailing English ivy.

The bride's mother wore a dress of toast lace over peau de soie and hat of matching feathers. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a mauve silk sheath of peau de soie and lace with small jewelled hat and corsage of pink and purple orchids.

Clifford B. Robertson of Columbus was best man and ushers were Lawrence G. Lilly of Oak Lawn and Michael P. Shanklin of Palatine.

The bride's 4-year-old cousin, Nancy Koenig of Arlington Heights, was flower girl and wore a white silk shantung dress. She carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered down the aisle. The bride's 4-year-old brother, Daniel, was ring bearer.

Among the guests present for the wedding were the couple's grandmothers, Mrs. H. Koenig and Mrs. G. Sander of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. C. E. Boland of Columbus.

The bride was graduated from Arlington high school and attended Valparaiso and Northwestern universities. The bridegroom attended schools in Columbus and Denver and is now in the army, stationed since October 7 at Badkissingen, Germany. The couple's wedding trip included Rome, Paris, Venice, Munich, Frankfort and parts of Switzerland. (S

Palatine Ceremony Unites Veronica Rose, Kurt Rettke

(Jenart Studio

Baskets of white gladioli decorated Northwest Suburbs Bible church, Palatine, and candles marked the windows for the marriage September 21 of Miss Veronica Rose, daughter of Mrs. Anna Rose, N. Quintens rd., Palatine, and Kurt Rettke of Barrington. Rev. Emil Wittig read the service at 2 p.m.

"The Love of God," "Ivory Palaces" and "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Me" were sung by Mrs. Jesse Jones during the double ring, candlelight service.

A peau de soie floor-length dress was worn by the bride for her marriage. The gown was made with long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists, sabrina neckline with lace and full skirt gathered at the hipline. She carried white stephanotis with a removable orchid. John Rose, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage.

Miss Frances Rose was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Rosalie Rose, also a sister, and Miss Jean Cimbalo of Wheaton, a former resident of Palatine.

The attendants wore identical ballerina gowns of light blue taffeta fashioned with cummerbunds and back bows of a darker shade of blue. They carried bouquets of yellow fuji mums.

Will Rettke, brother of the bridegroom was best man and Dale Murphy of Mundelein and Roert Wunschel of Carpentersille, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlors after which Mr. Rettke took his bride to Bailey's Harbor, Wis. for a week's honeymoon. The couple is now residin at 1195 S. Northwest hwy. in Barrington.

The bride was graduated from Palatine high school and is employed by Illinois Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights. The bridegroom is with Groenland Plumbing in Palatine.

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

J. H. Kotz

Last week we suggested checking on the fit of odoriferous shoes. If that is not the answer there are three other possible remedies.

This writer is not opposed to composition or rubber soles. They do last longer and thus save money for parents of young families at a time when saving money is more necessary than convenient. It has been my experience, however, that some children cause composition soled shoes to smell but not leather soled shoes.

Secondly, some mothers have mentioned improvement when they used cotton socks and, finally, unlined shoes may be the answer.

Whatever the solution, the problem is well worth solving because schoolmates are merciless in their comments.

Here Is Appealing Salad Recipe for Fall Luncheon

FAVORITES FOR FLAVOR

by LOIS SEILER

Perhaps you are planning a fall luncheon? If so, you'll want to try the appealing salad recipe we are featuring today.

The recipe for this molded shrimp salad has been shared with us by Mrs. Daryl B. Oldaker of Mt. Prospect.

Easy to prepare, it is a tempting combination of tomato soup, cream cheese, mayonnaise, chopped celery, green pepper, peas, and the piece de resistance, shrimp. Lemon jello is used as the conjealing agent.

Its creamy, pink color and smooth texture give this salad an attractive appearance, and the flavorful ingredients make it delicious to taste.

Mrs. Oldaker makes the salad in individual molds or a large fish mold. For a luncheon she usually serves it with potato chips, pickled peaches and hot rolls.

The Oldakers live at 405 CanDota in Mt. Prospect. They have 3 children: Sue, 19, Bill, 16 and Jane, 11.

Mrs. Oldaker is a Campfire troop leader and is a member of the WSCS of the Arlington Heights First Methodist church.

Shrimp Salad

1 can Campbells Tomato soup
1 3-ounce package cream cheese.
1 package lemon jello
1 cup boiling water
1 cup mayonnaise
1½ cups chopped celery
1 green pepper, chopped
½ to 1 teaspoon finely chopped onion (otional)
1 No. 1 can small green peas, drained
2 cups cooked shrimp, cut in pieces

Heat cheese and tomato soup in double boiler until cheese is dissolved. Let cool.

Dissolve lemon jello in boiling water and let cool.

When both mixtures are cool, mix together and blend in remaining ingredients.

The salad will fill 10 one-half cup individual molds, one large fish mold or a 5-cup ring mold. Place in refrigerator and let set.

This salad can be made one or 2 days in advance of the time it is to be served. Tuna or crabmeat may be substituted for the shrimp, if desired. (S

It is seldom a town the size of Palatine has the advantage of a kindergarten and those who have visited the one here express themselves very much pleased and surprised over the work done.

The Editor recently was asked by a fellow townsman, what had become of the old cheese factory. There are perhaps many citizens who so seldom travel the streets, that they don't know of the great improvement that Haseman has made in the old factory. It is now a handsome triple flat, two of which he will rent.

Itasca—W—. E. Thiemann and family moved to Melrose Park Monday. His successors Rosenwinkel & Kuhlmann moved in and are now ready to go ahead with the business and Post Office at the old stand.

Herman Wischstadt and wife are the happy parents of a baby daughter born, Saturday, Oct. 5. A. C. Goeddeke is very proud of his first grandchild, tho' he had hoped it would be a boy, so he could deputize him as rural mail carrier.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Ex-mayor H. C. Klehm moved last week into his new house south of St. Peters parochial school where his family will enjoy all the modern conveniences of an up-to-date home.

The Cubs and Tigers fought and clawed one another for twelve thrilling and spectacular innings at Chicago's West Side jungle Tuesday afternoon and darkness finally put an end to the Titanic battle with a score 3 to 3. The struggle will go down in baseball history as one of the most exciting and dramatic ever played.

A mighty multitude, 24,377 in number, watched the tide of battle ebb and flow. Although the total fell short of breaking records by a narrow margin, the gate receipts were the largest ever taken in at a ball game. The gross proceeds were $29,162.50.

DONOVAN, known to fame as "Wild Bill," pitched for the Detroit team and Overall for Chicago. According to a correspondent, the hoarse thousands came away gibbering about how the Cubs would have won if things had happened thus and so. There was logic in their ravings for in the ninth, the tenth, the eleventh and the twelfth innings Chicago had the victory tightly grasped, but each time the fickle goddess interfered in favor of Detroit.

MRS. ROBERT PERIOLAT — Miss Dorothy Vogt was born in the village of Wheeling, Aug. 2, 1846. Sept. 26, 1868 she plighted her troth with Robert Periolat. This union was blessed with two sons, George and William. The Presbyterian Church of Wheeling was organized by Chicago Presbytery Nov. 2, 1864. Among 45 charter members we find the name of Dorothy Vogt. She never severed her relations with this church and faithfully attended the services for 53 years less one month. Sept. 23 deceased joined the congregation in celebrating the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. None of us surmised that she next would sup with the Lord Himself.

Oct. 9 was a great day for Schaumburg as it marked the official opening of the new pavement from the county line to Higgins road.

Wheeling—The cool weather has caused the heavy automobile traffic of the summer resorters to slacken. From now on, a few months, Wheeling sufferers may be permitted to enjoy a moment now and then Sundays, free from noise and dust.

The spirit of patriotism is running higher in Arlington Heights than ever before. All of the boys who were in the first detachment sent to Rockford were home on furlough from Saturday until Sunday night. Everyone of them was looking better for having had the military training with regular hours and rations. They had only words of praise to offer for their treatment and food at Camp Grant. All day Sunday Sieburg's Drug Store was a popular meeting place where everyone listened with interest to the tales of camp life.

The Creamery Package manufacturing plant at Arlington Heights will remain in the village. Previous plans to relocate the plant at Waukegan will be permanently dropped. The company will expend $200,000 in improvements for additional buildings and machinery.

For forty-five stockholders the story of the former State Bank of Palatine is now a closed book, although the closing was probably a somewhat painful procedure. On October 1, a decree was entered approving the settlement of the stock liability of these 45 former stockholders for a total amount of $19,260.

REV. HERMAN Wagner, who has had the distinction of serving as pastor of one charge, the Frieden's Church at Bensenville 28 years, is retiring this year.

Guy Sampson, known to many about Bensenville as "Kickapoo," has quit his job as editor of the Du Page County Register and will retire from manual labor, to a little home in Portland, Oregon. The opportunity for a railroad pension proved too strong for him and he decided to enjoy the pension and easy living while he is still to be classed among the young men. His career has been interwoven with railroads and newspapers.

TONY RANDALL is the object of Jayne Mansfield's affections in Twentieth Century-Fox's CinemaScope comedy, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?",. The Frank Tashlin production, in DeLuxe color, also stars Betsy Drake and Joan Blondell. Tasrlin also directed the film from his own screen story and screenplay. It opens Friday, Oct. 10, at Des Plaines theater.

Drivers Feel — And See — Signs

Feel as well as sight has been added to make inattentive motorists aware of stop signs in Cook county.

William J. Mortimer, Cook county superintendent of highways, in a department publication wrote that before adding a rumbler road surface — untreated crushed limestone using a plastic adhesive — before stop signs, 15 motorists in every 1,000 ignored the hexagonal stop signs.

NOW, MORTIMER reports, motorists do not breeze through stop signs. He based his claim upon traffic surveys taken by the department.

Even the rolling stop violation —the car does not come to a complete stop — has decreased 50 per cent and voluntary stops by motorists have more than doubled.

SO FAR THIS year, 3 northwest township roads have received the rumble treatment. They are Roselle rd. at Palatine, Golf and Higgins rds.; Schaumburg rd. at Roselle rd.; and Mt. Prospect rd. at Central rd., Northwest hwy., Golf rd., Dempster st., Algonquin rd., Oakton st., Touhy ave., Franklin ave., Grand ave., and Lake st.

Ten south Cook county roads have received the same treatment at various points.

Mortimer also reports that the rumbler strips are excellent for both stopping and starting in icy weather. (B-9

Toastmistresses Will Hold Fall Meeting Sat.

Fall meeting of council 4, south central region of International Toastmistress clubs, Inc. will be held Saturday, Oct. 12, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at Surma's restaurant (175th and Dixie hwy.) in Homewood.

Mrs. William Mueller, 519 Baldwin dr., Palatine, chairman of council 4 and a member of the High Ridge Toastmistress club, has announced that the program is being arranged by Mrs. Carl A. Petersen, 311 S. Plum Grove rd., Palatine, council vice chairman, who is affiliated with the local Midtown Toastmistress club.

Mrs. Glen Wood, also a member of Midtown will conduct a panel on evaluation. Since the evaluation of speeches is an important aid in self-improvement in the delivery of a speech, the evaluation panel will cite those important ingredients of a sparkling speech, and will point out pitfalls which should be avoided. Mrs. Wood in Des Plaines. Mrs. R. J. Williams, 23 Cul De Sac rd., Prospect Heights, is one of the panelists.

Mrs. E. L. Jenkins, regional supervisor, of Kansas City, Mo., will be on hand to greet the Toastmistress members who will come from all sections of Chicago, as well as suburbs, and Joliet and Waukegan. Mrs. Jenkins will speak on "Patterns for Progress."

The Park Forest club will hostess the 11-club council group. Clubs whose members have been invited to this affair include High Ridge Toastmistress club (north side club) and Midtown Toastmistress club (north and northwest suburbs).

At least 75 members are expected to attend the conference which carries the theme, "Strong in Purpose — —United in Effort."

Wheeling GOP Plans Fall Dance

Saturday, Oct. 26, is the date of the annual fall dance sponsored by the Wheeling township Republican club.

The dance will be held at Red's Community hall, Rand rd. and Rt. 83, Mt. Prospect. Music by Homer's Melody Makers will be furnished from 9 p.m. on. There will also be special attractions.

Henry Busse is Wheeling township committeeman. B8

— HOME —

Yes, a magic word, and here it is . . . much more than 7 fine spacious rooms wonderfully restored and decorated; with A-1 utilities and basic construction; with large livable porch for months of dining, sleeping and entertaining; a fine dry basement and many other happy features. Nor do we minimize the stately setting among sugar maple and evergreens on 4 choice lots, the country atmosphere and nearness to Golf Course, schools & shopping. Nor the all important low price of $32,500 for quick sale and occupancy. Yes, this outstanding 19th century landmark is more than an efficient and adequate shelter with low tax and heating expense. It has a certain contagious magical WARMTH AND CHARM that we invite you to sample for yourselves. See it at S. E. cor. Linden & Division, Itasca. Owner.

In Appreciation

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of a beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Henry Koch, who passed away 1 year ago, October 14, 1956.
Our hearts still ache with loneliness,
Our eyes shed many a tear;
God only knows how we miss her
As it ends this first sad year.
Henry Koch and family

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Albert E. Kiehne, our dear son on his birthday, Oct. 8.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear;
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
Somewhere, some day, we'll meet you
When God's great will is done;
We shall see your smile to greet us,
When He calls for us, dearest one.
Mother and Dad (*

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to thank the firemen of Mt. Prospect and Elk Grove, and also the friends and neighbors who assisted us so nicely during our recent fire.
Mr. & Mrs. Thomas McClenney

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to Blessed Mother for granting favors. M.O. (*

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to thank relatives, neighbors, and friends for kindness, sympathy, beautiful floral offerings and memorials extended to us during our recent bereavement.

Shopping Prospect Heights

by CAROL BUNTING

Ehler Inc. realtors, located in Prospect Heights shopping center, are exclusive agents for Wigdahl Builders, builders in the exclusive subdivision of Country Gardens in Prospect Heights.

Members of Ehler's staff have been very busy with the Home Show which is now in progress. Four models are being featured by Wigdahl in the Home Show.

IF YOU ARE looking for a house or apartment, Ehler Inc. is the real estate firm that will be able to find the place that you are looking for.

As a member of the multiple listing service of the Northwest area, Ehler's is able to show all of their customers all of the property available in Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine. You don't have to go to a different firm in each new city.

The Ehler firm is able to arrange mortgage sources for their customers as well as appraise property and advise anyone on real estate matters.

Ehler Inc. is open 7 days a week for the convenience of their customers from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with other hours by appointment.

THE JEWEL FOOD stores are bringing their customers more and more money saving values every week. It has been noted that many food chains are adding stamp programs for their customers, but instead of adding stamps and raising prices the people at Jewel have lowered their prices for even greater savings than in the past.

Each week a whole new set of items are placed at special "red-hot" values. Jewel has two sets of specials each week, the first set runs from Monday to Wednesday and the second group from Thursday through Saturday.

The Jewel strives to make sure that the items they select are an important demand item. They don't reduce merchandise that you wouldn't have much general use for, but strive to select an important item from each of their many departments.

THE HOUSE OF YVONNE has added several new lines to their complete gift store for the fall season. The women's department at the House of Yvonne has been expanded and enlarged so that they now are able to have a complete line of high fashion hand bags. They also have gloves for ladies and girls. These are the famous Stetson gloves.

Another new item that they are carrying is women's hose. The proprietors of the House of Yvonne selected the Nebel brand and they are well known for their famous guarantee on wearing quality.

In the children's department the House of Yvonne has enlarged their selection of children's apparel to include car coats and snow suits.

The House of Yvonne has the only complete linen department in the Prospect Heights shopping center. The linen section has new handsome tufted bed spreads that will set off your bedroom suite to a "T" and the shop also has nylon pillows.

BOX TOWELS have been a big seller at the House of Yvonne. The manufacturers have given their wares a great deal more variety than in the past. Previously we had to be content with "His and Hers" but now you can have "Slave and Master," "King and Queen" and many other original and clever towel sets.

The linen department also has a large assortment of table linen. They have handsome linen luncheon sets, beautiful table cloths, and linen for a more casual table. The checkered table cloth has long been a popular one, and the House of Yvonne has a large assortment of checkered table clothes in a variety of colors. They also have clever kitchen place mats and table covers as well as dish towels that are almost too pretty to use on the dishes.

The linen department has a large assortment of throw rugs, bath room ensembles, aprons, sheets, and bedding, as well as comforters and blankets.

MOM IS BUSY these days washing up all of the summer cottons and getting out the families woolen clothes in preparation for the cool months that are fast approaching.

If you were one of the many smart people who took advantage of the box storage services of L-Nor Cleaners then all you have to do is give them a call and your winter wardrobe will be delivered to you clean and ready to wear.

If you have to bring your woolens out of the back of the closet or from the bottom of a trunk then you will be glad to know that the cleanind and pressing services of L-Nor cleaners are top quality in this area.

L-Nor specializes in personalized service. Each garment they care for is given individualized attention and hand care. Here is truly a cleaning firm that will return your garments in better condition than when you sent them.
